Middleburg Whips Parkton, 35 to 29

Middleburg overcame a big obstacle in its path to the title of the county high school tournament for Eastern North Carolina being run off in Frank Thompson gymnasium at State College Raleigh, at noon today when the girls turned back Parkton 35 to 29.

Captain Doris Jackson, Middleburg's outstanding forward, came into her own, shooting 20 points for the winners, while Miss Hendricks was getting 11 and Margaret Elincton, higher scorer against Whiteville yesterday with 33 points, had to content herself with four tallies for the contest.

This victory puts Middleburg against Green Hope tonight at 8 o'clock.

Miss Inez Cannady, stellar Parkton forward, accounted for 20 of her team's points.

The work of Middleburg's guards was all that could be asked for as they turned in another sterling performance.

Tonight's foe holds a regular season verdict over Middleburg but the lassies from the county school feel they are capable of turning the tables, and are gunning for a victory.

Will Appear Here

CAROLYN URBANEK

Lyric Soprano to Give Recital Here

Carolyn Urbanek, young American lyric soprano who appears here next Wednesday at 8:30 o'clock, at the high school auditorium, being sponsored by the Henderson Cooperative Concert Association, was born in Boston of Polish parentage and was brought up in Lowell, Massachusetts. One of the youngest pupils of Marcella Sembrich, the girl also studied at the Institute of Musical Art in New York under Madeleine Walther, from where she was graduated in 1933 with the highest honors in her class.

The faith such vocal authorities as Mrs. Sembrich and Frank Damrosch have had in Carolyn Urbanek has been more than justified by the success which has marked the first important steps of the soprano's singing career.

Miss Urbanek was reviewed most favorably in Boston. Various periodicals spoke of her as "a young musician of much promise with a natural interpretative sense," one whose voice "has sweetness, purity, and range," "a voice of natural excellence and beauty." Another says, "Her tones had not only brilliance, but warmth."

The Kind of INDEPENDENCE

Henry W. Grady talked about years ago and which we quote below is just as true today as it was when he spoke it. The only change we would make is that of adding the tobacco farmer:

"WHEN every farmer in the south shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures and disturbed by no creditors and enslaved by no debt, shall sit amid his teeming gardens, and orchards, and vineyards, and dairies, and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus, and selling it in his own time and in his chosen market, and not at a master's bidding, getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt but does not restore his freedom—then shall be breaking the fullness of our day."
