Sorosis Club Met With Misses Gary

The first meeting of the Sorosis club for the fall, was held September sixteenth with Misses Mary Belle and Cornelia Gary as hostesses.

The members and visitors were greeted at the door by the hostesses and their mother, Mrs. Gary. Miss Frances Thomas, of Washington, D. C., a friend of the family, presided at the punch bowl in the sun parlor.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Miss Mary Belle Gary. Old and new business was dispensed with. The program was opened with the usual custom of singing the club song which was written by Mrs. W. H. Fleming. Miss Gary followed this with her greeting to the club, which was done in a very pleasing manner. The subject for the afternoon was introduced "Why Study Community Life." Mrs. W. H. Fleming had prepared an original paper on this, which was well read by Mrs. E. G. Flannagan. "America the Beautiful" was sung by the club just before Mrs. P. H. Rose gave her paper, "Constitution Day, September 17th," which was interesting.

The club this year has planned a book exchange. Mrs. Sam Harris reported on the plan for this. Mrs. Alvin Fountain, of Raleigh, delighted the club with her attendance at the first meeting of the fall.

The guests were invited into the dining room, and served a delightful ice course, with nuts, mints, and cakes. The guests for the afternoon were: Miss Agnes Moore, Mrs. Charles Stainback, Mrs. J. A. Salter, of Raleigh, Miss Frances Thomas, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Walton, of Louisiana. Members present were: Mesdames W. M. Burwell, T. H. Crowder, E. G. Flannagan, J. C. Gardner, S. R. Harris, Jr., I. H. Hoyle, L. C. Kerner, J. F. Mills, E. M. Rollins, A. S. Watkins, P. H. Rose, and the hostesses, the Misses Gary.

The club will hold its next meeting September 30th with Mrs. Burwell and Mrs. Harris as hostesses.

Committees Are Named By Junior High P.-T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Junior high school met Wednesday afternoon at the Junior high school. The president, Mrs. D. D. Hocutt, called the meeting to order, after which the association joined in silent prayer. Mrs. J. Franklin Mills led the devotionals, the topic of which was "The First Christian Home," taken from Luke II. She beautifully portrayed the life of Christ in his home. "America" was sung by the group.

Miss Beulah Thomas read the by-laws of the National Constitution, A committee, consisting of Mrs. L. D. Wall, Mrs. A. B. Wester, and Miss Beulah Thomas, was appointed to draw up by-laws for the local constitution. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, and the treasurer gave her report.

The president spoke a few words of welcome, and the vice-president, Mr. Hoover responded. The objective for the coming year is to sponsor a series of talks on social hygiene for boys and girls. Study groups were formed with this in view. Study to keep abreast of the times was stressed by the president.

A report and explanation of the Institute at Chapel Hill was given by Mrs. Wall. She called attention to the institute and Parent-Teachers are planning to have here the last of this month. Mrs. Walter Alston was chosen as a delegate to represent the Junior high school at the city council. Mrs. S. E. Jeanette was chosen as alternate.

Mrs. Hocutt very ably gave a report of the National convention in Richmond, Va. A resume of the entire meeting was taken up with emphasis on the outstanding speakers at the convention. There will be a district meeting in Durham on October 14. Miss Lucy Kittrell's and Miss Beulah men would have been expressly qualified for jury service, but the measure was withdrawn when doubts of its validity under the North Carolina Constitution were raised. Again in 1931, he said, there was another abortive effort in the same direction.

First Club Meeting by Junior Women

The Junior Woman's Club met on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the American Legion hut, with Mesdames E. A. Latta, Robert Tanner, W. K. Phillips, Jr., and William Bryan as hostesses.

Miss Betsy Rose Jones, the new president, called the meeting to order and greeted the club for its new year. The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the preceding meeting. Mrs. Frank Edington and Mrs. Stallings were welcomed as new members. The treasurer was instructed to send $15.00 to the Recreational Council for the Girl Scout camp.

Miss Janie Wortham gave a report of the dance committee. The club decided to give its fall dance on September 28, having Tal Henry and his orchestra to play for it.

The president introduced Mrs. J. T. Alderman, who talked on Parliamentary law. She briefly told the importance of a knowledge of Parliamentary law, and enumerated its fundamental principles. She pointed out that the proper order for a meeting should be clearly understood, then explained some of the common mistakes made.

Mrs. Tanner, the chairman of the program committee, distributed this year's programs, after which Mrs. Waddill Gholson, Jr., read an account of the National Convention, as told by Miss Nancy Cox, of Raleigh. At the conclusion of the meeting the hostesses served a delightful ice course.

qualified to vote ever since final ratification of the 19th (women's suffrage) amendment to the Federal Constitution, no court decision has been had in this clarifying their status as prospective jurors. In all the years no woman defendant's attorney has ever raised the point of systematic exclusion of women from juries. It was a similar point, relating to Negro jurors, which brought reversal of the famous Scottsboro case convictions.

As early as 1925, Mr. Seawell said, a bill was introduced in the North Carolina legislature under which wo-

Honor Miss Boyd At Bridge Party

Mrs. George A. Harris and Mrs. W. M. Coffin entertained at bridge Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Coffin's home on Granite street, honoring Miss Virginia Boyd, whose marriage to Franklin Way will take place tomorrow afternoon at Holy Innocent's Episcopal church. Late summer flowers were arranged throughout the house.

Following several progressions of bridge, the hostesses presented the honoree a gift of crystal goblets. The high score prize, won by Miss Clyde Hunter, the low score prize, won by Miss Alice Boyd, and the floating prize won by Miss Sadie Boyd, were all pieces of crystal in the same pattern as the goblets. The winners presented their prizes to Miss Boyd.

A salad course, followed by an ice course, was served to the following players: Miss Virginia Boyd, honoree; Mrs. Charlie White, of Drewry; Mrs. Fuller McDuffie, of Florence, S. C.; Misses Sadie Boyd, Alice Boyd, Helen Royster, Janie Wortham, and Clyde Hunter. Mrs. George A. Harris, Mrs. Jasper B. Hicks, Miss Sue Hunt Boyd, and Miss Susie Alston came in for refreshments.

Pollyanna Poems

A grasshopper sat on a blade of grass
And blinked a bulging eye;
"There's just one thing I'd like to know,"
Said he, "before I die—
How many blooming miles I've hopped,
For I've leaped both long and high;
The amount of exercise I've had,"
Sighed he, "most makes me cry!"

TRAVELER.

You have come back from traveling:
The blue of sea is in your eyes,
And strange the winds' unraveling
Of mysteries for your surprise.
You have come back, and I, who know
The last outpost, there to bring
New worlds that spread both far and Sweet.

Beyond your heart's imagining,
From all of these that now you prize
You have come back, and I, who know
Each lineament, can't recognize
The boy that turned away to go.
