

HARRIET NINE TO MEET THREE FOES

Franklinton Here Saturday Only Home Game; Norlina Thursday

The Harriet Cotton Mill nine will play three games during the week, according to their schedule.

The nine will go to Norlina Thursday afternoon for a contest, meet Franklinton here Saturday afternoon at League Park, and then journey to Durham to meet Dub's nine Sunday.

The mill nine turns out a fine brand of baseball, and interest is continually rising among fans.

Bulldog Harris, Blake and Inscoc are regular hurlers for the team, and Hendricks, of Middleburg, will probably be given a chance to work in one of the contests this week.

Simon Kelly handles part of the catching duties.

ONE SURE WAY TO LICK RISING COSTS

Business men are becoming more exacting in truck purchases because operating costs in all departments of business are rapidly mounting. To pre-measure a truck's operating expenses is now good judgment and often avoids unnecessary losses. GMC, priced low at the outset, designed and built for long life at low cost upkeep, and famous for gas and oil economy, fits the careful business budget. We publish these facts because thousands of owners have proved them in every kind of haulage service. Another reason for GMC savings is that GMC's are fitted right to every trucking operation before they are delivered. The "GMC Truck Selector" assures that—and GMC's complete line of 1/2 to 12 tons make available the unit prescribed for your service. GMC prices are now crowding the lowest!

ENGLAND'S QUEENS

There were wars but they affected the people little. In 1854-6 we helped the Turks against the Russians in the Crimea. In 1857-8 we were members chiefly in the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, and Florence Nightingale who tended our grievously wounded soldiers.

The Mutiny of native soldiers in India (1857) brought peril to English men, women and children residing in Lucknow and other towns. In 1877 Victoria became Empress of India. Famous soldiers, Wolseley, Roberts, Kitchener, led armies in later wars overseas.

Victoria

Although Disraeli had preached imperialism, the Victorians were not Empire proud as we are today. Joseph Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary (1895-1903), saw that the future of Britain was bound up with the development of the Empire. He caused the people to learn to think imperially; he urged tariff reform, with a tax on foreign wheat, which was at last adopted in 1932. COPYRIGHT, 1937, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, Inc. Mexico

War in South Africa clouded Victoria's last years. The Boer farmers (of Dutch descent) for a time humbled Britain. Before peace was signed, the Queen died of a stroke (Feb. 2, 1901) on January 22, 1901. To many people her death seemed like the end of the world.

WAREHOUSEMEN FOR PROPOSED 1937 AAA

Eastern Carolina Group Asks Opening Same Time As Border Belt

Greenville, June 16.—(AP)—About 125 eastern Carolina warehousemen gathered here today to hear speeches, select officers and go on record as favoring the proposed 1937 AAA.

Meeting for the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's association's annual session, the delegates voted to request the United States Tobacco association to have the eastern tobacco markets open simultaneously with the border belt markets.

Speakers included J. E. Winslow, president of the State Farm Bureau federation; J. Con Lanier, former tobacco expert with the old AAA; E. F. Arnold, State Farm bureau executive secretary, and Adrian J. Newton, counsel for the state unemployment compensation commission.

Winslow explained the aims of the new AAA, saying every farmer's group in the country had endorsed it. The proposed act, he said, would obtain parity prices and an ever-normal granary. He mentioned the soil conservation program and its benefits to the growers in crop diversion. The new AAA he said, would protect the consumers.

Lanier said state compacts as a means of controlling production were "out," adding farmers would have to look for some other means and federal legislation.

Since the problem was sectional, he said, there would not be much inclination for congressional aid. He called on the warehousemen to continue to support the farmers and praised them for that which they had given.

Ernest V. Webb, of Kinston, was elected to succeed B. E. Stigg, of Greenville, as president, and J. J. Gibbons, of Wilson, was made vice president.

RAPIDS GOLFERS COME WEDNESDAY

The next inter-city golf foe for West End Country Club golfers will be Roanoke Rapids, the team coming here Wednesday, June 23 for a match with the local club.

Inter-city play was interrupted this week by the annual championship tournament being played over the local course this week.

Selections In Judiciary Are Finished

Judge in the new twenty-first judicial district was announced this morning, also the appointment of Earle McMichael, of Winston-Salem, as the new solicitor in the eleventh judicial district, to succeed Allen H. Gwyn, of Reidsville, who automatically becomes solicitor in the new twenty-first district, since Rockingham county is in the new district.

The appointment of Luther Hamilton, of Morehead City, as a special judge was also announced this morning, as well as the reappointment as special judges of Judges G. Vernon Cowper, of Kinston, Frank S. Hill, of Murphy, and Sam J. Ervin, Jr., of Morganton. Within the last few weeks Governor Hoy appointed two other special judges, namely Hubert Olive, of Lexington, and W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Woodland, Northampton county. The naming of Hamilton today as an additional special judge brings the total number of special judges to six, the limit under the law.

The appointment of the two additional Supreme Court justices authorized by the people and by the 1937 General Assembly was announced Tuesday by Governor Hoy. They are J. Wallace Winborne, of Marion, and Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount. Walter J. Eone, of Nashville, law partner of Congressman Harold L. Cooley, was appointed superior court judge in the second judicial district to succeed Judge Barnhill. Governor Hoy also announced the election of Major R. Gregg Cherry, of Gastonia, as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, to succeed Winborne, who has been chairman of the committee for more than five years, having served throughout the Ehrringhaus administration and then having been re-elected for another term last summer.

These appointments now give the State the largest judicial division it has ever had, as follows: Seven Supreme Court justices. Twenty-one superior court judges. Six special judges. Three emergency judges. Twenty-one solicitors.

Each of the seven Supreme Court justices receives a salary of $8,000 a year, while each of the 21 superior court judges and six special judges receive a salary of $8,050 a year, including traveling expenses. The three emergency judges, who are retired superior court judges, receive three-fourths of their original salaries, or something over $5,000 a year, and are available for the holding of special terms of court whenever they may be needed.

The appointments and reappointments of the special judges are for two years, and will expire June 30, 1939. The appointments of the two new Supreme Court justices and of the two superior court judges are until the next regular election. The act authorizing the appointment of six special judges specified that three must be from the east and three from the west. Former Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus appointed only three judges under this act.

Governor Hoy announced that from a survey he had made of the various counties of the State and the condition of the court calendars in them, that he was convinced there was need for all six of the special judges. He indicated that he wanted these judges so that the criminal dockets can be cleared as quickly as possible and the civil dockets relieved of their present congestion and the administration of justice thus speeded up all over the State.

Highway Board To Name Two Chiefs

set-up has not yet been appointed. But it is known that quite a number of the members of the commission feel that it should not delay any longer in naming these two very important division heads, especially since everything seems to point to the re-appointment of both Baise and Pitts.

There are indications, however, that Chairman Frank Dunlap, of the commission, wants to wait a while longer before making any move about the prison division and feels that nothing should be done until he and the committee he has been authorized to appoint have had a chance to make a survey of the prison division and reach some conclusions concerning it.

In the meantime, however, those in close touch with both the engineering and prison divisions feel that the morale is suffering in both divisions and that the commission should act as quickly as possible in naming the chief engineer and director of the prison division in order to quiet the restlessness which now exists in the personnel of both divisions.

the United States is because most newspaper readers were concerned with the even bigger eclipse of the Philadelphia Athletics.
