

Henderson Girls Win, 55-8; Boys Lose To South Hill

Miss Houghtaling Leads Lassies With 34 Points

Inability to Sink Free Throws Costs Boys Another Game; Captain Calloway Leads Boys' Scoring; Girls Show Fine Defensive Work.

Henderson high school basketball teams split a doubleheader here last night with South Hill, Va., teams, the girls rolling up a 5 to 8 score, while the Henderson boys were falling 17 to 13.

Miss Mary Florence Houghtaling was the outstanding offensive star of the Henderson team, shooting 17 field goals for 34 points, although she was out of the game a good deal of the time. Miss Lowry got six for the next best total for the locals, and the remaining points were garnered by a bevy of forwards substituted into the game. With Captain Duke leading the defense of the Henderson goal, South Hill forwards found it most difficult to loop points, most of their tallies coming at the expense of reserves playing in the second half.

Miss P. Robertson led her team with six points, four of them from the floor.

Boys Lose, 17-13

The inability to sink shots from the free-throw line cost the Henderson boys another victory as they fell before the visitors 17 to 13. Each team

STATE AND DEACS MEET ON SATURDAY

Clash Stated For Wake Forest at 8 P. M. To Head Big Five Tilts

Wake Forest, Jan. 12.—The headline attraction in Big Five basketball for this week will be staged here Saturday night between the Deacon quint and N. C. State's Wolfpack five. Starting time for this cage event will be at 8 o'clock.

There is no athletic rivalry keener than that existing between the teams of Wake Forest and N. C. State, and Saturday night's basketball tilt is expected to take its place alongside the many other closely contested engagements, which the past years have noted.

Last year, competition in basketball between the Tech and Deacs reached a new high, even though Coach Sermon's West Raleigh boys won both contests. The scores of those games were 45-44 and 45-41, and both were played before packed houses. This season, the Baptists of Wake Forest appear to have a better club than the 1938 five, while State is certainly as good if not a shade improved.

Saturday's contest will pit teams composed largely of veterans, because State is using four old heads on its first five and Coach Greason of Wake Forest starts a like number.

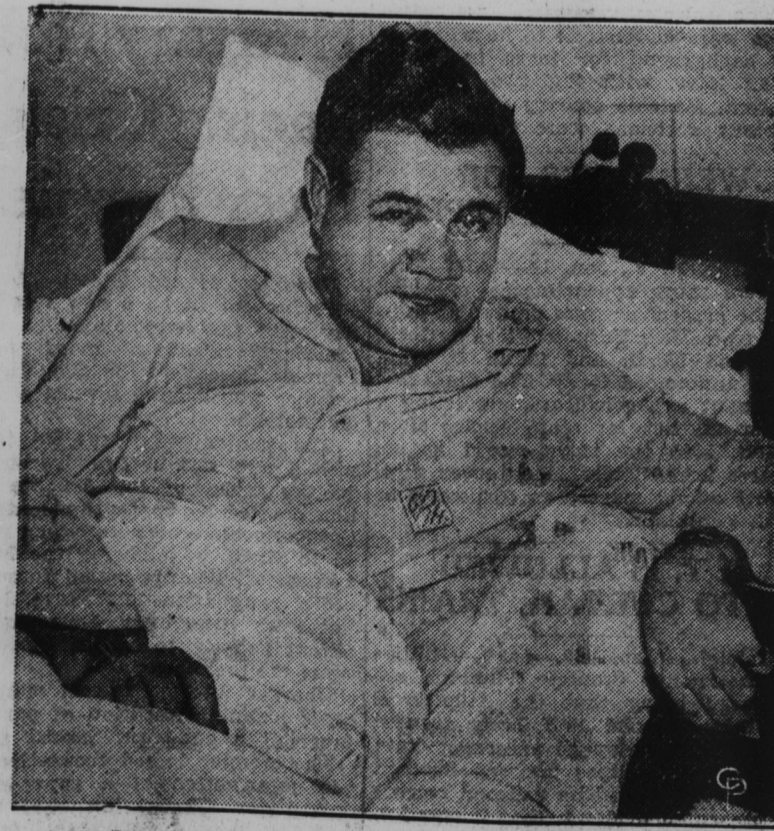

Freshmen teams of State and Wake Forest will play a preliminary to the varsity set. This game will start at 6:30.

TAR HEEL BOXERS TO FIGHT CITADEL

Chapel Hill, Jan. 12.—North Carolina's Varsity boxing team today completed preparations for its opening match of the season with the Citadel Bulldogs at Charleston, S. C. Saturday night.

Coach Mike Roman is still undecided who will start in the 120, 127, 135 and 155 classes. His choices lie between Billy Winstead and Boyst Swan, 126; Sam McFalls and Andy Gennett, 127; Cy Jones and Jack Hughes, 125; and Dan Beattie or Robert Farris, 155.

