

HENDERSON DAILY DISPATCH

Established August 12, 1914
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday by HENDERSON DISPATCH CO., INC.

HENRY A. DENNIS, Pres. and Editor
M. L. FINCH, Sec.-Treas., Bus. Mgr.

TELEPHONES
Editorial Office 500
Society Editor 610
Business Office 610

The Henderson Daily Dispatch is a member of the Associated Press Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and the North Carolina Press Association.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES
Payable Strictly in Advance
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.50
Weekly (by Carrier Only) .15
Per Copy .05

National Advertising Representatives
FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
250 Park Avenue, New York
360 North Michigan, Ave., Chicago
General Motors Bldg., Detroit
1413 Healey Building, Atlanta.

Entered at the post office in Henderson, N. C., as second class mail matter

WHILE YET SINNERS: But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.—Romans 5:8.

TODAY

TODAY'S ANNIVERSARIES

1640—Elizabeth Peppy, talented wife of the famed diarist, born. Died Nov. 10, 1669.
1701—Isaac Norris, Philadelphia merchant, Quaker leader and legislator, whose suggestion it was to put on the Liberty Bell, "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof," born there. Died July 13, 1766.
1750—Thomas Pinckney, South Carolina lawyer, soldier of the Revolution, diplomat, governor, born in Charleston. Died there, Nov. 2, 1828.
1824 — Charles A. Fletcher, among the greatest of last century's actors, born in England. Died at Bucks Co., Pa., Aug. 5, 1879.
1835—Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois lawyer, congressman, Democratic leader, 23rd vice President, born in Christian Co., Ky. Died June 13, 1914.
1845—Sarah Bernhardt, famed French actress, born. Died March 27, 1923.

TODAY IN HISTORY

1872—Dispute regarding ownership of San Juan Island, on extreme northwest boundary with Canada submitted to German emperor who awarded it to United States.
1914—American soldiers began forcing into front line trenches in France.
1922—U. S. judge in New York City ruled that no foreign ship may enter three-mile limit of coast with liquor aboard except for crew rations.
1929—Wall Street smashed down by avalanche of selling to the extent of five billion dollars worth—one stock going down 96 points in day.
1933—President Roosevelt approves Retail Code.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS

Dr. Gilbert N. Lewis of the University of California, noted chemist, born at Weymouth, Mass., 61 years ago.
Maury Waverick of San Antonio, Tex., congressman, born there, 41 years ago.
Dr. William D. Coolidge, director of General Electric's Research Laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y., born at Hudson, Mass., 63 years ago.
Earl Chapin May of New York, author, born at Rochelle, Ill., 63 years ago.
Dr. Robert Chambers of New York University (noted biologist, born in Turkey (of Canadian parentage), 55 years ago.
Milburn L. Wilson of Bozeman, Mont., assistant secretary of agriculture, born at Atlantic, Ia., 51 years ago.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

Something of yesterday's tendencies prevail in those born in the early hours of today, but as the next degree advances, the nature will become more careless and even imprudent. Born late in the day the character may become argumentative or even violent, and the dangers incident are fanaticism or indifference to the results of action.

NOAH NUMSKULL
DEAR NOAH—IS A HOG SUCH A WONDERFUL CREATURE BECAUSE IT CAN BE CURED AFTER IT'S DEAD?
DEAR NOAH—IF A JIG-SAW SAW A WOOD-SAW, WOULD A SEA-SAW SEE A HACK-SAW?
VANCE G. KNOLES—CHARLOTTE, N.C.
GOOD OLD FALL DAYS ARE NUMB NOTION IDEAS. SEND IN YOUR NUMB IDEAS TONITE!

Today is the Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD
Copyright, 1936, for this Newspaper by Central Press Association

Calendar for October 1936 showing dates 1 through 31.

Friday, Oct. 23; National holiday in Siam. Arbor Day in southern Illinois. Zodiac sign: Scorpio. Full moon.

