BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

UNNECESSARY NEWS

HUNDREDS, yes many thousands of players, have a tendency nowadays to overdo the matter of showing a new suit after their partners open the bidding. That is all very well and good if the partner had started with a minor suit or no trump. But if he bid a major suit and you hold four cards of it, telling him about another suit is usually news more valuable to the opponents in the later play than to your partner in the bidding. Raise him, as a rule, to the justifiable height when you have four of his suit, unless, perhaps, you have stoppers in all other suits and so like no trump.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

When South bid 1-Spade on this deal and North responded with 2-Diamonds, South was uncertain as to just what his next best response was. He hated to jump the bid in spades because the suit was not too solid and thought 2-Spades or 2-No Trumps too weak. He therefore decided on 3-No Trumps.

What is the correct defense against South's 3-No Trump contract after the lead of the diamond Q?

Physician Gives Reasons For Testing With Tuberculin

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

PARENTS, with children in school almost everywhere nowadays, have to decide whether they will approve of having the children tested with tuberculin.

Possible objections may fall under three heads:

- (1) It may be harmful.
- (2) What good will it do?
- (3) The parents may dread that they will be informed of the existence of tuberculosis.

Two of these we may dispose of immediately. Tuberculin testing, as done by modern methods, does no harm either to the normal child or to the one with incipient tuberculosis.

The third objection—the dread of discovery of the disease—is one of those peculiar pieces of psychology that tuberculosis workers have had to deal with since time immemorial. The only thing that cold logical reason can do to combat it is to say that the disease is curable in the early stages, the tuberculin test helps to detect it in the earlier amount of tuberculin, a spot of redness will develop at the site of the injection.

This is all there is to the tuberculin test, but the interpretation of it is complicated. Anyone who has ever had tuberculosis reacts. And as over half the population has had tuberculosis at some time, and most of them have healed spontaneously, the question arises, in the presence of a positive tuberculin test, of whether the case is active or not.

Actual results in the Chadwick clinic on 50,000 high school students showed that about half of them reacted. When these were segregated and examined by X-ray and other methods, it was found that one out of twenty had an active case. Most of these were in an early stage, so cure was possible, and this justifies the advice that the tuberculin test is valuable procedure.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

R. G. A.: "I heard that hydrochloric acid was good to cure jaundice. Please tell how much and how often to take it."

Answer: There is a mistake here. Hydrochloric acid is not used for jaundice. It is used in pernicious anemia in which the skin has a yellow color something like jaundice, but such a differentiation should be made by a doctor. In pernicious anemia other treatment to supplement the hydrochloric acid is advisable.
