Siler Proposes Free Tuition In State Institutions for War Veterans' Orphans; Ratification of Liquor Bill Is Deferred Until Next Monday

Raleigh, Feb. 20 (AP)—Representative Sentelle, of Brunswick, introduced in the legislature today a bill to provide a retirement fund for public school teachers.

The measure would provide for pensions for teachers with 30 years or more of service from a fund to which they contributed equally with the state during their active teaching years. A nine-member commission would be created.

Teachers would contribute not more than five percent of their annual pay, and should they retire before reaching 35 years of service would get back their money with interest.

Sentelle said the plan "has very enthusiastic support" of the teachers and "is needed as the state should think of the social security protection for its teachers and others in public service not covered under the Federal social security program.

LEGISLATIVE PAGE BEING MAINTAINED

Little Evidence During Week of Slackening of Earlier Speed

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Feb. 20.—There was no noticeable slackening in the fast legislative pace this week and prospects of an early end of the session were seen as improved rather than as darkened by the week's accomplishments.

For one thing the law-makers disposed of, finally and completely, the liquor question, an issue which was expected to consume much more time than actually proved the case. During the week the county option bill was enacted by the Senate with only a few amendments, after a Statewide referendum had been defeated in a tense session Tuesday. A quick conference between House and Senate conferees, a report to both house Friday and adoption of the report in both wound up the entire issue.

Soon the State will be dotted with

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Repeal by the General Assembly of North Carolina's 28-year-old ban on liquor held the legislative spotlight this week as the mammoth $75,000,000 tax bill struck a snag in the Senate.

Under the option plan, counties which vote wet on the earliest date possible will be permitted to set up stores for the sale of alcoholic beverages early in April.

The upper branch, during a five-day period that saw 194 bills introduced in two houses, confined itself principally to consideration of the revenue

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Samuel Rosoff, wealthy subway builder, said today he had refused to go to New Jersey to be questioned in connection with the slaying of Norwood Redwood at Teaneck, but he had invited Teaneck to send "as many men as you like to my apartment, where you can question me all you like."

Rosoff announced he would pay a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension and conviction of those "who did the job."

GUN LIKE SLAYER'S GUN IS FOUND ON HIGHWAY

Teaneck, N. J., Feb. 20.—(AP)—A gun of the same calibre that was used in the slaying of Norwood Redwood, New York business manager of a subway workers' union, was found on a highway near here today as authorities awaited the promised appearance of Samuel Rosoff, New York subway builder, for questioning.

Two Bergen county patrolmen found a .38-calibre pistol on the site of Route 4, the super-highway leading to the George Washington bridge and New York City. Only one of the six shells in the gun had been discharged.

Liberals Chafe At New Laws

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Feb. 20.—So-called Liberals who favor shorter hours and tighter restrictions on employers of labor, are none too well pleased with the record of the current legislature on labor questions. They do feel, however, that some progress has been made in the right direction.

First blow was, of course, defeat of ratification of the Federal child labor amendment. Many laborites frankly

Another New Enforcement Unit Sought

Would Absorb Highway Patrol And Go Much Further Than That As Well

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By HENRY AVERILL.

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—In discussion of the transfer of the State Highway Patrol from the Revenue Department and reorganization of the patrol, a companion bill setting up a new State law enforcement agency with wide and comprehensive powers and duties has been somewhat overlooked.

The bill, introduced by Con C. Johnston, Iredell, and referred to his committee on roads, is entitled an act to establish a State bureau of identification and investigation, and many of its provisions do little more than consolidate existing record keeping agencies under one head; but in addition the new bureau is given sweeping powers to act as police agency.

First of all, the bill would create a bureau of identification and investigation under supervision of the division of public safety as part of the governor's office.

The governor would be given the juicy patronage plum of appointment of a director of this bureau, with a salary which would no doubt be fixed at a very substantial sum.

This director would then, in turn, "appoint a sufficient number of assistants and stenographic and clerical help."

Nor would the work of these "assistants" be confined to keeping identification records. The bill provides: "The director of the bureau, and his assistants, are given the same power

Embargo On Spain Begins At Midnight

Government Forces, Meantime, Scoring Successes Against Rebel Forces

(By The Associated Press.) Reports of government successes came from Valencia and Madrid today as Europe's nations made final plans for clamping an embargo on the war-torn peninsula at midnight tonight.

Portugal, not entirely favorable to the blockade plans, was expected to fall in line over the week-end, allowing British inspectors to see that she does not send armaments to her neighbor.

The nations took official individual steps to punish volunteers for the war as hundreds of battle-minded men rushed toward the Franco-Spanish border to meet the midnight deadline. The final rush through Perpignan, France, was expected to total 500—some 11,000 volunteers were estimated to have passed through that city since the war started.

Government troops, changing their tactics, reported gains northwest of Madrid.

Foes Of Court Idea Can Block Plan Indefinitely

By Employing Filibuster They Can Defeat Roosevelt's Purposes; But They Are Working For Enough Senators To Kill Proposal In Straight Fight

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Members of both sides in the controversy over enlargement of the Supreme Court agreed today there were sufficient senators opposed to block action indefinitely if they chose to filibuster against it.

Administration leaders, however, expressed doubt any group of senators, no matter how sizeable, would be willing to prevent a vote. Roosevelt backers continued to predict victory. Opponents were not talking filibuster; they were after enough votes to beat court reorganization, and declared they had almost enough.

In the first group invited to the White House were Vice-President Garner and these Democrats: Robinson, of Arkansas, the majority leader; Harrison, Mississippi; Ashurst, Arizona, chairman of the judiciary committee; Barkley, Kentucky; Black of Alabama; Byrnes, South Carolina; and Guffey of Pennsylvania.

The second group consisted of Senators Frazier and Nye, North Dakota Republicans; LaFollette, Wisconsin Progressive, and Schwelmbach, Democrat, Washington.

On Monday American Farm Bureau Federation officials will call to discuss the courts. They will be accompanied by Secretary Wallace. The secretary has said farmers will support the program. Neutrality Measure Gets Approval From Senate's Committee

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted today to report the Pittman permanent neutrality bill.

Only Senator Johnson, Republican, California, opposed it.

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, author of the legislation, said he would submit the report Monday and hoped to bring the bill up in the Senate for debate next week.

The bill would set up a permanent neutrality law establishing an American policy that warring nations which want American goods must come and get them in their own ships. "We are now cutting that cable by which we were dragged into the last war, insofar as we can accomplish it by our individual laws and reasonable restraints upon our own nationals," Pittman said in describing the act.

But Johnson told newspaper men it was a "shotgun measure to keep us out of war, and it doesn't do anything of the sort."
