A few of the friends and relatives of the couple were present for the ceremony. The bride was handsomely dressed. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll left on a wedding tour in the western part of the state, and will make their home in Warren Plains. Mrs. Carroll is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davis, of Warren county, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Carroll, of Warren Plains.

Bird Club To Have Field Trip Monday

Members of the Bird club are asked to be ready on Monday afternoon to be picked up for the field trip shortly before 3:30 o'clock. The drivers of the cars will then go to the Vance hotel to get in touch with the club's out-of-town guests. Promptly at 3:30 the party will proceed to the J. C. Cooper cabin at Lake Lucy, and spend about 2 hours on a field trip in that locality.

At 4:45 o'clock, the club will go to the Girl Scout cabin for supper, and a meeting to immediately follow. The meeting will last an hour. The subject will be "Participation in the National Bird Census," and the entire program will be in the hands of Dr. Francis Craighill, of Rocky Mount, and Dr. John Grey, of Raleigh, president and secretary respectively of the State Bird club. Among the out-of-town guests expected will be Dr. Constance, of Duke University, who led the Henderson Bird club's field trip in the Duke forest last November; and two medical students and a zoological student of the University of North Carolina, who for several years have taken part in the census in Chapel Hill which has attracted national attention.

Vance-Granville Club At Mars Hill

(Special to Daily Dispatch.)
Mars Hill, Nov. 12.—Zack Lyons, of Oxford, was recently elected president of the Vance-Granville county club at Mars Hill college. Other officers elected are: Vice-president, Miriam Pinnell, Henderson; secretary, J. C. Gill, Henderson. The purpose of this club is to unite the students of various sections of the state and nation so that they may know one another better and to create a more congenial relationship among them.

At times during the year the different clubs will be given the opportunity to conduct chapel services in the college auditorium. At this time they may have a program that will introduce to the students of the college their county and state. Members of the Vance-Granville county club are: Miriam Critcher, Oxford; Margy Crews, Oxford; J. C. Harris, Stall; Bill Dennis, Henderson; George Dickey, Henderson; Sam Currin, Oxford; Edgar M. Edwards, Henderson; H. B. Parrott, Henderson; and George Blackwell, Oxford.

Vance County Chapter Resolutions, Mrs. Kate Watkins.
Memorial Gifts Announced, Mrs. M. J. O'Neil.
Prayer and benediction, Rev. I. W. Hughes.
The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 2-B met Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. We pledged our allegiance to the flag and sang "America." We discussed Armistice Day and Citizen Day. We went to patrol corners and discussed what we would like to do to pass the tenderfoot test. Most of the girls decided on knots. Miss Elsie Powell and Miss Mary Carter helped us learn how to tie them. The meeting adjourned, and after that a short court of honor was held.

Marian Martin Pattern

"What lovely detail!" your partner will say over the bridge table. And this new afternoon creation by Marian Martin deserves all the praise showered on it at holiday parties! Moreover, the diagrammed sew chart of pattern 9899 shows how simple it is to have the smartest and most graceful of patterned effects, topped by either of two flattering necklines—a high-cut style, or a squared-off design trimmed with lace or buttons. Why not make a long-sleeved version in a vivid, becoming wool to spice up your winter coat? And then for gay "get-togethers," stitch up a short-sleeved dress with a gypsy-bright sash or a narrow self belt.
Pattern 9899 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 3/8 yards 39 inch fabric.
Send fifteen cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.
Here are reasons why you should send for the Marian Martin Pattern Book today! Its styles are new and different! All are easily made at home! You have wide choice: 31 misses' smart daytime dresses, and 16 for larger women—10 selections for formal evenings—plus 26 younger-set styles from kindergarten to college age. In addition, you'll find coats, suits, blouses and skirts—also pages of lingerie, and Christmas gifts for everyone! Order now! Book, Fifteen Cents. Pattern, Fifteen Cents. Book and Pattern together, Twenty-Five Cents.
Send your order to Henderson Daily Dispatch, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Townsville Garden Club Mas Meeting With Mrs. Knott

The Townsville Garden club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Judson Knott Thursday. The president, Mrs. S. R. Adams, was absent, and the vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Tarry, presided.
The meeting was opened with the praying of the Lord's prayer, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
The report given concerning the community house was very encouraging. After the business was transacted, the program was turned over to the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. J. E. Knott. It was given as follows: Miss Lizzie Taylor read a very instructive paper on "Peculiar Birds and their Habits" with pictures to illustrate. "Where Does Wild Life Winter?" was an interesting paper by Mrs. George Tarry.
The hostess served a salad plate to the members of the club.

