TODAY'S HOROSCOPE
Today gives much self-reliance and a studious nature. One whose mental vision will see things hidden from the ordinary observer. Though not much disposed to seek friends, there will be many who will be attracted by that peculiar faculty of clear vision into what appears mysterious, as well as by the magnetic qualities.

AMERICA AT WAR DAY-BY-DAY

20 Years Ago Today—Representatives of all Allied Powers convened in Paris, with Rear Admiral William S. Sims representing the U. S. in a military and naval council, as distinguished from the secret councils the statesmen held at regular intervals to divide up the spoils of the war the military men were still trying to win.

Two weeks previously the Allied Statesmen had agreed (St. Jean de Maurienne treaty) to give Italy concessions in the ports of Alexandria, Haifa and Akka, and in return for Italy's confirmation of the Franco-British agreement on the Arabian peninsula and the Red Sea as a British "zone of influence."

British Foreign Minister Balfour, on his visit to the White House, the week before, had divulged to President Wilson the details of secret treaties of the Allies relating to the Dardanelles, German colonies, etc., which post-war historians were to consider important factors in the origins of the war. (After the war, however, President Wilson denied that he knew anything about the treaties until the Versailles conference, although there was the word of Balfour, Colonel House and others to prove that he did know them.)

On this date, all the nation's banking machinery was in motion to float the two billion dollar first Liberty Loan. Bankers learned that J. P. Morgan & Company was to be replaced as financial and purchasing representatives for the Allied powers by an international war board in Washington.

Chile broke off diplomatic relations with Germany.

Blue Mold Gets Fourth Of Tobacco

acutely as Georgia growers, North Carolina planters have been pinched for enough plants to set out.

Stealing plants from beds occurs in a few instances each year, but this year one Johnston county farmer reported that night prowlers had stolen three acres of his plants which had already been set in the open field.

Shaw said that nearly three-quarters of the tobacco in the border counties has already been set out, while in my continued a primary topic of Capitol conversation. Chairman Whittington, Democrat, Mississippi, of the House Flood Control Committee, said he would ask a greater appropriation for flood control than was recommended by the budget bureau, which had $22,500,000 for work on the Mississippi river system, and $30,000,000 in an omnibus appropriation. President Roosevelt asked in his economy message flood control appropriations be kept to a minimum.

A House naval sub-committee decided today to look into the legality of the naval petroleum reserve leases made by Albert B. Fall while secretary of the interior. Fall was sent to jail in connection with the famous Teapot Dome oil scandal.

The leases on which the sub-committee voted to have the navy seek an opinion from the attorney general were concerned with lands in the Buena Vista reserves in California.

come president in 1938 under the association procedure. R. C. Llewellyn, of Mount Airy, was re-elected treasurer.

New executive committee members to serve old numbered districts included Jesse E. Ross, of Washington, and J. E. Burroughs, of Goldsboro.

Millard Jones, of Rocky Mount, was made North Carolina's member of the nominating committee for the American Bankers Association convention to be held at Boston.

Other national representatives named included W. A. Hunt, of Henderson, alternate member of the nominating committee; T. R. Thigpen, of Mount Olive, vice-president of the savings division; Ivy Watson, of Enfield, vice-president of the State bank division, and William Shaw, of Rocky Mount, vice-president of the trust division.

President Kerr told the convention before the election that liquidity of the nation's banks, due to government fiscal policies and what he termed the administration's "reflation" program were potential menaces to the country's economic situation.

Strawberry Crop Worth $1,500,000

675,000 crates of strawberries this year, 150,000 more than last year's shipments. There are 24 quarts to the crate.

"In a concentrated area in the strawberry belt, growers are using the Department of Agriculture's improved packing methods which are yielding them between 25 and 35 per cent more money per crate." Etheridge