Cotton Is At High Level

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened unchanged to three points higher. Liverpool, Bombay and the trade were takers of southern offerings. The list was five to nine points above yesterday's close at mid-morning, October advancing from 7.43 to 7.48 for a net gain of eight. Around midday, when the list was two to eight points net higher, March sold off to 8.32 from 8.34 as price-fixing demand was satisfied. October was the steadiest at 7.48, a point below the high.

Stocks Rally In Forenoon

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—An upturn in steel and aircraft shares—recent speculative favorites in anticipation of heavier United States arms spending—pointed the way for a stock market rally today, but the going of the upside provided difficult. After the "war babies" had run up for gains running to around two points before the publication of the presidential armaments message, there was renewed selling in these groups when the details became known. In bonds and commodities, traders seemed more inclined to wait developments than to take active part in the proceedings.

CAROLINA BEGINS VIRGINIA INVASION

Chapel Hill, Jan. 12.—Two of the South's oldest athletic rivals, Carolina and Virginia, will clash in basketball at Charlottesville tonight in the Tar Heels' first stop on a three-game invasion of the Old Dominion State.

The White Phantoms will move on to Lynchburg to play Washington and Lee's Generals, recent conquerors of Duke's Southern Conference champions 46 to 41.

planes from the races. One crashed in a wooded section of east-central Georgia, critically injuring two fliers; and three others, beset by a heavy blanket of fog, were reported to have been forced down on the Georgia coast.

Fractures of both legs and severe head and internal injuries were received by Jack Withers, of Danville, Va., when his cub plane crashed near Midville, about 40 miles south of Augusta.

John Loftis, of Roxboro, N. C., Withers' companion, was reported in a serious condition at an August hospital.

ABC County Solons Put On The Spot

devil" back home if they permit the State to snatch away a large percentage of the counties' profits.

Of course, it may ultimately be found possible to do enough political trading to put something of a crimp in the higher liquor-tax proposal, but the ABC county boys realize that they are in a sad minority and that the rest of the law-makers are very much inclined to take the easiest way out of the money raising quandary, and the easiest way in this particular case is to up liquor and beer taxes.