TODAY'S YESTERDAYS

Oct. 23, 1642—A remarkable case of suspended animation saved the life of Sir Gervase Scroop, one of the royalist leaders shot down in the Battle of Edgehill (England). Fifty-four hours after he had fallen with 16 severe wounds and had been stripped and left for dead upon an icy field, his son found the frigid, rigid body and had it carried into a house to be prepared for burial. Warmth restored signs of life and stimulants brought Sir Gervase to his senses. Surgeons said the noble owed his life to the enemy who stripped him bare, left him in the cold; this saved him from bleeding to death.

Oct. 23, 1669—William Prynne, lawyer, who received the severest penalty on record for ignorance of the law, died at 69. He was fined $25,000 placed in the pillory where his ears were cut off and then imprisoned for a long term, for writing a condemnation of stage plays. He didn't know that he was libeling King Charles I's queen, who liked stage plays. Charles put him where he wouldn't see any plays.

A few years later, Prynne defended Charles I from an attack on the House of Commons, and was fined and imprisoned!

20 Years Ago Today—The World War: The neutrality of Holland was violated by a Zeppelin. The crew mistaking their location, dropped bombs on Gorkum, 22 miles from Rotterdam. Germans made apologies, but didn't console families of victims.

IT'S TRUE

Edward Russell, Earl of Oxford, Onetime commander of the British Mediterranean fleet. He put on a party at Alicante at which 6,000 men got drunk. A public fountain was drained and filled with a punch made of four hogheads of brandy, one pipe Malaga wine, 20 gallons limejuice, 2500 lemons, 1300 pounds sugar, five pounds grated nutmeg, eight hogheads of water. In the fountain a shipboy rowed around in a small boat, assisting guests who fell in while in their cups.

George II, royal ancestor of romantic King Edward of today. When he died, an autopsy revealed he had died literally of a broken heart.

Eric Tittertoning. He, a Briton, is the official food-taster of the new King Farouk of Egypt. All Oriental monarchs have men whose job it is to try each dish set before the king, to make sure it isn't poisoned.

Kakai Dagalangit. He lives under the American flag with 30 wives. He's ruler of a Moro province in the Philippines.

ANSWERS TO TEN QUESTIONS

See Back Page

- 1. Melbourne.
2. George M. Cohan.
3. The pupa case of an insect.
4. New York.
5. Mississippi.
6. Rennet.
7. Theodore Roosevelt and Leonard Wood.
8. Macon, Ga.
9. French painter.
10. Joseph Mohr, an Austrian poet and priest.

What Do You Know About North Carolina?

By FRED H. MAY

- 1. What were the occupations that furnished only one prisoner each to the State Prison in 1934?
2. How does North Carolina compare with Iowa in farm renters?
3. How much did the first nugget of gold found in North Carolina sell for?
4. Who were the two justices of the United States Supreme Court North Carolina supplied?
5. How many fires occurred in cities having organized fire departments in 1934?
6. What forfeit is required of a Presidential Elector who fails to attend and cast his vote?

ANSWERS

- 1. Bus driver, hospital clerk, insurance mason, mattress maker, messenger, minister, office worker, policeman, railroad brakeman, steam engineer, tractor driver, typewriter worker and automobile washerman. Among the few occupations that did not contribute to the prison population was the newspaper field.
2. North Carolina with 300,967 farms has 47.4 percent renters as against Iowa with 221,986 farms and 50.3 percent renters. In rank with the other states North Carolina stands 37th and Iowa 40th.
3. The first nugget weighed three and one-half pounds, and was found on Jeol Reid's farm in Cabarrus county on a Sunday in 1799. Reid did not know what it was. He tried to sell it in Concord, but could not find a buyer, or learn what it was. After using it for a door stop for several years he took it to Fayetteville where he sold it for $3.50.
4. James Iredell, of Chowan, appointed by President Washington in 1790. Justice Iredell served until his death in 1799. Alfred Moore of Brunswick county, appointed by President Adams in 1799. Justice Moore resigned in 1804.
5. The total for the year was 2,056 fires, with total damages of $1,925,636 or $950.00 per fire.
6. A forfeit of $500.00 to be paid to the State of North Carolina.

