SENATOR BURKE OUT FOR GARNER AS MAN TO ELECT IN 1940

Vice-President Has Lot of Things Country Needs, Nebraskan's Statement Says

FIGHT THIRD TERM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Even Favors Constitutional Amendment Limiting Office to One Term of Six Years; Thinks Roosevelt Does Not Want To Hold Office Another Term

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, named Vice-President Garner today as his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940.

One of the leaders of the Senate fight against President Roosevelt's amendment limiting the President's term to a single period of six years, Burke pledged "full support" for a Senate resolution to express opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt.

Burke pledged "full support" for a Senate resolution to express opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt. Senator E. C. Democrat, West Virginia, has announced he would submit such a resolution at the next session of Congress.

"I am going even farther," Burke said, "and work for a constitutional amendment limiting the President's term to a single period of six years."

He added, however, he did not believe President Roosevelt desired a third term.

The Nebraskan said he favored a solution against a third term to counteract forces that might seek to induce the President to run again, despite his personal inclination.

Burke declared Garner had "a lot of things the country needs, and which would make him a worthy successor to President Roosevelt."

Meantime, housewives who have been howling about the high cost of meat had the word of government experts in Washington that prices had reached a peak and declines would follow shortly.

Charts on retail meat prices at the Bureau of Agriculture Economics showed they had touched seven-year highs recently—especially for tender, juicy steaks and savory pork chops.

State Ready To Operate Largest Transportation Services—School Buses

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, Sept. 4.—By the middle of this month the State of North Carolina will again be operating the world's largest school transportation system.

For by that time all the State's schools will be open and school buses will daily be carrying approximately 300,000 children over a total of 128,000 miles.

To accomplish this, there will be approximately 4,200 school buses in use, an increase of about 100 over last year. Of these, 800 will be new buses, 50 of them of all-steel construction, 700 purchased by the State to replace vehicles worn out in service, the other hundred bought by the counties to care for the increased child-load.

In direct charge of this tremendous system is C. C. Brown, transportation engineer of the State School Commission.

Last year the State did this tremendous transportation job at the cost of six lives, four of them in one accident. In no case of death or injury was the driver of the bus found at fault, and in the quadruple tragedy the driver of the other vehicle was convicted and put behind prison bars.

This year school commission authorities are taking unusual pains to see that bus drivers are competent. Heretofore, it has been necessary only for the driver to have a license to operate a motor vehicle. This year every prospective bus driver will be examined specially by a highway patrolman and will not be permitted to operate a school bus unless he passes.

In direct charge of this tremendous system is C. C. Brown, transportation engineer of the State School Commission.

Says Soviets Will Make "Fascist Bandits Pay Dearly" for Sinking of Russian Steamer; Italy Demands Recognition of Franco's Insurgents

London, Sept. 4 (AP)—The British Admiralty today drew up secret plans for presentation at a Mediterranean conference to drive "mystery submarines" from the sea that is Britain's "lifeline of empire."

Important proposals will be made, the British government announced, when the Mediterranean powers gather next week in Geneva to discuss the grave undersea threat to European peace precipitated by submarine attacks on international shipping.

As Europe's chancelleries pored over plans for the hurriedly summoned meeting, these developments added new elements to the situation:

1. Official Russian newspapers accused Italy of piracy in the Mediterranean, and said the Soviets would make "Fascist bandits pay dearly" for the sinking of a Russian vessel off Algiers Monday.

2. Diplomats reported the Spanish government, as well as insurgent General Francisco Franco would be excluded from the conference.

3. Italy's price for cooperation was reported to be British recognition of insurgent belligerent rights.

4. Spanish insurgents denied responsibility for a submarine attack on foreign shipping.

As four more British destroyers sped to the western Mediterranean with orders to sink or capture the pirate submarines, one report said Great Britain contemplated proposing registration and strict surveillance of all submarines of powers bordering the Mediterranean.

M'NINCH HAS BIG JOB IN NEW DEAL

His One-Time "Liberal" Enemies Now Among Strongest Supporters

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist. Washington, Sept. 4.—The case of Frank E. McNinch, recently appointed chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, to liberalize and, in effect, "clean out" what has proved to be an unsatisfactory body, is a peculiar one.

Commissioner McNinch is, in reality, transferred from the Federal Power Commission, of which he was chairman, to his new post. He did such a good job at keeping the power commission "up to snuff" that it is assumed he can do equally well as chairman of the communications commission. No doubt he can.

Let us glance at his record. In Hoover Days. Early in President Hoover's administration the Federal Power Commission was not what it is now. It consisted of the secretaries of McGrady, asked whether he was leaving his post for a private position soon, replied: "Not yet. I'm still a soldier and under orders from my commander-in-chief."

LEACH TO DEMAND HEARING ALLOWED

Says Animosity Toward Him Came as Result of His Open Criticism of Federal Investigators; Ready To Tell Full Story if Any One Listens

Indianapolis, Sept. 4 (AP)—Mack Leach, discharged today as captain of State police, issued a statement in which he demanded a congressional investigation of the "method and motive of Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Leach charged the Department of Justice with failure to cooperate with the State police and said "the attitude of the Department of Justice now becomes definite antagonism."

Donald Stiver, superintendent of State police, said formal charges would be filed against Leach later, one of which he said would be failure to cooperate with Federal agents.

Leach, in charge of State police since 1933, during which numerous attempts to capture John Dillinger, notorious desperado, now dead, were made, had refused to resign at the request of the State police board.

Leach said he would demand a hearing as provided by the state police law. He said a part of the criticism directed at him by the Department of Justice came because he "openly criticized"

German Has Hair Escape At Air Race

Machine Splintered, He Returns for More in Cleveland's Big Event

Cleveland, Sept. 4.—(AP)—By all the ramifying rules of gravity, Count Otto Hagenburg of Germany, a nervous gentleman who does tricks with airplanes, had no right today to be around begging for a machine to take aloft.

The count crashed late yesterday. It was one of those rare accidents when the packed stands at the national air races turned its collective head away and closed its ears to the shrieks of the ambulance, certain that death has called off its holiday. But the dust had not settled around his ship when he crawled out and waved to the crowd. They had to carry his machine away in a basket.

Billed as a death-defying acrobatic flier, the man who won the trick flying contest in the international meet at Zurich, Switzerland, last July had just finished a half loop and was swooping down completed inverted when he struck.

A half hour later, his head swathed in bandage, he returned from the field hospital at the municipal airport to beg Alexander Papanas, of the Roumanian royal air force, for the loan of his ship.

"I'm on the program Saturday," he exclaimed.
