SURFACE LULL OVER FIGHT UPON COURT

Norris Offers Amendment To Curb Supreme Court's Power; Senate Considers Acceptance of Andrew Mellon's $19,000,000 Gifts of Art

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—A floodtide of income tax returns swept into the Treasury today, buoying administration hopes that no additional borrowing would be necessary this fiscal year.

Treasury officials said they expected March receipts of $840,000,000. If this forecast was correct, they declared, the government possibly could go on a balanced budget basis for the rest of the fiscal year.

There was a surface lull in the fight over President Roosevelt's judicial proposals. Hearings by the Senate Judiciary Committee, now considering the program, will be resumed tomorrow.

Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, drew up a bill and a constitutional amendment to curb the Supreme Court's power. He would require a two-thirds vote by the court to invalidate the law. His amendment would limit appointments to Federal courts in nine years.

Approval Of Court Plans Due To Pass

Ickes Speech May Contribute to Withering of Opposition to President

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, March 15.—House leaders who for a week have been playing a game of political peek-a-boo and hide-and-seek with Representative C. W. Spill and his small group of McDermid Democrats, in an effort to keep from being put "on the spot" by the joint resolution introduced by Representative Brooks Price, of Union, indorsing the stand of President Roosevelt in favor of the reorganization of the United States Supreme Court, have decided to quit their fence-straddling and dodging and to permit this resolution to come to a vote in tonight's session of the House, according to word going the rounds today. Indications are that the speech

End Of Legislature This Week Unlikely

Calendars Jammed in Both House and Senate, With Many Important Public Measures Yet to Be Acted Upon; New Building Is Authorized

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, March 15.—Adjournment by the end of this week is still regarded as possible by legislative leaders, in spite of the jam-packed calendars in both houses and the flood of bills still coming from the committees. But a good many seriously doubt if both houses will be able to clear their desks and slates and wind up the session by Saturday as much as the members want to get through and go home and as hard as Speaker Gregg Cherry is putting the spurs to the House. Indications are that by tomorrow the Senate will be just about as deeply snowed under with bills as the House has been, due to the flood of measures being sent over from the House, and that Lieutenant Governor W. P. Horton is going to have to borrow Speaker Cherry's spurs if he is going to get the Senate out of the trenches by Saturday. 100 Bills Await House

The House will find more than 100 bills on its calendar when it meets again today, while the Senate will also have a large calendar as a result of the bills which came over from the House Saturday and from committees. There were 101 public bills on the House calendar Saturday, in addition to many local bills. And while the House and Senate both held public sessions Saturday, the House held both morning and afternoon sessions, it left more than 50 public bills still to be acted on when it adjourns.

Legislature Off On Home Stretch

Raleigh, March 15.—(AP)—The North Carolina General Assembly started down the home stretch today toward a self-set goal of sine die adjournment by the end of the week.

Although most of the major bills have been disposed of, between 300 and 400 bills remained on the calendar or in the hands of committees. Most of them, however, are local measures.

Still to be disposed of are the important school machinery, revenue machinery, highway reorganization, highway finance, permanent improvements and election bills.

Intended To Prevent Circulation of False Statements by Insolvent Persons Attacking Character of Innocent Persons, Hatch Declares

Raleigh, March 15.—(AP)—Representative Hatch, of Wake, told the lower division of the General Assembly this afternoon his bill to prohibit false and malicious statements "is not aimed at the freedom of the press," and said he would offer amendments to clarify the measure.

Legislators and newspapers attacked the Hatch measure over the weekend as threatening the freedom of the press, and a Raleigh newspaper said it was described as "resembling the stringent California criminal syndicalism act."

