DECEMBER SUN.

Flickering rays of golden light, Mow down the moon-light of the night,
And spread upon the frosted dawn,
The glow of day but newly born, Gay tokens of the Spring to come, They twinkle brightly, as in fun,
And prouette along the ground, Without the slightest bit of sound.

Constance Kemper.

ECCENTRICAL.

He sat stooped over on his riding plow
And followed straight long lines Of growing corn; driving two horses Bays with shaggy manes, whose broad hoofs Tinkled scattering clouds of dust into his eyes. Mechanically he held the toughened reins, and flicked a fly from off the harness strap. Down where The long rows ended, he made the turn.
Stopping a few odd moments in the shade
Of straggling woods. Long years ago, When he was just a lad, he visited A minor seaport town. None ever knew That to this day, to him, his mellow fields Were crested ocean waves, and that his plows Were sturdy schooners, bound for open seas.

92 on 22d Birthday

Mrs. Simon Straus
Although she will be 92 years old on Feb. 29, 1936, Mrs. Simon Straus of Chicago will be celebrating only her 22d birthday. It's like this: February 29 comes only once every four years—Leap year—and the calendar is so arranged that centennial years must be divisible by 400 instead of by four to be a Leap year. Since 1900 was not so divisible, Mrs.
Straus went without a birthday from 1896 to 1904.

East Montgomery street, in the pres-family and friends. Rev. J. W. Hughes, Pastor of the Holy Innocents Episco-ceremony.

Everything Ready
For Dance Tonight

Everything was in readiness this afternoon for West End Country Club's annual New Year's Eve Ball to be presented in the club's ball room this evening from 10:30 o'clock until 2:30 o'clock with Billy Groffe and his orchestra playing for the event.
Sam Alford, chairman of arrangements, stated today that there would be plenty of refreshments at intermission time, and that a very large crowd was expected to attend the event.
The dance is always one of the outstanding of the year, and the membership is expected to turn out to bid 1935 a fond goodbye at midnight.
Efforts were being made this afternoon to have the road to the club house and parking space cleared of snow.

Highways Clear
Of Snow, Not Ice

for drivers to do who must be out on the roads is to drive more carefully than ever and to drive slowly, since they never can tell when they are going to run onto one of these slick places.
The maintenance forces have done an excellent job and have worked night and day to clear the snow from the roads, Waynick said. Many of the maintenance foremen got their crews out at midnight Saturday night when it started to snow and then worked all night and all day Sunday and again Sunday night.
"The maintenance crews got very little Christmas vacation, since most of them worked hardest on the days they were supposed to have off and have shown the finest spirit I have ever seen," Waynick said. "I am hoping we will not have any snow or sleet for a while, since these men have earned and deserve a little rest." There have been very few accidents since the heavy snow Saturday night and Sunday, showing that the automobile drivers can drive carefully and that when they do, there are very few accidents, Waynick said.

Mr. Daniels Pressed
As Bailey Foe

invited to make the speech at the Jackson Day dinner here by the Wake County Young Democratic Club. The addresses of the evening will be delivered by Angus D. Mac-Lean, former solicitor general of the United States and by one other speaker yet to be named. No one here knows whether Senator Bailey has been invited to address any county Jackson Day dinner. He will not be invited to address the Guilford County Young Democrats at their Jackson Day dinner, since they have already invited Governor J. C. B. Ehrringhaus to address them and he has accepted. It is understood here that the officers and many of the members of the Guilford County Young Democrats are not at all friendly to Senator Bailey or to C. LeRoy Shappe, his former campaign manager. It has been regarded as being one of the bitterest anti-Roosevelt and anti-New Dealers in the State. So when the Young Democrats of Guilford county invited Governor Ehringhaus instead of Senator Bailey to be the principal speaker at their Jackson Day dinner, it was regarded in many political circles here as an open rebuff to Bailey and Shappe in the former seat of their strength and the fountain head of the removal of the internal revenue offices to Greensboro.
The fact that President Ronald Hocutt, of the Wake County Young Democrats, refused to be dictated to either by the State officials of the Young Democratic Clubs or by the Bailey leaders here in Wake county, is regarded as being another very decided snub and rebuff for the senior senator, since Wake is his home county. For, after the various county presidents of the Young Democratic Clubs had been advised they would have the privilege of selecting the speakers for their respective Jackson Day dinners, they were later notified by Mrs. Bessie Phoenix, State president of the Young Democrats, that the district chairmen in the various congressional districts would select the speakers for the counties, it is understood here. The district chairmen of the Young Democrats in this the fourth congressional district, is Norman Shepherd, of Smithfield, with G. A. Martin, also of Smithfield, as vice chairman. Both are regarded as being strong Bailey supporters.
It is generally known that Mrs.
Phoenix "suggested" to Hocutt that he invite Senator Bailey to be the

