Labor Leaders Are Accused Of Starting Federation On Sure Road To Destruction

TYPOGRAPH LEADER DEPLORES FURTHER LEWIS SUSPENSION

Federation Keeps Olive Branch Extended Toward Lewis and Ten Unions, However

PREPARING FOR WAR IF WAR MUST COME

Way Left Open for Amicable Solution of Problem at Conference Table; Hand of Fellowship Still Extended, William Green Declares at Convention

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Charles P. Howard, president of the typographical union, accused American Federation of Labor leaders today of "starting the federation toward destruction" by continuing indefinitely the suspension of John L. Lewis' ten rebel unions.

Howard is secretary of Lewis' committee for industrial organization. The American Federation of Labor kept the olive branch extended toward John L. Lewis and his committee for industrial organization today, despite last night's action continuing suspension of the ten rebel unions.

But these persistent peace hopes of the craft unionists mingled with steps to make effective war on the industrial unionists if it comes to that.

Leaving open a way for amicable solution at the conference table, delegates to the A. F. of L. convention also voted extraordinary authority for summoning of an emergency convention should need arise for "drastic action" before the regular 1937 meeting.

"The door is still open, the hand of fellowship is still extended," declared William Green, president of the federation, just before the midnight vote.

Socialist Presses For Debt Payment To U.S. By France

Astute Diplomat

Oswaldo Aranha

Washington observers are making much of the diplomacy of Oswaldo Aranha, above, ambassador to Brazil, for it was Aranha who induced President Roosevelt to equalize his South American visit to Buenos Aires with one to Rio De Janeiro. Brazilians, it is said, were somewhat put out when Buenos Aires, capital of Argentina, was chosen as the scene of the Inter-American peace conference. Their chagrin became more intense when it was heard that President Roosevelt would attend the conference—and might not stop at Rio De Janeiro. Ambassador Aranha, however, got busy—and now the president will stop at Rio De Janeiro, where a brilliant reception is planned. Aranha is an ex-cowboy, the man who led the revolution putting President Vargas of Brazil into power.

Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—Deputy Rene-Rickard announced today he would propose reopening negotiations looking to the payment of the war debt to the United States in the French Chamber of Deputies November 26. The Radical Socialist deputy said he had long believed that negotiations should be started, and added:

"Without wishing to embarrass the government, I nevertheless, am so convinced of the necessity of reopening negotiations that I will introduce a new proposal in the chamber Thursday."

The deputy did not disclose details of the measure he proposes. Rickard said the resolution will propose that Parliament "invite the government to reopen negotiations with the United States, but will not embody details of any settlement proposal."

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE TO PROTECT OWN MERCHANTMEN

U. S. EMBASSY WILL EVACUATE CAPITAL

Ordered To Move To Valencia; Safe Conduct Offered All American Nationals Desiring To Flee Harassed Capital; Insurgent Attack Is Halted

(By The Associated Press.)

Great Britain and France took quick measures today to protect their merchantships from molestation in Spanish waters just as the Madrid government formally charged that "foreign warships" were aiding insurgent attacks on the Socialist fleet.

Britain, reported in informed circles to have characterized an insurgent explanation of their blockade intentions as unsatisfactory, was believed to have ordered four submarines and a depot ship to Spain.

This followed quickly upon Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's warning in the House of Commons that British warships would protect British merchantmen from attack by either side in the Spanish conflict.

The French government instructed the ministry of the navy to "take all appropriate measures looking to the protection of the French flag in Spanish waters."

The Spanish government in Madrid, after an investigation, mentioned the Fascists powers of Italy and Germany by name, and accused "foreign warships" of preying on the government navy.

The United States ordered its embassy in Madrid evacuated to Valencia and offered safe conduct to all American nationals desiring to flee the harassed capital.

International volunteers, the Spanish government said, meanwhile, halted a renewed insurgent attack on the northwestern University section of the capital, where bloody hand-to-hand fighting has been in progress for days