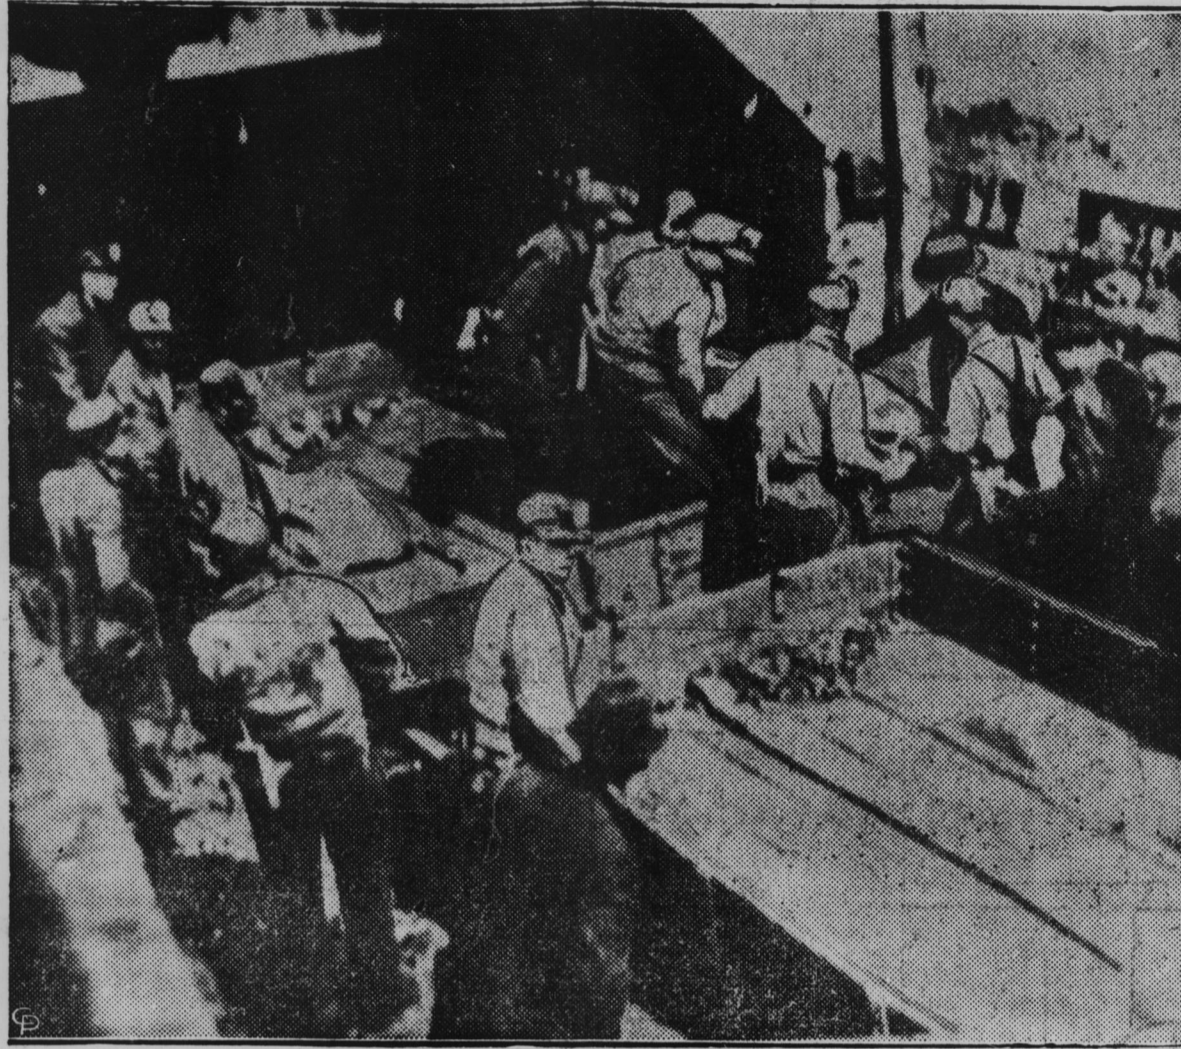

"I have not been a party to any bill unfair to any person or group of persons," Hatch told the House. "The bill was not intended to infringe on the

Supreme Court Refuses New Reviews On Wagner Measure

Washington, March 15.—(AP) The Supreme Court stirred speculation among administration officials today by refusing to review eight new cases challenging constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act which the government won in lower courts. At the same time the tribunal postponed until at least March 29 a final decision on the validity of the Wagner labor and railway labor laws as presented in five cases already argued. Supreme Court attaches quickly emphasized today's action in refusing to review the new controversies did not necessarily indicate the court's views of the litigation. There are a number of reasons which might cause the court to decline to pass on litigation. A final ruling also was postponed for at least two weeks on constitutionality of the Washington law establishing minimum wages for women. Action was delayed also on petition for reconsideration of the four-to-four decision upholding the New York unemployment insurance act.

Offer Alibis For Beating Exemptions

Social Security Land Tax Held Necessary; Keep Church Exemptions

Raleigh, March 15.—Political prophets are pondering the effect on the State's voters of last Friday's rejection by the House of any exemption whatever for home owners.

There are those who predict that the rejection of what they call the "mandate of the people" will be very hard to explain to the folks back home, but at the present writing a majority of observers feel that those legislators who voted against the exemption will be able to make out a satisfactory defense before their constituents.