So far, the opinion in most circles here is that Ambassador Daniels is not likely to resign a position reported to have a salary of $17,000 a year attached to it, together with a beautiful embassy residence in a delightful and salubrious climate, with a large staff of budding diplomats to relieve him of all ideal work, for a seat in the Senate paying only $10,000 a year and carrying with it a great deal of grief for whoever gets it. At present it is conceded that as long as Ambassador Daniels does nothing and makes no speeches which might offend the Catholics, that he can continue to live in Mexico City as long as Franklin Roosevelt remains President. It is also pointed out that Ambassador Daniels is almost 74 years old, and that the rigors of a political campaign, combined with the heavy and exacting duties of a senator, both actual and political, might prove too severe a strain for his advanced years. Many have believed for several years that he would have been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1932 but for his age and the fact that he was then recovering from an injury received in an automobile accident. And while he is now in excellent health, it is pointed out that he is three years older.

However, there are those who maintain that strong encouragement to the talk of candidacy is being received from Washington and that President Roosevelt, who was assistant secretary of the navy when Mr. Daniels was secretary during the war, would welcome his candidacy and his presence in the Senate in Washington. It is no secret in political circles here that the administration in Washington has felt for some time that it has never received the support from Senator Bailey it thinks it should have had. It is also agreed that the president is likely to have rougher sledding in the forthcoming session of Congress than in any other so far and that he is going to be in real need of an able leader in the Senate upon whom he can depend. It is maintained that Daniels, if nominated and elected, would be in a position to immediately become one of the President's leaders and spokesmen in the Senate.

However, the opinion in most circles here is that Mr. Daniels is going to hesitate a long time before resigning his present sure thing as ambassador to risk a race for the Senate against Senator Bailey.

Young Democrats
Snubbing Bailey

principal speaker at the Wake County Jackson Day dinner, also that he "postpone" extending any invitations to Governor Ehringhaus. It is believed that this course of action was suggested to Mrs. Phoenix by Herbert Guiley, Senator Bailey's chief "Good Man Friday" in this section of the State and regarded by many as being the present political mentor of the State president of the Young Democrats. Indications are, however, that President Hocutt, of the Wake County Young Democrats, refused to be dictated to either by Mrs. Phoenix or Mr. Guiley and that he was determined to select the Jackson Day dinner speaker without any suggestions from any one. It was learned from a reliable source today that he had intended to invite Governor Ehringhaus, but that, due to the delay urged by others, the governor was invited to the Guilford county dinner and ac-

Marian Martin Pattern
PATTERN 9612

Pert young Junior misses will go into raptures over this newest two-piece fashion. Give daughter the pattern and material for it, and see if she isn't eager to make it up herself. Any Junior who's old enough to wear it, is old enough to make it, for it's really very simple, using the Marian Martin Sew Chart as a guide. There's a captivating blouse with drop-shoulder yoke and sleeves that puff ever so gently at the elbow. Buttons down the front mean it goes on in a jiffy.
The skirt's a simple one, with kickpleat to the fore, and she'll find it grand to wear with a variety of sweaters and blouses. Any diagonal weave woolen, a wool-appearing colton or challis, would be nice. Complete, Diagrammed, Marian Martin Sew Chart included.
Pattern #9612 may be ordered only in sizes 10 12 14 16 and 18. Size 12 requires 2 1-8 yards 54 inch fabric and 1-2 yard 5 inch ribbon.
Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or invitation.

Hocutt then extended the invitation to MacLean some four or five days ago, who accepted it. But it was not announced because of the furor from the ranks of the Baileytes.
