FEDERAL LICENSE CALLED DESIRABLE

Would Avoid Complications In Interstate Business, Writer Says

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer. Washington, Nov. 30.—Two or three years ago I wrote an article suggesting that big business was crushing relatively small private business initiative, and proposing a remedy based on my own admittedly small knowledge of the situation.

To my surprise, I received about half a bushel basketful of letters, not from radicals, but from bankers and accounting agencies, commending my idea in principle. To be sure, the writers said I was mistaken in advocating governmentalization, but they agreed with remarkable unanimity, that limited liability companies engaged in interstate activities ought

INSURGENT PLANES MAKE DUAL RAIDS OVER THE CAPITAL

Government Lines In Two Sectors Are Bombed by Rebel Birdmen In West Madrid

HEART OF CITY IS UNTOUCHED AS YET

Military Circles Claim Franco's Hired Airmen Were Afraid To Risk Battle With Government's Determined Aviators; Capital Filled With Optimism

Madrid, Nov. 30 (AP)—Insurgent planes raided the capital twice today, bombing government lines in the University section and along the Manzanares river.

The Fascist birdmen then wheeled back to their bases without attempting to bomb the center of the city. The failure to take advantage of "perfect bombing weather" to attack the heart of the city itself puzzled military circles. The government pointed to the maneuver as the latest indication the back of the insurgent attack on Madrid had been broken.

The first insurgent air raids shortly after midnight loosed high explosive bombs around the Paseo de Rosales. Returning in mid-morning, the bombers eluded the squadron of government pursuit planes guarding the capital and dropped ten projectiles, mainly along the University and Casa de Campo entrenchments.

Informed military circles attributed the failure to bomb the city proper to Franco's "mercenary pilots" to risk battle with the government's "now determined aviators."

A general feeling of optimism was felt throughout the capital. Light advances of the international brigade in the University area, in the northwestern part of the city, and of the militia in the Casa de Campo, coupled with Franco's failure to carry out his alleged threat to bomb the center of Madrid, bolstered the defenders' spirit.

Arrival Of Garner Has A Mystery

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Expecting Vice-President Garner to reach Washington early this week, congressmen in both houses speculated today on the significance of his unexpectedly early return.

State Attorney General Holds It Sufficient, But 26-Year-Old Attorney for Security Board Splits Hairs Over Meaning of One Single Word

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus continued today to contend that North Carolina does not need a special legislative session to comply with the Federal unemployment insurance law.

"We have a law which the attorney general of our State says complies," the governor said. "But the general counsel of the Federal Social Security Board rules that it does not, because it does not contain the same definition of the word 'required' as is contained in the Federal act."

Thomas H. Elliott, 26-year-old lawyer, is the board's counsel. The governor said North Carolina's law permits an unemployment authority to call for contributions from employers before they may qualify under the statute, but does not require the contribution in the form of a tax, which Elliott has ruled is necessary to comply with the Federal act.

Bankhead Predicts Peaceful Congress

Jasper, Ala., Nov. 30 (AP)—House Speaker William B. Bankhead predicted today a continuation of "a spirit of fine cooperation between the Congress and the President on major questions of public policy."

The speaker foresaw "a long session" after the 75th Congress convenes in January. "I anticipate no grave breach of solidarity in the House overwhelming Democratic majority," Bankhead said. "I don't see any occasion where there should be any serious schism."

Bankhead is regarded as almost a certain choice for re-election as presiding officer of the House.

ROOSEVELT IS NOT AFTER THIRD TERM

Wouldn't Have It, Writer Says; Second Program Is Outlined

New York, Nov. 30.—Fears that the idea of a third term has taken fixed shape in President Roosevelt's mind are definitely set at rest in an authoritative article on the President's plans and purposes written by George Creel for a forthcoming issue of Collier's. He quotes Mr. Roosevelt himself as saying:

"On January 21, 1941, in a new President takes over, I will be in Hyde Park having the time of my life." Creel, who worked side by side with Mr. Roosevelt when both were members of Woodrow Wilson's official family, twice before has been privileged to announce the policies which would determine the present administration's plans. On March 3, 1933, he set forth exactly the broad outlines of the original New Deal laws, and in September, 1935, he foretold the laws enacted during the past session of Congress.

In the present article Creel has had

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Max Zaritzky, head of one of the unions affiliated with the John L. Lewis faction, said today the committee for industrial organization will wait for the American Federation of Labor to advance peace moves in the "civil war" of organized workers.

Expensive Buying For Christmas

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Secretary Roper said today that reports to the Commerce Department from all sections "clearly show that people are buying this Christmas more expensive types of gifts than for any season since 1929."

At the same time Roper made the first comment from an administration source on recent heavy dividend declarations. He said "the unprecedented distribution of corporation funds through bonuses and extra dividends is a most stimulating factor" in the Christmas buying surge.

"Progress reports," on Christmas business, the secretary said, support previous predictions that department store sales this season "will be at least 15 per cent greater than in 1935, and will closely approach the volume attained in the 1929 season." "Our reports give evidence of the fact that people throughout the country are in a much more progressive condition now than has been the case for the last seven years," he continued.
