

BILLIARD CHAMP IN GREAT EXHIBITION

Andrew Fonzi, former world's champion billiard player, played an exhibition match here last night at Center Sport Shop with Charles Trado, local cue artist, before a packed house. It was 125 point game, with the former champion winning, although Trado turned in a fine performance. Fonzi's highest run was 43. Following the match, Fonzi demonstrated his trick shots that left the gallery practically gasping and marvelling at the perfect control of his cue ball.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE LEAD DEADLOCKED

Bankers and Gro-Swifts Win in Tie Up With Lions for Lead

Victories yesterday put the Gro-Swifts and Bankers in a three-way tie for city softball leadership with the Lions, as the Bankers took the measure of Wall Street 12 to 6, while the Gro-Swifts were forced to come from behind in the final two innings to win 7 to 4. The Kiwanis team jumped into a four run lead in the first inning, and blanked the Gro-Swifts until the fifth when they scored three runs. The Gro-Swifts continued their scoring in the sixth with four runs, while holding the civic team scoreless. Wall Street had a lead over the Bankers in the early innings, but heavy hitting on the part of the Bankers soon erased whatever lead the Wall Street team possessed. Weldon hit a home run to begin the fireworks. Williams and Weldon worked for the Bankers, while Jackson and LeMay worked for the losers. The Kiwanis battery was Mackey and Daniels, and the Gro-Swifts used Abbott and Cawthorne.

CREEDMOOR STARS PLAY TO DEADLOCK

Darkness Halts Strike-Out Battle at 11th With Score 3-All

Henderson and Creedmoor battled to a 3-all deadlock at Pine Park yesterday afternoon, the contest being called at the end of the 11th on account of darkness. The game was a battle of strikeouts with Allen fanning 14 Henderson batters, while Boyd and Pleasants combined to fan 13 of the visitors. Archer Boyd opened on the hill for Henderson, and was struck on the ankle by a line drive off the bat of Hester in the first inning, but managed to remain on the hill until the seventh when he gave way to Don Pleasants. Creedmoor scored their runs in the third when Mangum was safe on Scoggins error. Hester sacrificed, and Rogers hit to Woodleaf, who threw badly to first, and E. Rogers double and L. Rogers singled to account for the visitors runs. Henderson got off its tallies in the third when Falkner opened with a single and scored on Boyd's double. Hamm followed with a double to score Boyd. In the fifth, Scoggins walked with one out. Hamm got an infield hit, and Hoyle smashed to second, the ball being error'd and Scoggins raced home with the tying run. Henderson will play Oxford Sunday at Pine Park at 3:30 o'clock.

Tar Heels Will Have Heavy Line in Fall; Reserve List Strong

By JIM KLUTZ Chapel Hill, May 25.—Andy Bershak expects to get out of football... plans to take a job in Greensboro this summer... Is reported the connection will be with Cone Carpet Company... Tom Burnette has had several baseball offers... he won't tell who or where they're from, however... When the Tar Heel football team trots out on the gridiron next fall, don't be surprised if the line-up showed Paul Severin, right end, 185; Gates Kimball, right tackle, 200; Jim Woodson, right guard, 185; Bob Adams, center, 185; Charles Slagle, left guard, 200; Steve Maronic, left tackle, 200; Chuck Kline, left end, 170; George Stirnweiss, quarterback, 170; George Watson, left half, 185; George Radman, right half, 175; and Jack Kraynick, fullback, 200... from tackle to tackle the line will average around 200... Jim "Sweet" Lalanne, last year's freshman quarterback flash, will probably see lots of action as a reserve for Stirnweiss... he is rated one of the best passing prospects Carolina has had in years... Tony Cernigle, 200-pound backfield star who has been out of the line-up since he received a knee injury in the Tennessee game two years ago, will probably play a great deal... Dan Desich and Ed Megson, guards, Bob Smith, center, Christian Siewers, and Walter Palanske, tackles, and Horace Palmer and Jim Mallory, ends, will make up a potent reserve list in the line... Desich and Siewers are 215-pounders. Boxing prospects are also bright at the Hill than they have been in years, according to Mike Ronman, coach.