Chairman Watkins, Of Commissioners, Is Host At Dinner

Chairman Samuel M. Watkins, of the Vance Board of County Commissioners, was host at a dinner Friday evening at the Capitol cafe to county officials and court house employees as well as members of the staff of the welfare office. Some 25 or more attended.
Mr. Watkins on the first Monday in December will retire from the chairmanship, which he has held since he became a commissioner four years ago, and will likewise retire from the board. He was not a candidate to succeed himself in last summer's primaries.
There was nothing formal about the dinner affair. Mr. Watkins welcomed the guests and expressed his regrets at severing his official association with them, and thanked them for

Miss Marilyn Seifert Celebrates Birthday

Little Miss Marilyn Seifert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Seifert, entertained last evening at West End Country club in celebration of her tenth birthday.
The club room was lovely with its yellow color scheme: yellow and bronze leaves were banded in the corners, and there were yellow curtains and lamp shades. A lace-covered table was centered with the birthday cake, containing yellow candles. Ivy, lighted yellow tapers, and compotes, holding yellow mints further decorated the table.
Dancing and games were enjoyed, and punch was served to the guests during the evening. Later, an ice course with individual cakes was served.
Guests invited for the occasion were: Marilyn Seifert, hostess, and her brother, Donald Seifert; Anna and Lil Sprinkle, Ann Royster, Ann Rose, Ann Worham, Mary Ware Bruin, Jean Harris, Edith Rose Green, Mary Lou Kimball, Ann Starkey, Ruth Dennis, Evelyn Patterson, Ruby Hawkins, Katherine Hawkins, Gladys Tiltonson, Gladys Satterwhite, Barbara Brake, Annie Watkins, Jane White, Sara Pyle, Grace Bryan, Florence Glenn, Mary Ann Rose, Martha Jane Newcomb, William Newcomb, Sallie Jean Kerner, Sallie Jean Thompson, Laura Jane Crabtree, Wilma Thompson, Marian Calloway, Martha Evans, Myrtle Alston, Annie Lee Tippet, Judith Harris, Jean Rose, Elizabeth Bruin, Cleo Codas, and Bennett Perry, Bobby Parham, Bobby Sanders, Carl Coghill, Robert Isley, Robert Davis, Earl Hicks, Edward Moran, Mel Finch, Steve Flannagan, Lawrence Wall, Billy Pritchard, Allison Dixon, Harold Crowder.
Misses Annie Lee and Florence Beck assisted Mrs. Seifert with the games.

Mesdames Corbitt Honor Mrs. Nathan Straus, Jr.

Mrs. William Corbitt and Mrs. Richard J. Corbitt, Jr., entertained most delightfully with four tables of bridge on Friday afternoon for Mrs. Nathan P. Straus, Jr., a recent bride.
The house was quite colorful with autumn decorations of bright red leaves and yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.
Attractive gifts were presented the

Tempe Bradley Is Birthday Hostess

Little Miss Tempe Bradley celebrated her eleventh birthday at a party Thursday afternoon at her home on Ghoslen avenue.
Guests for the afternoon included: Mary Ann Johnson, Annie Watkins, Della Dixon, Mabel Butts, Betty Jane Wilson, Ann Elizabeth Upchurch, Patsy McCullum, Edna Freeman, Ann Rose, Florine Ingram, Wilma Thompson, Jean Candler, Josephine Newell, Betty Goodwyn, Gene Rose, Rosa Mac Coghill, Frances Pegrum, Hilda Mae Grissom, Annie Mitchell, Mary Ware Bruin, Betsy Ann Roberts, Martha Baily, Jeddine Holloway, and Oveida Ellis.
An ice course of ice cream, birthday cake, nuts, and mints, was served to the guests.
Bingo and other games were played during the afternoon.