STATE, V. P. I. SET FOR GAME SATURDAY

Both Teams Workout in Raleigh Today; Homecoming for N. C. State

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 23—Football squads of North Carolina State and V. P. I. will take final workouts this afternoon in Riddick Stadium here for their Southern Conference game tomorrow at 2:30 in the same stadium.

The Virginia squad arrived this afternoon from Blacksburg. Coach Redd brought 33 players and he said his men were in good shape. Hunk Anderson, State coach, says the Wolfpack will drill early today that the visitors might have the field when they want it.

The Wolves are in fine shape for the game, but Anderson says the club is on the "spot." The players are anxious to win, but dare not expose too much of their offense for the Carolina game coming up next Saturday.

The State coach also believes that V. P. I. is due to hit its stride tomorrow. Early in the season Anderson selected the Gobblers as runner-up to Duke in the Southern Conference championship race. The visitors have been improving with each game, playing South Carolina on even terms last week although dropping the contest.

A near capacity crowd is expected for the game which brings State and V. P. I. together for the 21st time. The schools first met in 1900. The present series began in 1934 after a lapse of nine years. V. P. I. took the 1934 game, 7-5. State won last year 6-0 when Charlie Gadd returned an intercepted pass 40 yards.

Hundreds of State alumni and parents of students will be in the stands as this week the school is celebrating its annual Homecoming and Dad's Day with the football game as a feature attraction. It also will be the last home game for Captain Mac Cara and 13 other members of the Wolfpack.

Blue Devils In Knoxville For Game With Vols

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 23—Coach Wallace Wade, who has never defeated the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, brought his undefeated and untied Blue Devils to this city today to take their final drill in preparation for their clash with the amazingly improving Volunteers tomorrow.

The Blue Devils were to take their final workout this afternoon and then retire to their headquarters at Whittle Springs hotel, near here, to await game time.

Victorious in their first five games, tomorrow's clash is generally regarded as Duke's crucial one. And the Blue Devils have a lot to do against them in addition to the fact that they face the jinx of a Wade-coached team having never won a victory in Knoxville.

The Vols have improved steadily and undoubtedly are planning to show the world they have regained their power by topping the Wademen tomorrow. And they have the wherewithal to do it. Duke is rating it an even game. It is hard to think that the Wademen, with a running attack that has bogged down all season due to a lack of blocking, can do against the Vols what Alabama failed to do. The Crimson Tide offense, rated one of the best in the south, was completely stopped by the hard-tackling, hard-charging Volunteers.

Dick Taliaferro, star Duke flanker, will hardly be able to play tomorrow and his understudy, Bill Bailey, sophomore, is definitely out so Coach Wallace Wade will probably start Charlie Fischer, who was a reserve guard last week until Taliaferro and Bailey both received injuries in the Tech game and the Duke mentor had to call on Fischer. He turned in a brilliant performance against the jackets.

It will be the last home game for the State College football players pictured above when the Wolfpack meet V. P. I. Saturday afternoon in State's Riddick stadium. Four games still remain on the schedule, but they are to be played away from home.

Tar Heels Arrive New Orleans for Game With Tulane

New Orleans, La., Oct. 23—The University of North Carolina football squad, 30 strong, arrived here early this morning, and was to take its final polishing drills this afternoon in preparation for its crucial inter-conference engagement with Tulane University here tomorrow afternoon.

Though undefeated, the Tar Heels are the underdogs in the grid headlines with the Green Wave, another unbeaten eleven as a result of Tulane's show of strength in routing Colgate 28-6 last week. This is Carolina's first invasion of the far South since 1922 when it measured off Tulane in a thrilling 19-12 battle. The contest marked the only previous meeting of the two teams.

The Greens under the able guidance of Head Coach Lowell (Red) Dawson and his two capable assistants, Glen Seidel and Bill Bevan, rate one of the most powerful outfits in lower Dixie. They also number among their victims the formidable University eleven and tied Auburn, rated by many as a favorite for the Southeastern Conference crown.