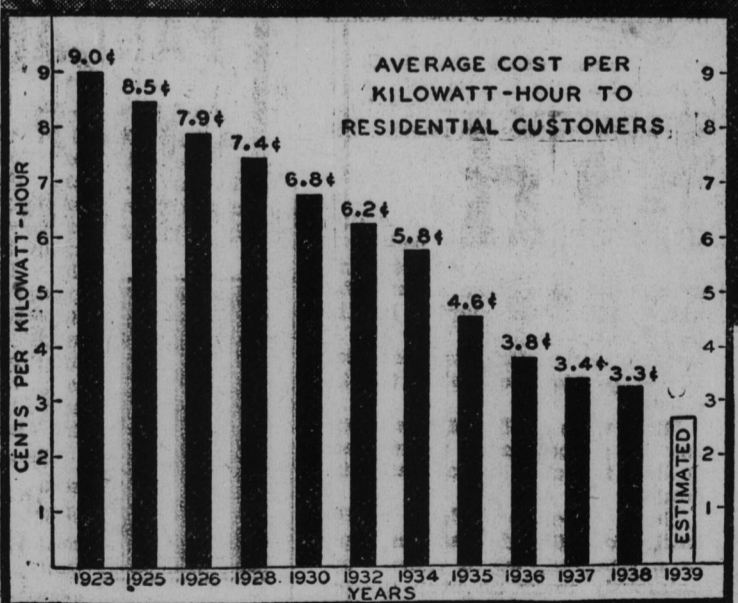

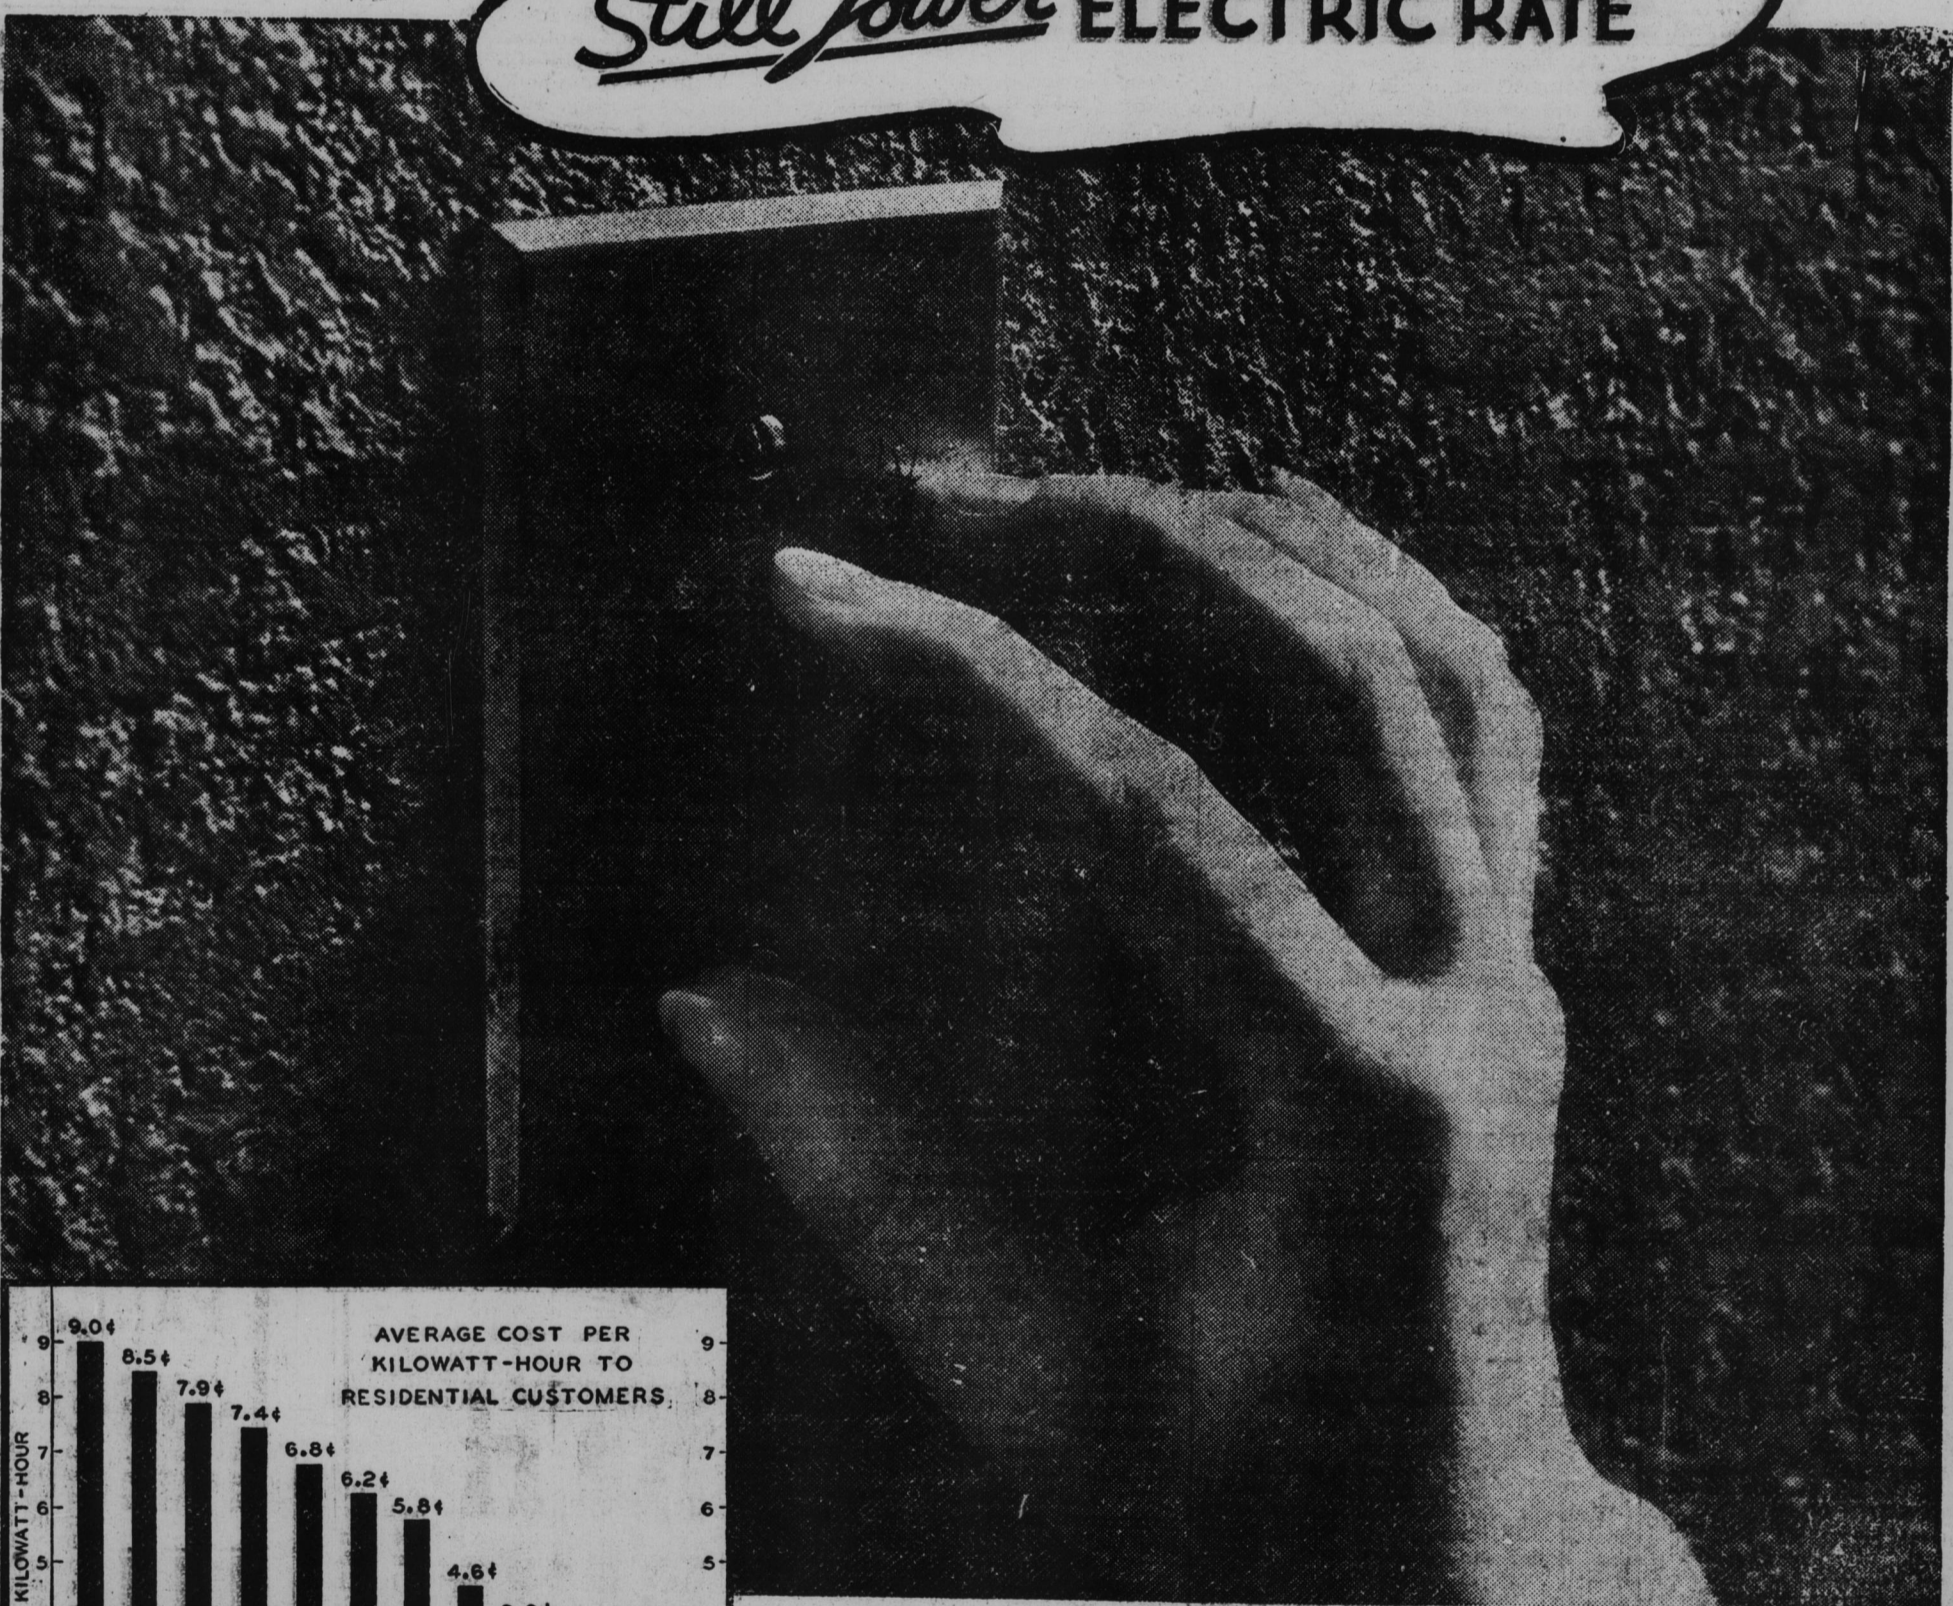

In the final analysis, it will all come back to the age-old battle between the State and the counties over taxes. There are many representatives, and they are by no means all from wet counties, who feel that if the State continues to monopolize so many categories of tax revenues the time is coming when the counties will find their tax cupboards as bare as the one made famous by Old Mother Hubbard.

At any rate, it is going to be very interesting to watch the maneuvers of ABC county representatives and senators. They're in a spot and they know it.
