

Duke-V. P. I. Ready For Contest In Greensboro

Greensboro, Sept. 23.—Duke's Blue Devils and V. P. I. Gobblers come together in an important Southern conference clash in Memorial stadium here tomorrow night which is expected to attract a capacity crowd the game will start at 8 o'clock.

It will be the opening game for the Blue Devils and will officially inaugurate Wallace Wade's 20th season as a football coach.

It will be the Gobblers' first conference test but their second game of the season. Last week they showed great promise by running roughshod over an Emory and Henry team that was any thing but weak. V. P. I. took the contest, 33-0, and stayed under cover throughout.

While the Blue Devils have the edge in weight, they are probably not as experienced as the Gobblers and they do not have any more reserves than Coach Puss Redd has at the Virginia institution this year.

It looms as a fine opening engagement. The Gobblers have worked hard in preparation for the contest and are "loaded for bear." According to reports from Blacksburg, they feel they can offer a much better game than last year when Duke was hard pressed to get a 25-0 win. In that game the Gobblers matched the Blue Devils in yards gained but lacked a scoring punch.

Coach Wade admits the Blue Devils are still in an experimental stage and the Duke mentor will be watching the play of his quarterbacks more than any other department in this opening engagement. While there are still things to work out in the building of this year's team, that quarterback problem is now the greatest of all.

A pair of sophomores are listed in the starting lineups of each team. Coach Redd of the Gobblers will have Jimmy Fick, quarterback, and George Warriner, fullback, both of whom starred in the opener with Emory and Henry, in his starting backfield.

Coach Wade will start Jap Davis, first-year man from Wilson, and Tom Maloney, husky sophomore tackle.

To Take Bershak's Place

Chuck Kline, End.

Chuck Kline, rugged 177-pounder from Carthage, is slated to start at right end on the Carolina football team when the Tar Heels open their 1938 season against Wake Forest at Chapel Hill Saturday at 2:30 o'clock. Although Kline is the favorite at right end, handled so brilliantly by the All-America Andy Bershak last season, he is being hard pushed by Jim Malloy, a promising sophomore. As regular left end last fall, Kline developed into one of the strongest bulwarks in the great Tar Heel line. He is a fast charger, a hard tackler and an outstanding pass receiver.

Tar Heels Banking On Veterans For Deacons

Chapel Hill, Sept. 23.—With its chief strength centered around five veterans from last year, North Carolina's 1938 football model goes on display for the first time here Saturday against Wake Forest's highly regarded Deacons.

Kick-off time is set for 2:30 o'clock in Kenan Stadium.

Athletic officials report a brisk sale in tickets this week, although there are plenty of good seats available. Indications point to an unusually large crowd for an opening game.

The five veterans who will be back at their old posts are Chuck Kline, end; Steve Maronic, tackle; Jim Woodson, guard; Bob Adams, center; George Watson, half.

Much interest is centered on 'Sweet' Jim Lalanne, sophomore quarterback and on the possibility that Carolina may employ the wide-open, aerial game. Lalanne, subbing for George Stirrweiss, who is convalescing from a stomach ulcer which may keep him out all season, is rated the best passer here in recent years. He pitches with deadly accuracy from both short and long range.

Wake Forest will enter the game with a five pound per man line advantage—193 to 188—while Carolina has an edge in the backfield—177 to 173.

SCRIMMAGE, SIGNAL WORK GIVEN HIGHS

Renn Reports After Short Suspension; Blake Looks Good At Guard

Signal drills and scrimmage was the order of the day Thursday for the Henderson high school Bulldogs, and the same dish was served this afternoon as Coach Bing Miller worked his charges, pointing to the opening game here next Friday afternoon, with Fuquay Springs high furnishing the opposition.

The Bulldogs showed Coach Miller a little more stuff yesterday afternoon than they did on Wednesday, and the mentor was well pleased. However, Coach Bing sees plenty of room for improvement, especially in the mastering of plays.

An added note of optimism was evidenced yesterday when Ed Renn veteran guard, reported for workouts. He has assured Coach Miller that he is ready to give the same brand of football that made him a bulwark on defense last year. Renn did not participate in scrimmage yesterday, but is expected to be mixing things by Monday.

Paul Blake seems to be a real "find" at one guard position, and his work has been pleasing Coach Miller. The boy has plenty of fight, and is gathering experience at each workout. He will likely play great ball for the Bulldogs during the coming season.

HICKMAN, McEVER ARE OLD FRIENDS

Newton, State Coach, Once Directed Wildcats; Hickman Played With McEver

Raleigh, Sept. 23.—There's a new angle to the N. C. State-Davidson college football feud, which will be renewed for the 31st time in Charlotte Saturday night.

Already the Doc Newton-Gene McEver, head mentor of the Davidson Wildcats.

Hickman and McEver were born within 20 miles of each other. They attended the University of Tennessee, both were named on all-America teams and lived together while they played on the all-East team in San Francisco. They married girls from the same town. Then McEver took to coaching and Hickman to professional football and wrestling. Later Hickman entered the coaching field and they became professional enemies.

As assistant coach at Wake Forest Hickman saw McEver twice ride to victory over Wake teams as an assistant to Coach Newton, then at Davidson. Newton came to State and Hickman joined him here. Then in their first start against Davidson, Newton and Hickman were victorious by a 6-2 count.

Now Hickman is out to even the score for a victory Saturday night in Charlotte for the State Wolfpack will tie the McEver-Hickman feud at two games apiece.

Hickman was born in Johnson City, Tenn.; McEver in Bristol, Tenn. Hickman entered Tennessee when McEver was a sophomore, but Gene laid out his senior year, but to injury and they finished school together. Hickman married Miss Helen Smith and Gene married Miss Joyce Bennett, both of Knoxville, within a month. Neither has any children.
