

Bitter Cold Continues In This Section

Temperature High As Freezing at Few Brief Intervals For Nearly Week.

The bitter cold weather that was held this section in its grip for nearly a week showed no signs of abating today.

Late this afternoon the thermometer was falling after hitting a maximum of 28 degrees for the day. The minimum for the night was reached at 7 a. m. today when the low was recorded as 13 degrees above zero. At 11 a. m., the thermometer stood at 22, and went on to 28 by 2 p. m., when it started downhill again.

The low mark Christmas morning was six degrees above zero, and the maximum for the day was 35. Monday's maximum was 31 degrees, after a reading of zero at 7 o'clock that morning. On Tuesday the maximum was 42, and the minimum that morning was 16.

The present cold season set in here last Friday, and only two or three times during that period has the thermometer risen above the freezing level of 32 degrees. So far as can be remembered, this is a record for this section of the country, at least in recent years. There have been occasions when the mercury slid down to near zero, and several times during the ordinary winter it drops to 12 and 15. But for nearly a week minimum temperatures here have been 16 or below, and only two or three times even up to the freezing mark, and then for only a short time.

The weather forecast today was for still colder weather tonight, with the prospect of a new low for the season. If a new low is made here, it will have to be below zero, and that would mean a bottom that few people now living here can remember in Henderson.

PRODUCTION LOANS $216,000 LOCALLY

Farmers Invited to Annual Meeting of Association January 16.

An invitation is extended to all farmers of this county to attend the annual meeting of the Henderson Production Credit Association at Henderson on January 16 in the Vance County Court House. It was announced today by W. B. Gooding, secretary of the association.

The Henderson association serves Granville, Vance and Warren counties, and this year made loans to farmers in these counties totaling $216,000. Every farmer who borrowed money through the association is a stockholder and is expected to attend this annual meeting of stockholders which is held for the purpose of hearing a complete report on the year's work of the organization, the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come before the body.

"We will be delighted to have all farmers who are not stockholders also attend the meeting," Mr. Gooding said, "in order that they might learn of the credit service which is offered to the farmers of this section by the association. By means of production credit associations farmers have been able to reduce the cost of making and collecting loans and by keeping the system on a sound basis they can obtain funds at costs as low as those available to any other industry."

"Interest on loans made by the association is payable when loans are due and the borrower pays 5 per cent interest only for the time he actually has the money. Each borrower is required to take out Class B stock in the association in an amount equivalent to 5 per cent of the loan when he gets his initial loan and may obtain new loans without purchasing additional stock."

"Thousands of farmers all over the country are now stockholders in production credit associations and are thoroughly sold on the idea of cooperative credit. We are anxious that every farmer in this section shall at least have an opportunity of knowing of the credit service that we offer and we cordially invite all to our annual meeting."

The officers of the Henderson association are: T. W. Allen, of Creedmoor, president and director; E. J. Green, of Henderson, vice president and director; E. H. Jamell, of Warrenton, director; S. N. Hawks, of Norlina, director; and D. H. Currin, of Oxford, director.

American Missionary Physician, Seeking To Stamp Out Malaria, To Take Motor Hospital To India

Automobile Unit Conceived by Toledo Pastor, Writer of Weekly Sunday School Lessons, to Be Expression of Good Will From People of North America

Dr. Virgil E. Zigler, missionary physician, and his family.

With a modern miniature mobile hospital, Dr. Zigler, on his return, hopes to combat and relieve disease in India.

Natives bathing in the holy waters of the Ganges.

Toledo, O., Dec. 26.—An American missionary physician to India, back in the United States on leave is determined to find a new means of combating malaria. Malaria has killed thousands in the Near East this year. He believes a real antidote can be discovered.

Dr. Virgil E. Zigler, a native of Bryan, O., who was graduated from the University of Cincinnati, tells of fighting diseases against almost insurmountable odds in India.

Following six and a half years in the interior of India, Dr. Zigler is home with his wife, who was a graduate nurse in Cincinnati. Dr. Zigler will return with the most modern equipment and the latest knowledge. It not only is the people of India he desires to relieve, but he hopes to help in preventing disease originating there from spreading throughout the world.

Aided by Minister To assist Dr. Zigler to achieve his ambition, the Rev. Dr. Alvin E. Bell, of Toledo, author of a weekly Sunday school lesson that has gained great prominence, is beginning a campaign for a unique motor truck to be sent to India when Dr. Zigler returns in 1936.

The truck will be a miniature mobile hospital containing operating table, sterilizing plant, water tank, medicine chests, instrument cases, tents, cooking utensils and sleeping quarters.

On the side of the truck there will be lettered in the dialect of the province this message: "Good Will Motor Hospital. An expression of good will from the new-people readers of America to the people of India."

The truck will include even rifles to be used against tiger and panther. Not only has Dr. Zigler had to fight all the diseases infesting the tropics, but he has had to kill wild beasts also to protect his patients.

Chief "Foes"

But ignorance and medicine men (or witch doctors) are his chief adversaries.

And there are no conveniences—no running water, no electricity, no gas. Yet Dr. Zigler and his young wife have thrived here. Their two-year-old child, born in tropical India, speaks an Indian dialect with the same facility as English.

Dr. Bell, as a Lutheran minister, was instrumental in having Dr. Zigler give up practice in Cincinnati in order to become a medical missionary in this region of India, where medical aid is sorely needed.

Sale of Book to Aid Dr. Bell hopes to provide the "Good Will Motor Hospital" through offering a special edition of his Bible study book, "The Gift of the Bible Book by Book," and devoting the proceeds to the purchase of the truck and its equipment.

Dr. Bell believes that the provision of a fleet of such "Good Will Motor Hospitals" enacted in the relief of human misery in such nations as India, China, and Japan would be an effective contribution toward the cause of international good will. The next field he hopes to supply with a similar hospital unit is in the Shantung province of the now troubled section of North China.

In the meantime, Dr. Zigler plans to go to Tulane university, New Orleans, for a special study of tropic diseases. He believes that for certain types of malaria a new antidote other than quinine will have to be found—and his study will be to that end.

"THE DARK ANGEL" THRILLS AUDIENCE

March, Oberon And Marshall Splendid in Magnificent Love Story.

A love story so magnificent and compelling that the audience sat hushed for a full minute after the final fadeout before breaking out into tumultuous applause, unfolded on the screen at the Vance Theatre last evening. The film was "The Dark Angel," Samuel Goldwyn's latest production for release through United Artists, and the chief actors in the powerful and gripping romantic drama were Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall. None has ever been cast to better advantage.

Merle, delightful in her widely publicized new personality, shorn of the exoticism and mystery of her former roles, plays Kitty Vance, a sweet, young English girl, who since childhood has been loved by one boy, Gerald (Marshall), while she loves his cousin, Alan (March). Months in the trenches bring to Alan a realization of his love for Kitty. Home on leave, he confesses his love but their ecstatic plans to marry on the morrow are shattered by a sudden order cancelling all leaves. They swear the marriage vows to each other and next morning Alan returns to the trenches.

3500 Americans visited the Shapeweave country in England within a period of ten days this summer.