Weather Is Holding Up Trade Gain

(Continued from Page One.)

percent over the comparable 1935 period. Percentage gains over 1935 in the major geographical areas included: South, 20 to 25 percent.

No significance was attached to the lag in demand for merchandise during the week, the review said, as it was viewed as a temporary deferral until the weather will have turned colder.

In those sections of the country where seasonable temperatures prevail, consumer buying continued to expand.

Hull Caters To South Americans

(Continued from Page One.)

"sassing" a giant. The giant can afford to laugh. "Sassed" by a giant, a pigmy's only recourse is impotent rage. Impotent rage isn't physically dangerous, but it is bad for trade.

"LAST FRONTIER"

South American possibilities should be valuable to the United States. The southern continent is the world's last frontier. Frontier development is profitable, and Uncle Sam can make the job his own, if he'll be adaptable.

Uncle Samuel hasn't been Latin Americanly adaptable in the past; he's been preemptory, if not outright bullying.

As late as Woodrow Wilson's day he was dictatorial to the Latins. Under Presidents Harding and Coolidge conditions did not improve, if they got no worse.

There was an improvement under President Hoover.

President Hoover's intentions, in his dealings with the southern folk, were all right and the Latins so recognized them. His weakness was that he had not the gift for polite palaver, which is dear to their hearts. He mollified them somewhat, in comparison with what had gone before, but they did not worm to his administration, it was not cordial enough.

F. D. R. SYMPATHETIC

The Roosevelt administration has been, in its relationships with the Latins, what they call "sympatico"—sympathetic, understanding.

This cannot be overemphasized. The Latin American resents hot-ting more than the "take it or leave it" attitude. Brusqueness infuriates him. He will bargain, and, maybe, finally agree to the opposition bargainer's terms, but he wants the privilege of bargaining. He also wants to be bargained with politely.

North American business apparently never has been able to sense this.

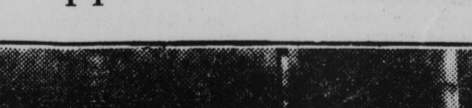

Gov. Landon Claims New Deal Deserts Democrat Doctrine

(Continued from Page One.)

party name, even though it means breaking political habits of a lifetime. "When they go to the polls, they will not alone be protesting the attempt made by this administration to change the fundamental principles of our American government. They will be rejecting a man who has attempted this change without a mandate from either the citizens of this country or his own party convention."

Landon said President Roosevelt had made a "deliberate attempt" to break down the confidence of our people in the integrity and independence of the Supreme Court.

At the Vance Today and Saturday

Buck Jones and Billy Burrud in a scene from "The Cowboy and the Kid," Universal picture

In Final Home Appearance Saturday

The seniors above are: front row, left to right—Odell Smothers, center; Mason Bugg, tackle; Frank Kubisa, center; Captain Mac Cara, end; Joe Ryneska, fullback; Nick Hayden, halfback, and Phil Davis, halfback. Second row—Eddie Jaskwich,

VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS

WANT ADS

Various classified advertisements including: LOST - LADIES BULOVA WRIST watch at fair grounds. COME ONE-COME ALL! HAL-low'en Party. TYPEWRITERS - ALL MAKES. Dr. Warren W. Wilson Osteopathic Physician. WE SELL Real Estate-Insurance. WANTED BY A YOUNG MAN JOB as truck driver. THE HENDERSON BUSINESS School offers you a professional business training. I HAVE SIX LOTS LEFT ON Davis and Maple streets for sale. WHY TAKE A CHANCE? LET US plan your planting with healthy young plants adapted to this soil and climate. NAILS! NAILS! WE'VE GOT THE nails. EXTRA SPECIAL COOK STOVE, $6 up. WANTED A MILLION POUNDS OF good tobacco. FORECLOSURE SALE. FORECLOSURE SALE. FORECLOSURE SALE.