Today's native will be compassionate and passionate. The mind may be given to gratification of the senses, or the pushing of a selfish idea; possibly to the degree that will render them finally delusive. There seems to be some ambition for position and wealth, perhaps mainly for selfish reasons, and yet there is a good heart underneath.

Saturday, Dec. 4 Remember: Only two more Saturdays before Christmas. Mercury and Moon in conjunction. Zodiac sign, Sagittarius.

ONCE UPON Dec. 4TH
Exactly 150 years ago today, Rufus Putnam's party of 24 New England farmers and artisans left Ipswich, Conn., to push their way over the Alleghenies to the new frontier, the Valley of the Ohio.

In April they were to reach the junction of the Ohio and the Muskingum rivers, and to establish the first permanent settlement in the Northwest territory. They named it Marietta, in honor of Queen Marie Antoinette of France.

Today, in a reenactment of that historic journey, make-believe pioneers are to start from Ipswich and retrace the trail of Putnam's brave band.

1918—President Wilson sailed for Europe to attend the so-called peace conference at Versailles, on the third anniversary of the departure of the Henry Ford peace mission to Europe. 1936—Premier Stanley Baldwin sealed Edward VIII's fate by announcing that the king could not legally contract a morganatic marriage.

What Do You Know About North Carolina?

By FRED H. MAY

1. Which of the county offices was the first to be filled by popular vote?
2. What leader for Vance for Governor in 1862 defeated him for the U. S. Senate in 1872?
3. What was a leading opinion about public schools in 1829?
4. Have offices ever been forced on persons in North Carolina by law?
5. Name the eastern counties that voted for the prohibition convention in 1932?
6. What recognition did the legislature of 1921 give Woodrow Wilson?

1. The office of sheriff since 1829 has been filled by popular vote. The constitution of North Carolina provides that the sheriff's term shall be two years. The office is practically independent of the county commissioners. It is more under the control of the superior court judge who may remove the sheriff for cause. The coroner is the only county officer who has authority to arrest a sheriff.

2. Augustus S. Merrimen, who served one six-year term, which ended in 1879. He was not a candidate to succeed himself and Vance was elected.

3. One writer who published an open letter to the legislature said that it was doubtful if schools were "productive of much real benefit. Would it not redound as much to the advantage of young persons, and to the honor of the State, if they should pass their days in the cotton patch, or at the plow, or in the cornfield, instead of being mewed up in a school house, where they are earning nothing."

4. During colonial days constables and some others were appointed or elected to office without their consent. Heavy fines were provided to be levied against those refusing to serve. In some cases constables have been jailed for refusing to serve.

5. Beaufort, Craven, Currituck, Halifax, Martin, New Hanover, Onslow, Pasquotank, Pitt and Wilson.

6. Upon his retirement from the presidency at the end of his second term the North Carolina legislature adopted a joint resolution, expressing the appreciation and thanks of the State for his "unselfish devotion to the principles of right and justice," and wishing him health and happiness.

eventually passed in western countries to Christmas.
The roly-poly Santa Claus, the reindeer legend, the ornamented Christmas tree and most of the other Christmas customs and trappings popular in this country came to us with German settlers, at a time when Puritans from England regarded Christmas cheer as sinful! Observance of Christmas was forbidden at one time in New England.

AMERICA AT WAR DAY-BY-DAY
20 Years Ago Today—Congress was in session, beginning the longest sitting—354 days—in its history. President Wilson's message was a restatement of war aims which did not jibe with secret agreements the Allies had made concerning what they would do if they won the war. He knew of the agreements but wasn't sharing his knowledge with the people who were fighting and paying for the war.
Next day, the president advised that war be declared on Austria-Hungary. Same day, Gen. Dukhonin, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies when the Reds came in power, was killed by being thrown from a train.

OTHERS VIEWS DENIES RUMORS

To The Editor:
Will you be so kind as to allow me space in your paper to correct certain false rumors that have been circulated to damage my character and standing as a minister?

Reports have come to me in the last few weeks concerning rumors going the rounds in Vance, Warren and Franklin counties that I was recently arrested, tried and jailed in Henderson on charges of mis-conduct unbecoming to a minister. I deny these rumors and brand them as false and untrue, and ask the good people in the communities where I preach to believe me when I say that I am innocent of any wrong doing, and that I have never been arrested, tried nor jailed in Henderson or any other place in my whole life. I invite those who are circulating these rumors against me and all others who may be interested to inquire of the clerk of the court, any judge, sheriff or officer of the law in Vance county if I have ever been arrested, charged or tried for anything in Vance county. I beg you to ask them and find out for yourself that my record is clean and that I am telling you the whole truth.

1937 Boom In Building Over State

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Dec. 7.—North Carolina has enjoyed a substantial building boom for the first ten months of this year. Figures in the Department of Labor show that through October 31 building operations of all types in 21 cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants increased more than one-fourth over the corresponding period of 1936.
And in the matter of new residential construction the increase was even more substantial, reaching slightly more than one-third.
For alterations and repairs the increase in expenditures was greater still, reaching 36 per cent.
In the matter of projects undertaken only residential construction showed an increase, as business construction and repairs projects totalled substantially less than in the first ten months of 1936.

Residential projects through October 31, 1937, totalled 1,548, costing $7,031,354 against 1,579 projects to cost $5,253,242 in the corresponding period of 1936.

The 3,339 repair and alteration projects in the first ten months of this year called for the expenditure of $3,349,241, against $2,462,790 spent on 3,917 projects for the first ten months of 1936.

The grand total cost of this year's first ten-month building of all sorts was $14,636,837 or 5.866 projects compared with $11,626,478 spent on 6,402 projects between January 1 and October 31, 1936.
Figures for November of this year are unavailable yet, but are expected to compare favorably with those of the penultimate month of 1936.

21 Armories Are Built for State

sign with the exception of the one at Durham.
The armories are, of course, primarily designed to quarter local units of the National Guard, but they have been so constructed as to lend themselves to a variety of uses.
In their construction a total of $677,000 was spent by the Works Progress Administration and $229,000 by local governmental bodies, making the entire cost $906,000.
Construction provided work opportunities for the needy unemployed.
They are owned by the various cities or by a combination of city and county, and so they will be available for civic and social affairs of all sorts, as well as for housing and drilling units of the North Carolina National Guard.
Dancing and assembling feet will be heard in them just about as often as will marching feet of soldiers.
Warning to all young bridegrooms: Make certain now that your bride will not, in the future, wonder whether 'he name "spouse" shouldn't be correctly pronounced "sooze."
