ANNOUNCEMENT

THREE MINUTES AWAY.

It was just three minutes to Spring! Hurry, hurry; I told my heart, "Lest we be late when the tulips start." And the early robin comes whistling. Hurry! I cried again and heard "The hour strike and Spring was here. Traitorous heart, sighing "dear" and "dear." Unmindful of tulips, heeding no bird! Kathleen Sutton.

MANHATTAN DUSK.

Day is over. Darkness grows. Over the river, rows on rows. The sharp lights twinkle out and rise Block upon molded block to close In scattered stars against the skies. Now settle to their brief repose The sound of wheels, the children's cries. The iron throated echo dies. All quiet in his canyon lies The drowsy god of enterprise. Charles Malam.

English Maid May Be Queen

Lady Angela Montague-Douglas Scott

As the game of picking a queen for King Edward goes merrily on since his intimation that he might marry, Lady Angela Montague-Douglas Scott, 30, sister of the Duchess of Gloucester, is a daughter of English nobility whom London rumors are heard to mention most frequently. She is an ardent sports-woman and out-door girl.

has turned its back on a basic New Deal principle.

The survey remarks further: "Today with the technical progress made since 1929 we could create a national standard of living at least six per cent above the highest ever reached in 1929. Yet we deny work to over 12,000,000, maintaining nearly 5,000,000 a voluntary sign-up campaign will be able to accomplish anything at this time.

Another Meeting.

Another meeting has been called here for Thursday morning, to which all the members of the Interstate Tobacco Committee, composed of tobacco men from Virginia, North and South Carolina, have been invited. The committee will meet in the office of Dean I. O. Schaub of State College and another effort is expected to be made to get all these three states to agree to the same plan of procedure, although this is expected to be difficult.

Virginia Is Blamed.

The greatest blow to the voluntary sign-up plan, it is agreed is the defection of Virginia and the announcement by Governor George C. Peery, of Virginia, that the tobacco farmers there are not interested in the voluntary sign-up plan proposed by Governor Ehringhaus, but are going ahead with the Federal government soil conservation sign-up plan, under the soil conservation bill. South Carolina also seems to be showing very little interest in the Ehringhaus voluntary sign-up plan. Reports from Washington also are not so bright for the interstate pact plan, indicating that Congress is proceeding very slowly with its bill to validate State compacts for reducing tobacco acreage.

So, altogether, the outlook for anything definite to be accomplished towards controlling the 1936 tobacco crop is not regarded as very bright.

Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9797

of them in poverty at government expense and do nothing for the rest."

A FLAW

There is a flaw, of course, in the reasoning of manufacturer and worker alike when higher price is believed a solution.

The solution—as the majority of economists seem to see it—is a lowering of costs so that sale prices can be considerably and comprehensively lower.

A general sharing in the resultant earnings, then, would bring about the increased purchasing power (and at the same time relieve the jobless) and start the wheels a-going. The U. S. population of 127 millions needs for replenishments alone all that America can produce. But maldistribution of income and increments and inflated prices invoke a general poverty over what should be a land overflowing with prosperity.

NOT LIKELY TO RESPOND TO ROOSEVELT'S APPEAL

By CHARLES I. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 26.—Industry generally is not regarded in Congress as a bit likely to respond favorably to President Roosevelt's recent appeal to it to take up the slack of unemployment by something of a cut in its own profits.

Profits of the majority of big concerns having been fairly generous in the last year, maybe they can afford ing it. But he isn't. He has been doing fairly well of late; isn't affected yet by the lag in the revival of employment. Later, he may be, but just now he considers that times are improving—and so they are (temporarily) from his standpoint. He does not weigh the future's possibilities that his own prosperity (of today) is sure not to last if it is not followed speedily by more mass prosperity.

Or maybe it is his judgment that his prosperity will automatically be followed by prosperity for other folk. Maybe he is right, too.

Who knows? There have been recoveries from past depressions, and they had to start with somebody.

CAN MERELY WARN

Anyway, the big businessman of this era is satisfied with his personal improvement and does not desire it jeopardized by Rooseveltian plans. What is more, with NRA knocked out by the Supreme Court, the administration cannot enforce it. It can merely warn, or possibly threaten—that industry will have to reabsorb its unemployed, or the government will take care of the unemployed to the tune of one and one-half billion dollars' worth.

And industry will have to take care of it item—by paying it in wages or by paying it in relief taxation.

The Louisburg College Dramatic Club is made up of students of the speech department and others showing histrionic ability.
