Tar Heels Urge New Patriotism and Defense of America; New Generation, With Only Dim Memories or None at All, Has Come to Fighting Age

(By The Associated Press). Twenty years after the war to end war, an anxious world paused today to reflect on peace and disillusionment.

A new generation, with only dim memories or none at all of the World War and the great joy of November 11, 1918, already has grown to fighting age. It comes to maturity through years of struggle against the devastation of past wars, amid new wars and preparations for more war, amid weakened democracy and growing power of dictatorships.

"The situation in the world today is as menacing as at any time in history," declared General John Pershing, who led the American forces in France. It was a rare statement on personal affairs from Pershing, who accepted an invitation to attend memorial ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier with President Roosevelt.

The times, General Pershing said, demand "immediate and vigorous

Threat of War Veterans To Force "Public Safety" Cabinet Provides Menace

Paris, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Thousands of steel-helmeted mobile guards patrolled Paris today with strict orders to stop any war veterans demonstration for a "public safety" cabinet. The presence of the mobile guards, carrying carbines over their shoulders, and extra squads of police, gave the capital an air akin to that which saw the World War end in the Armistice twenty years ago.

Pomp and material music, high-lighted in a massive military parade past the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, found Frenchmen of all stations

Liberal Era To Continue, FDR Thinks

Predicts He Will Not Encounter Coalition Opposition to His Program in Next Congress; Young Republicans Have Been Swept Into Office

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he did not believe the results of last Tuesday's elections constituted any threat to the continuation of "liberal government."

At his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt declared he thought the election returns were all right.

A questioner, referring to the President's speech on Friday before the elections, asked Mr. Roosevelt whether he believed the outcome of the voting, which resulted in heavy Democratic losses and Republican gains, constituted a threat to the continuation of "liberal government." The President replied that he certainly did not think so.

At the same time, he predicted that he would not encounter what one of his questioners called "coalition opposition," presumably the combining of Republican and anti-New Deal Democrats, against administration proposals to Congress.

He expressed the belief his congressional program would be accord-

Nazis Plan Ghetto For German Jews

New Restrictive Decrees Would Mark Off Section Where They Would Live Alone

London, Nov. 11.—(AP)—British public opinion has been so outraged by German violence against Jews, informed quarters said today, that Prime Minister Chamberlain's program of appeasement with Germany may be considerably hampered. The government, meanwhile, took steps to protect British Jews from violence in Germany after the wave of anti-Semitic destruction that swept the country yesterday.

Until yesterday there were persistent rumors that the prime minister soon would seek an opportunity to discuss the colonial question with Reichsfuehrer Hitler as part of a general European settlement. Now, it is believed, any Raleigh, Nov. 11.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott reports that he has made good his pre-election promise of 1936 to "revitalize" the Department of Agriculture.

This boast is made as the first sentence of the department's biennial report, copy for which has gone to the printers and which will be issued in pamphlet form in due course of time. "North Carolina's Department of Agriculture has been revitalized during the biennial," the reports begins.

"Work of divisions has been consolidated to eliminate overlapping activities and to effect economy. Equipment has been added to increase efficiency. Changes in personnel and the addition of needed specialists have made it possible to give greater inspectional, regulatory and service work," it continues.
