USE OF BULLETS IN EFFORTS ADVOCATED

Would Have To Fight for Control of Government, Dean Says They Declared At Meetings; Says He Attended About 500 Meetings of Black Legion

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion executioner, testified today he had attended "about 500" meetings of the secret society and heard Arthur L. Lupp, Sr., of Detroit, and Virgil Effinger, of Lima, Ohio, advocate "changes in the system of Federal government."

Dean was called back to the witness stand for cross-examination at the common pleas court hearing for 20 men, including Lupp, on a criminal syndicalism indictment charging they plotted to overthrow the government and seize arsenals last September.

Effinger, named by Dean as a "major general" of the night riders, escaped arrest after an extradition hearing in Ohio, but Lupp, accused of commanding the Michigan Black Legion, was seized here.

Dean said the two men told at meetings in 1935 and 1936 of plans to revolt against the government.

"What did they say at those meetings?" asked Lester Johnson, defense attorney.

"A number of things," Dean replied. "We'd have to fight 'em and get the government. If it couldn't be done by ballots, it would have to be done by bullets."

Dean, one of eight men sentenced to life imprisonment for the Black Legion killing of Charles A. Poole, last May 12, said he "believed" in the present system of government.

Asked if he had ever heard of violence advocated against Jews, Caw-

By J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, Oct. 22.—An excellent response is being received by Democratic headquarters here to the request sent out a few days ago to all county and precinct chairmen that they arrange rallies with local speakers in every precinct where it is possible for the night of October 29, according to Secretary E. L. Ward, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, in charge of the speakers bureau in headquarters here.

It was first announced that these precinct meetings would be held Friday night, October 30, but the date was later changed to Thursday night, October 29, Ward announced.

"We have already received letters from many of the county and precinct chairmen commending our plan and saying they are already at work arranging for these precinct rallies," Ward said. PRESIDENT STATES NEW ENGLAND WILL GET FLOOD RELIEF

Tells Hartford Audience He Is In Their State To Talk About Plans For Control

PROBLEM DECLARED FEDERAL PROJECT

Executive Speaks Extemporaneously Before Cheering Throng and Continues Motor Tour of Connecticut, With Stops at Half Dozen Spots

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 22.—(AP)—In a bid for the slight electoral votes of Connecticut, which went Republican in 1932, President Roosevelt declared here today that Connecticut is a happier state than it was four years ago, and pledged the Federal government to do its share toward flood control in New England.

Speaking extemporaneously before a cheering throng, the chief executive said he was here in a two-fold capacity.

"I am here to talk with your officials about floods," he said. "I am here also, I am told, as a candidate for president."

"The reason why your government in Washington has to keep in close touch with the states and cities," he said, "is the fact your river here crosses four states. The problem of floods involves more than one state."

He said the Federal government stood ready to do its share toward flood prevention in the future.

"I am glad that prosperity is back with us again, and, believe me, it's going to stay," the President said.

A big cheer went up with this statement.

After the speech he left for a motor tour of the state, with stops arranged for half a dozen spots.

Quality as Good as Any In Country, State College Expert Says

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 22.—"First, we had the problem of developing orchards that would produce really fine apples."

At the State Fair each year, he said, are exhibits of North Carolina apples that are among the best produced in the United States.

Visitors stop to look at them, then inquire, "Where did they come from? Why can't we grow apples like these in North Carolina? They're the best I've ever seen."

Gardner said he has talked himself hoarse in explaining to incredulous visitors that the apples exhibited were all grown in North Carolina orchards.

Child Bandit Group Ends Its Career As One Of Number Dies

Brownsville, Tenn., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Police said the short criminal career of a child bandit quartette from Illinois was ended here today with the body of one youth in the morgue and three companions under arrest.

Rhos Thpse under arrest readily told officers and newspaper men how three boys organized in Chicago a week ago, later picked up a girl at Rockford, Ill., and climaxed a series by raiding a Memphis drug store in the heart of the business district last night.

This foray in the height of the 6 p. m. traffic rush, netted less than $60 and led to a pursuit in which the officers of several counties joined. After a series of gun duels with pursuers, the youths' automobile crashed into road machinery three miles south of Bells.

Detective Sergeant W. T. Pilkington, of Memphis, said the dead youth ended his own life with a pistol bullet rather than surrender. He gave the youth's name as Jimmy Magid, 15, of Chicago.

Those under arrest and awaiting removal to Memphis to face charges gave their names as Chester Johnson, 16, of Chicago; Frisella Fret, 15, Beloit, Wis.; and Dick Flannery, 16, Chicago.