Ready With "Alibis" Certainly more than two-thirds of the representatives who were in the hall when votes were counted believed they can "get by" for the vote was

TRIANGULAR AFFAIR IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Affair With 45-Year-Old Canton, Ohio, Divorcee Admitted By Contractor-Husband

Canton, Ohio, March 15.—(AP)—Detective Captain Elmer E. Clark, announced today Deuber Cable, Canton contractor, had told of his companionship with a 40-year-old divorcee held for questioning by authorities investigating the shotgun slaying of Cable's socially prominent wife.

Included in Cable's account, Captain Clark said, was a statement he had shared an apartment in Akron with the woman, who today was held in jail.

It was in this apartment, police declared, Prosecutor A. G. Barthmes reported the finding of evidence which he said pointed to a "jealousy" motive in the slaying and the possibility of a "hired assassin" fired into a window of the Cable home Thursday night the shotgun blast which fatally wounded Mrs. Cable.

FATAL CAR WRECK NEAR ROCKY MOUNT

Otis Parks, 30, of Whitakers, Killed; Two Held Under $500 Bonds

Rocky Mount, March 15.—(AP)—Otis Parks, 30, of Whitakers, was killed almost instantly on the Battleboro highway near here early today when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a trailer behind a parked truck.

Joe Stallings 38, of Whitakers, driver of the car in which Parks was riding, and C. U. Ramsey, of Rocky Mount, truck driver, were formally charged with manslaughter and placed under $500 bond each after local police and M. C. Guley, Nash coroner, investigated the fatal crash.

Police reported Ramsey had parked the truck, owned by S. T. Jones, of near here, near the edge of the highway, but a trailer attached to the truck appeared to extend over the pavement. When the Stallings car hit the trailer, officers said, several boards were ripped off it and were hurled through the windshield of the approaching car, striking Parks.

Winter Hits Back Sharply At The South

(By The Associated Press.) March winds whipped snow, sleet or rain over much of the South today, bringing an abrupt halt to springlike weather.

Temperatures dropped below the freezing mark in some sections of Tennessee and Arkansas, while white flurries also dotted sections of Virginia, with indications they would extend as far south as north Georgia.

Snow was falling in Nashville, Memphis and Little Rock, but melted almost as fast as it struck. Chilly rains slashed on the sidewalks of Knoxville, Atlanta, New Orleans and in the Carolinas.

Official forecasts indicated the button-up-your-overcoat weather would not at once relax its grip. Still lower temperatures were promised for some

Compelled To Retire From Forward Positions in Guadalajara Section Northeast of Capital; Government Trying to Dislodge Franco Troops

(By The Associated Press.) Spanish insurgent forces launched heavy attacks on two fronts east of Madrid today in what was reported to be a coordinated drive against the beleaguered capital.

General Francisco Franco's army on the Guadalajara front, reported inflicting severe casualties on government troops. Insurgent dispatches said defense forces were routed in a wave of counterattacks.

General Franco's commanders reported at least 200 government soldiers were killed and ten airplanes shot down in battles with insurgent squadrons.

Madrid, March 15 (AP)—Four tremendous explosions, apparently from government mines in battle-scattered university City, rocked Madrid today as insurgent artillery shells tore great holes in buildings in the downtown districts.

Meagre reports from the University City zone, where government militia and insurgent troops have contested for weeks described the explosive attacks as fresh attempts to rout General Francisco Franco's forces from their barricade positions.

Labor Backs Board In Restoring Jobs In Remington Firm

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor gave its support today to a national labor relations board order directing Remington-Rand, Inc., to put 4,000 employees back to work.

The board said the 4,000 lost their jobs following a strike started last May in six Remington-Rand plants. Directing that their jobs be restored, the board also ordered the company to recognize the Office Equipment Workers Council, an A. F. Two Killed 6 Hurt On Route One Manila, P. I., March 15 (AP)—Twenty-eight persons were killed in a terrific explosion today in a Chinese fireworks plant at Passay, a suburb of Manila. Some officials estimated 20 to 50 were missing.

Fire followed the explosion. The force of the blast was felt over a two-mile radius.

Most of the victims were Filipino women who had no chance to escape through the one exit of the plant.

Police reported a number jumped from the windows into a swamp where they were trapped in the mud and water and were drowned.

The explosion tore the plant asunder and numerous bodies were buried in flaming wreckage. When the embers cooled somewhat, firemen and soldiers dug into the twisted mass of debris.