New All-Time Peak For Business Is Envisioned

When I started out to hunt a job that spring, every one was ready to give the country back to the Indians. Yet, four short years later business had chalked up a new record.
It is interesting to note that no boom period ever stopped before the previous highs had been broken. Why? Because of new industries. Just think, in 1873 the majority of today's biggest industries were not even known. The first transcontinental railroad had just been finished. The same was true in the next boom. Many of our biggest industries of today were unheard of in 1890.
The point I want to emphasize is that in every earlier period when it looked as though American business had stalled, new industries swept us on to undreamed of heights.
Tomorrow we will again be blessed by a flood of more new industries and myriads of new products. More patents have been issued in the past ten years than in any previous decade in our history. A huge demand for our old, as well as new, products has been built up by a whole decade of abnormal consumption. Our banks, within a few years, can hit highs which even the most optimistic cannot contemplate.
Television a Reality.
As an example of what I have in mind, take the recent announcement by Radio Corporation of America that television sets will go on the market in 1939. For two hours a week,

Employers and workers would unite to increase production, which is the only road by which labor can raise its standard of living. In short, if a spiritual revival should sweep this nation, nothing would prevent America from enjoying a new all-time high. To quote Frank Buchanan, "There is not enough for the greed of all, but there surely is enough for the need of all."

Wages-Hours Board Without Needed Funds

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
Washington, Nov. 12.—Elmer Andrews, in charge of wage-hour law enforcement, is the most poverty-stricken official in Washington—officially poverty-stricken, I mean, not personally. Congress has made very skimpy financial provision for the wage-hour outfit when the act was passed and right now, with the new regulations just going into effect, a large and capable staff particularly is needed, which is precisely what Andrews hasn't nearly enough money to pay for. He has no doubt that the national legislators will vote him a far more liberal allowance soon after they meet in January, but that doesn't help matters in the meantime. A scheme was evolved shortly after the bureau came into being to divert funds to it from other government set-ups to help the wage-hour folk out. It failed to "take," however. The other set-ups couldn't see it for a minute. There was considerable question as to such a diversion's legality anyway.
So the wage-hour crowd are doing their damdest to keep their heads above water with a skeleton organization for the present. To be sure, it isn't so emaciated-looking a crew at first glance. There are lots of stenographers and hello-girls, but it quickly becomes apparent that there's an unusual scarcity of key executives.
Swamped with Visitors.
The place simply is swamped with inquiring visitors—important persons, too—big lawyers, industrial magnates and members of Congress. Moreover, they have extremely significant problems that they want solved for them. They literally jostle one another.
The other day I saw a United States senator in General Counsel Calvert Magruder's outer office. "I only want 15 minutes with Mr. Magruder," he explained. The guardian of the inner portal investigated. Then, reporting, "Mr. Magruder," he said, "will see you if you'll make it two minutes." The senator acquiesced and, in about 90 seconds, he reappeared in the outer office.
There may be a modicum of bluff in this bustle, but I think it's largely genuine. I never before saw a gang of federal employees so hectically and, seemingly, honestly busy. Generally a government office is rather leisurely. It may be upstage with the hollo polio but it's respectful to senators. This bunch is so scrambled and sweaty with haste that it hasn't time to discriminate. My opinion is that it's half cuckoo with hurry.
Of course it must make plenty of mistakes, transacting business in such a rush.
Indeed, it knows it. Chief Andrews

Stocks Climb To New Highs

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Steel stocks today sprinted into new high ground for more than a year, but advancing tendencies in most other market groups were somewhat restrained. Traders returned from their holiday in a cheerful mood, optimism over the election and business continuing as the principal buoying influence. Buying was lively at the start of the two-hour proceedings. The tape lagged, however, as profit-taking appeared. Top marks running to two or more points were retained in many cases at the close. Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares. Hitting peak levels since October, 1937, were United States Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel and Youngstown Republic. Chrysler and General Motors managed to tack on modest plus signs.
