Miss Gooch Joins
Dispatch's Staff

Effective today, Miss Page Gooch becomes a member of the editorial staff of the Daily Dispatch. She succeeds Miss Evelyn Garrett, who on next Saturday will be married and will move from Henderson to Winston-Salem to make her home.
Miss Gooch has already started her duties.

Miss Garrett's departure is greatly regretted in the office, where she has been capable and efficient, and has done a good job during her two years with the Dispatch.

Miss Gooch is a graduate of Henderson high school and of Duke University. For some time she has been in the Rose offices here, and comes to her newspaper work with an enthusiasm for it and with a fitness it is believed will cause her to be of great service to the public of the community. Meantime, the same cooperation which has hitherto been given is requested for Miss Gooch. All items about parties, societies, clubs and individual visitations will be welcome for publication. Please telephone No.

Pollyanna Poems

I wish I could walk up the wall Just like the little fly; No matter how high up he gets He never seems to fall.
Now upside down he skims along Across the ceiling high.
But if I WAS a fly, I 'spose They'd swat me and I'd die.

Weiner Roast for Miss Garrett and Relve E. Rhodes

Miss Clara Fenner, Miss Sadie B.
Parham, Miss Ann Stevenson, and Mrs. Walter H. Stone gave a weiner roast Saturday evening at South Lake Lodge, complimentary to Miss Evelyn Garrett and R. E. Rhodes, of Winston-Salem, who will be married Saturday morning at Holy Innocents Episcopal church.

About twenty guests attended.

To Winston-Salem

Miss Charlotte Wester went to Winston-Salem Sunday to visit friends for a week.

Here from Winston-Salem

Mrs. A. J. Strum, former Miss Iowna Daniel, and little daughter, of Winston-Salem, are guests of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Dennis, and other relatives in the city. Mr. Strum, who accompanied them here Sunday, returned that night.

Treasurer Johnson Gains Draw in Governor's Race division of the State government. For with its more than 10,000 paid employees in every county in the State and its 15,000 to 17,000 prisoners—for even prisoners have political influence with their families and relatives and they are released to go back home—the highway department is credited with being able to swing and deliver not less than 50,000 votes for whatever candidate the chairman and the commission happen to be for. The opponents of every administration charge that this is the case and most of the administration leaders privately agree that it is the case. As a result, any prospective candidate for governor wants to "stand in" with the highway commission, since 50,000 votes are not to be sneezed at in any election.

Johnson Vs. Pou

While there is nothing to indicate that either Broughton or Smith have been making any effort to get the support of the new highway commission as yet, there are definite indications that a very strong under-cover contest has been going on between Johnson and Pou for preferred position with the highway body. It is recalled that back during the 1937 General Assembly, Pou is regarded as having tried to get the highway law amended so that he would be an ex-officio member of the new highway commission, while he is also credited with having tried to exert a good deal of influence in the selection of new director for the prison division—a position he held back in 1933 after the prison system was consolidated with the highway department, ending his former job as superintendent of the State Prison. It is generally known, of course, that Pou has been in sympathy with the group, composed largely of former State Prison employees, who have been bitterly opposing Oscar Pitts as acting director of the prison division, who is now assured of staying on as chief assistant to Robert Grady Johnson, probably as superintendent of prisons.

Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9371
Just the captivating little frock for the budget-minded girl who makes her own clothes, is Pattern 9371! You, too, can add this exciting little sports and runabout frock to your already s-art wardrobe at a very low cost, and have lots of fun, besides, stitching the gay pieces that go together so easily. This model with its frivolous puffed sleeves, fluttering pointed collar and militant little buttons running down the front, and buttoning up the back, is a joy to behold! The simplicity of the skirt with its eight gores will do much to enhance the figure of any "ten or eighteen!" Make it up in sturdy shantung, linen, or dotted swiss for mid-season wear. Going back to school this Fall? Then make it of jersey or sheer wool. Complete diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart Treasurer Johnson is regarded as sitting pretty tight now, as a result of beating the other candidates for governor and prison departments. The only trouble is whether he can hold on to this advantage for three more years.

Would Have Made Many Jobs
The construction of this new dam across the Yadkin river would have done more to hasten recovery and end unemployment in the counties in this area than anything that has been proposed in several years, and the merchants and business men were already feeling the results of better conditions as the engineers and workmen were already starting to come in to go to work," a resident of Stanly county who was here today, pointed out. "Several of these engineers had already traded for new cars, had rented houses and were preparing to set up construction camps. Now that
