

Thanksgiving Grid Games Played At Chapel Hill And Wake Forest

Virginia Takes Workout At Chapel Hill For Big Game Thanksgiving Day

Chapel Hill, Nov. 27.—The Virginia football squad, 28 strong, arrived here shortly before noon today and prepared to take a short workout in Kenan Stadium this afternoon. The Tar Heels likewise were ready to put the finishing touches to their preparations.

The Tar Heels and Cavaliers clash tomorrow in the first Thanksgiving gridiron classic in the South.

This is the first time in more than a decade that the Cavaliers have arrived in time to take their final drill on the Carolina field. Virginia will have its full strength with the exception of Conrad King, regular half-back, who is out on class probation.

Both teams will be closing their season's warfare. And both will be throwing every trick they possess into their attempts to gain a victory.

It will be the 40th meeting of these ancient rivals. Virginia has won 21, Carolina 15 and three have been ties. The Tar Heels have won since 1932. This game always attracts a big crowd.

The Tar Heel coaches are expecting a hard-fought, close game. The Cavaliers' new show is set power on defense all season and flashes of a powerful offense. Moreover, reports indicate they have been pointing for Carolina. One recalls the 1932 game when the Tar Heels, rated as overwhelming favorites, found themselves on the short end of a 14-7 score at Charlottesville.

This season the Cavaliers have made great use of the lateral pass, having turned in some of the most spectacular plays of the nation.

Eus Male and Harry Martin are the triple-threat-twins of the Virginia backfield. Captain Johnnie Leys leads the line, which has played great defensive ball in every game.

Don Jackson, stellar key man of the Tar Heel attack all season, will lead Carolina. He is backed up by Line Plunger Jim Hutchins, Blocker Herman Snyder, and Field General Harry Montgomery. Babe Daniel, Tom Evins, and Emmett Joyce, playing their last game of their careers, will lead the forward wall which also includes Andy Bershak, Dick Burk, John Trimpey and Charlie McIver.

Glass at right end. Besides Red McCarthy and Harold Warren in the backfield will be Walton Kitchin, who will direct the team from quarterback and Hobo Daniel the fullback.

FOUR NEW FACES IN DEACON LINE-UP FOR THE WILDCATS

McCarthy Will Replace Tex Edens as Blocking Back, Swan Ousted By Beaver

DEACON HOMECOMING THANKSGIVING DAY IS

Opening Kickoff Will Be at 2 O'Clock at Wake Forest; Mumford Has Replaced Captain Reinhart at Center; Other Starters for the Deacons Also Named

Wake Forest College, Nov. 27.—Coach Jim Weaver, head Wake Forest coach, has announced that four new faces will be seen in the Deacon line-up when they take the field for the opening kickoff against Davidson Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the homecoming day event for Wake Forest.

Red McCarthy, 160 pound halfback and sophomore from Boston, Mass., will be in the blocking back position, replacing Tex Edens. Although McCarthy has seen very little service this fall due to inexperience, a great improvement in his playing has been noted in the past two weeks of practice and the coaches have decided to promote him to the first club.

Harry Beaver, who has been starting at left tackle in recent games has been ousted by Joe Swan, while Harold Warren will find himself back at his old starting position — left tackle.

At the center position there will also be a new man, Boots Mumford. Mumford has replaced Captain Reinhart and will probably play a great part of this game.

Extension of Sanctions May Result in Forceful Resistance From Italy

to examine the general sanctions situation—the projected oil embargo against Italy—the British cabinet met to debate the question of including such an embargo in the penalties already assessed against Italy.

Observers commented that in this the British government faces what appeared to be one of the gravest decisions of the entire Italian-Ethiopian conflict. Authoritative sources said the question of cutting off oil shipments to Italy overshadowed all other developments, presented a new crisis for collective action, and possibly provided a turning point in the career of the League of Nations.

A spokesman for the Italian government said the addition of oil and coal embargoes to the stern economic and financial penalties already applied would mean slow strangulation of the nation.

He added the longer Italy awaited attack by another European power the weaker she would be at a critical moment. Therefore, it might be better to face a showdown while Italy was still fresh.

explained that the troops were only "holding exercises" and that the capture of Senk Tai was part of a mimic battle.

Chinese sources, however, conjectured that the troop influx might be aimed at intimidating North China officials into acceptance of the autonomy program and forestalling any Nanking efforts to suppress the campaign forcibly.

Major General Isogai, Japanese military attaché in Shanghai, in a communique issued today, said he had informed General Yen Yi, Nanking government official, that the Japanese army does not approve of Nanking's reported plan for alleviation of the North China crisis.

N. C. STATE LEAVES TONIGHT FOR GAME

Meet Catholic U. in Washington for Capital's Turkey Day Game

College Station, Raleigh, Nov. 27.—North Carolina State's Wolfpack will take its final practice of the season this afternoon and tonight at 9:05 will entrain for its trip to Washington where tomorrow it meets Catholic University in a Thanksgiving Day game.

The game is the last on a ten game schedule arranged for the 'Pack this fall and the players will be in top shape to play one of their best games. They will, however, be doped to take a beating as Catholic U has the best team it has had in a long while.

The team has won seven of eight games this fall and last spring in a practice game with the Navy, beat the Academy, 47-0. The team also defeated Maryland in a practice game early in September.

State's fine backs, led by Howard Bardes, Cowboy Robinson, Eddie Berlinski, and "Jumping Joe" Ryneska, will attempt to out play these youngsters tomorrow and if they do they will have to play as brilliantly as they did Saturday against Duke. Bardes will seek in particular to maintain his record of not having been out-kicked this season. He also will show the Washington players how to block as he is one of the hardest blockers in the Southern Conference.

Catholic U's power does not end in the backfield as it has the largest and perhaps the most powerful line to face State this year. It is paced by Captain Ed Karpovich, 215 pound tackle. Against him State will offer its star tackle, Vince Farrar. Farrar will be assisted by such brilliant State linemen as Steve Sabol, center; Captain Barnes Worth, guard, and Mac Cara, end.

Headache

"Inside Facts" that may help you...

The first step toward relieving simple headache is to understand its cause. Pain is the cry of over-taxed nerves for rest. And when we realize that the nerves spread throughout every part of the body (see head diagram) we understand how serious a nervous disturbance can be.

In selecting a remedy for headache, periodic pains, and other nerve pain use one that soothes the tense nerve. Capudine is ideally suited for simple headache, neuritic pain, rheumatic, or periodic pain because it relieves high nerve tension and brings welcome relaxation. No narcotics or opiates. Ask for Capudine Liquid or Capudine Brand Tablets.
