

NOW IS TIME TO MODERNIZE

New Furniture and Furnishings In Keeping With National Program

With the remodeling plans in the air and the remodeled house on the federal building lawn getting its spring paint conscientious homemakers are thinking of redecorating in terms of their own houses, new furniture and furnishings are in keeping with the national modernization program.

Now is the time to take advantage of the present low prices of furniture and decorating for the pressure of higher prices already is being felt and signs point to a higher market in the near future.

Modern Designs Pleasing.

There need be no hesitancy about doing over the house in the modern manner. Furniture styles never have been lovelier. Modern designs now have their own definite style, pleasing in line and color and adapted to modern living.

Many homes have been allowed to run down in the last few years. This is the best time to put them in repair and buy the new furniture you have been hoping to add for so long. Include a desk for the guest room, a lounge chair for your own room, a new table for the living room, a wing chair, or a corner cupboard for the dining room.

New Kitchen Equipment.

Remember the new equipment you have been wanting to add to the kitchen. Many new devices for making housekeeping both a science and a pleasure have been put on the market in the last few years. Now is the time to equip your home with such things. And don't neglect the bathroom in this modernizing process. There are all sorts of new gadgets on the market to glorify the bath and urge you to do some clever redecorating there.

SMALL ROOMS SHOULD HAVE SMALL DESIGNS

Generally speaking, the smaller the room, the smaller and less pronounced should be the figure or design on wall paper, carpet and draperies. Avoid, if possible, hanging pictures on figured walls. Use them only in case of actual decorative necessity.

Lighter colors, and slender, tapering proportions, are more appropriate for the small room. High ceilings demand tall cabinets, highback chairs, and the like; low ceilings, of course, the opposite.

SALESMAN

H. M. POLSTON.

Mr. Polston has been a resident of Henderson for many years, and has been connected with the furniture business and banking business of this city.

Mr. Polston has a host of friends in the business and residential sections of the city and extends a cordial invitation to all his friends to visit him in his new connection.

A well known furniture man and widely experienced in the furniture needs of the people of Henderson and Vance county, Mr. Polston says: "We will be better equipped to furnish the home than any store in this vicinity, and will appreciate the privilege of showing this beautiful and well balanced stock whenever we are given the opportunity."

Does Your Dining Room Setting Make Guests Spirited Or Bored?

It is surprising how sensitive most people are to their environment. Place them in a large room with paneled walls, heavy draperies, somber decorations and a deep carpet that deadens sound ... and pretty soon they'll be conversing in whispers and acting as though attending a wake. Move the same group to cheerful, colorful surroundings and they'll be totally different people.

There's a hint for the hostess who wants to be known for her gay, amusing dinner parties. Does your dining room encourage hilarity or give guests a feeling of restraint? Is the "atmosphere" indefinable as that may be imbued with good cheer or a thread of boredom?

It's all a matter of simple psychology ... just like living up to one's clothes. Any woman knows that a "daddy" hat will change her entire disposition ... and a man who skips his shave some morning is quite apt to feel out of sorts all day.

DESK BEAUTIFUL AND USEFUL TOO

Secretaries Still in Demand —Flat Tops Are Very Smart

The writing desk at home where dad does his figuring, mother makes out her marketing lists and every one writes letters should be as beautiful as it is useful.

Some of the latest designs in writing desks are very smart. Made in walnut, mahogany and oak, sturdy flat-topped desks, smaller than the average office size, look very chic and businesslike in the study.

Sharp Lines Fascinating.

The sharp lines of these low desks are fascinating and harmonize with modern designs of the latest living room pieces if you have no separate study. The low height permits the hanging of prints on the wall above and the flat top makes a table in itself which holds such useful ornaments as desk sets, a few books, ash trays or the telephone. Low, smart looking chairs go well with these new designs.

Secretaries, the high ones, have long been popular and are still in great demand. Their lines are graceful and they are made in finishes that fit into almost any living room arrangement.

DO YOUR ROOMS MEET DEMANDS OF FOUR POINTS?

There are four viewpoints from which to judge your room: (1) Line: you don't want a graceful curved chair beside a straight, angular table. (2) Color: check the floor covering, wallpaper, pictures, draperies and accessories, as well as the upholstered furniture. (3) Finish: this means the exposed wood surfaces of the furniture. (4) Proportion: you don't want a massive table beside a small, dainty chair. If there's something out of line on any of the four counts, put it at the top of your list of furnishings to be replaced as soon as possible.

COLOR LEADERS

The report of the National Upholstery and Drapery Textile Associations shows green decreasing but still leading in upholstery colors, with blue and gold increasing. Gray also is increasing as against white and off-white, which are falling off. Tans, beige and mauve are rising while the deeper browns decline.
