

Five Out of These Five Have "IT"

Students of the University of Oregon selected these five girls as most typical co-eds at a campus election in Eugene, Ore. And then a jury selected Marcia Steinhauser, Hood River, Ore. (extreme right), as "Oregon's Ideal Woman." Her picture will occupy the place of honor in the school's yearbook. The other four beauties (left to right) are Virginia Regan, Frances Johnston, Betty Crawford and June Ritter.

Two Small Hosts at President's Luncheon

Here's a close-up of the buffet luncheon which was tendered President Roosevelt by patients at the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation. The President is shown in animated conversation with one of the invalids. (Central Press)

DESTITUTE, FAMILIES THREATEN PORCH SITDOWN

Leading for aid

Asserting they are faced with actual starvation, 50 families of Stickney, Ill., delivered a mass threat that they would gather on the front porch of Town-ship Supervisor Charles Kluck and remain there until given relief. In this photo, a few of the families are seen asking the Rev. H. C. Hoover for help.

Before Il Duce Hastened Back to Rome

Premier Benito Mussolini, left, and General Italo Balbo

Visiting Libya, Italian colony in Africa, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, left, walks with General Italo Balbo, governor of the colony between ranks of white-clad Moslems who cheer him. Mussolini returned to Rome, a day ahead of schedule, causing some conjecture. French observers intimated the setback of Italian soldiers in Spain hurried Il Duce's return trip. Italian officials, however, said there was no political significance to the early return, pointing out that winds and sandstorms in the Libyan desert prevented him from flying to inspect a distant outpost and led to his speedy return.

WINS HONORS AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

Neva Frances Harrell and her prize calves

Neva Frances Harrell, Allamore, Tex., ranch girl, wins top honors in Southwestern Livestock show at El Paso with her prize calves. (Central Press)

Jersey City Pyre for Seven

Charred wreckage is all that remains of the five-story frame building in Jersey City, N. J., where seven members of a family of eight were burned to death. The dead are Mrs. Rose Burkhardt, 54, five of her six children, ages from 9 to 17, and her brother-in-law, John Gorman, 69. All the victims were trapped on the top floor. (Central Press)

NATION'S NO. 1 SWEETHEARTS

Ethel duPont and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

The nation's No. 1 sweethearts, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the president, and his fiancée, Ethel duPont, munitions heiress, are seen at a Harvard university costume dance. The two are dressed as Bavarians. Young Roosevelt has fully recovered from his operation for sinus trouble.

Survivors of School Blast

Two lads, one a Boy Scout, who were lucky enough to escape when the tragic blast destroyed the Consolidated School at New London, Tex., and snuffed out the lives of more than four hundred children, are shown above. Their faces reflect the horror, which has settled like a pall on the little oil town. (Central Press)

First Lady Grooms a New Texan

When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, visited Austin, Tex., she dropped in for a chat with Mrs. James V. Allred, wife of the Texas Governor. She picked up newly-arrived Master Sam Houston Allred and said: "I wish he were mine." (Central Press)

Dozing At Labor Party Rally

Here's a glimpse of the audience which heard Senator Robert La Follette of Wisconsin, speak in support of President Roosevelt's proposed Federal Court changes. Hand clasped to head, one listens closely as his neighbor dozes away the time. (Central Press)

Courtship Under Handicap

Residents of the great dust bowl are preparing for a recurrence of activity, with reports of dust storms on the way. Here are a pair of lovers in Oklahoma City, Okla., courting under a decided handicap.