

AERIAL VIEW OF MIGHTIEST BRIDGE

The San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge

San Francisco celebrates the opening of the $77,200,000 eight-mile-long trans-bay bridge between San Francisco and Oakland, Thursday, Nov. 12. The bridge, completed at the cost of 24 lives and 1,157 injuries, is shown above in an aerial view from San Francisco side.

LANDON'S SUCCESSOR AND FAMILY

Walter A. Huxman, his wife and daughter Ruth

When Gov. Alfred M. Landon retires from the chief executive's office of Kansas, Jan. 1, he will turn it over to a victorious Democrat, Walter A. Huxman, Hutchinson attorney. Huxman is seen talking over a microphone at his home, with his wife and daughter at his side.

The Secret's Out

Mr. and Mrs. Harpo Marx

That quiet Marx brother, Arthur, known to movie and stage audiences as Harpo, and Susan Fleming, former Follies girl, have been secretly wed since Sept. 26. The disclosure was made through a telegram to President Roosevelt, thanking the president for an autographed picture. Harpo wired: "I'm in line for congratulations, too, having been married since September." The bride is a native of New York City.

Governor Curley's Successor

Charles E. Hurley, Democrat, who defeated John W. Haigis, Republican, for the Governorship of Massachusetts, is shown above. Hurley succeeds James M. Curley. He is shown in his office, receiving the congratulations of friends.

Sally Rebuilds Her Schnozzle

Sally Payne had a nice enough nose when she was screen-tested, but certain alterations had to be made for the pitiless camera. They were made. Look at poor Sally. But that cocoon is going to be a beautiful butterfly when they take off the bandages.

Detroit Equestrienne Wins

Miss Frances M. Dodge, of Detroit, rode Manhattan Serenade to victory for the Charles F. Hubbs Memorial Challenge Trophy at the Madison Square Garden horse show. Mrs. Richard C. Kettler, Jr., one of the donors of the prize, is making the presentation.

Cornell President

Dr. Edmund Ezra Day

Dr. Edmund Ezra Day, 53-year-old Manchester, N. H., social scientist and economist, has been named president of Cornell university. He will assume office next June when Dr. Livingston Farrand retires after 17 years of service to the university.

WHERE LOYALISTS HOLD FORTH

Top, air view of Valencia; below, map of Madrid and Valencia

As the Fascist rebels reached Madrid, the Popular Front government moved its capital to Valencia, 190 miles east of Madrid, and set up administration offices there. President Manuel Azana, however, has been in Barcelona, Spain's largest city, where he established quarters some weeks ago. Photo at the top shows an air view of Valencia. Below, an explanatory map shows the proximity of Madrid to Valencia and Barcelona, which are in strong pro-Loyalist territory.

Powder-Puff Duel

Mrs. Donna MacDonough, wife of James MacDonough, former vice president of one of New York's largest banks, is suing for divorce. She charges that she saw her husband and an unidentified blonde engaged in a spirited powder-puff duel.

Wife Preservers

To clean ivory knife or fork handles, use lemon and salt. If badly stained, wet with the mixture and put in sun to bleach. Repeat operation if necessary.

Horse Show Winner

Mrs. John Hay Whitney, New York Socialite and one of America's most accomplished horsewomen, is pictured with Gray Knight at the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, New York. Mrs. Whitney rode Gray Knight to victory in the thoroughbred hunter judgments and was awarded the blue ribbon.

Tuning Up for the Race

Pretty Betty Wilcox puts the finishing touches on her light seaplane for the coming ninth annual Miami All-American Air Races, which begin December 10.

N. Y. Finest's No. 1 Horseman

Patrolman Olaf Weighorst, of the New York City mounted police, who won the blue ribbon at the Madison Square Garden Horse Show, police division, in New York.

Ariel and Caliban Take the Plunge at Last

All that fuss about John Barrymore and his Elaine Barrie finally ended in marriage. With his bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jacobs, Barrymore (second from right) and his Ariel (second from left) are shown at Los Angeles just before they took plane for Yuma, Ariz., where they were married.