

President's Mother Returns

Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt (left), mother of the President, walks down gangplank of the U. S. liner Washington at New York, back home from Europe. She is followed by the President's wife, who met her at the boat. Mrs. Sara Roosevelt was accompanied in her tour of Europe by her grandson, John Roosevelt, and his wife.

Sailor's Goodbye

An English naval reservist called to the colors kisses his little daughter goodbye at Waterloo station as he leaves London. General mobilization brought British forces to full wartime strength.

British War Bosses Confer

Central Press Radiophoto

Viscount Gort (left), chief of the imperial staff of Great Britain, chats with Minister of War Leslie Hore-Belisha (center) and Sir Arthur Greenwood (right), Laborite member of Parliament, outside the war office in London shortly after the news had been received that Poland had been invaded by Germany.

Picnic? No! Evacuation

This is not a scene of children going to a picnic. These kiddies are shown in a drill for evacuation of London. Great Britain is rushing as many of its citizens as possible out of its big cities, fearful of air raids. London, alone, is evacuating nearly 3,000,000 persons. (Central Press)

Evacuating London Hospital

Central Press Cablephoto

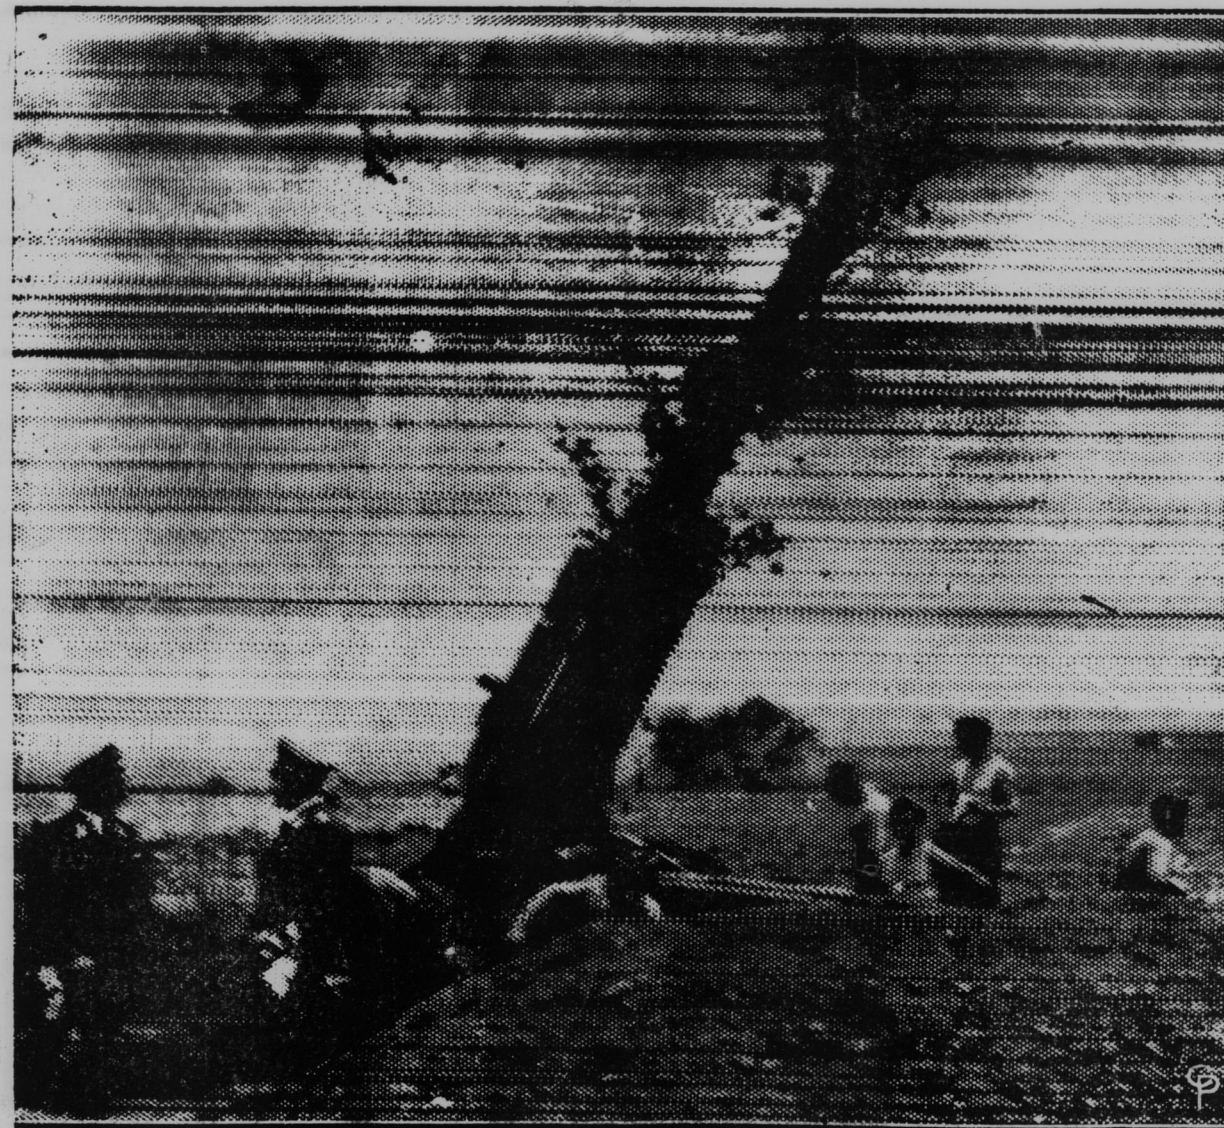

A stretcher case is removed for transfer to a refuge in the country as London rushes evacuation of 3,000,000 persons from the city. All exits are "one-way" as the metropolis races against time and the fearsome possibility of air raids.

Poland's Line of Steel Facing Nazi Might

A parade of Polish tanks and combat cars is shown here, rumbling along to the accompaniment of the roar of military planes overhead. Today, the metal of these tanks is being put to the test, resisting the onslaught of the Nazi invader. Poland is short on mechanized power, depending on her mud and lack of roads to aid in stopping the German war machine.

German Gunners on the Polish Front

Central Press Radiophoto

A camouflaged German anti-aircraft gun is shown on the Polish front, waiting for enemy planes. Germany has a large supply of these modern guns. Photo flown from the front to Berlin then radioed to New York.

British Troops to War Stations

Central Press Radiophoto

British censorship prohibits identification of this photo, but it shows British troops on the march, somewhere in England, in full war equipment. They are about to entrain for their war stations.

Vilna, Bombed by Nazi Air Raiders

Central Press Radiophoto

Here is a view of the beautiful city of Vilna, one of the Polish towns reported bombed by Nazi aircraft after Adolf Hitler ordered the mighty German army into action to "meet force with force."

Arrested in "Bomb" Panic

War of nerves has its toll on Downing Street. This action-packed scene followed a peaceful, though odd incident. The crowd has thronged the famous street, seeking news, when someone in a novel demand for peace tossed a suitcase full of rubber balls. "Bomb!" someone screamed. Women were injured and children trampled before order was restored. Here, a suspect is collared.

Wife Preservers

Do not scrape food particles from aluminum ware with metal knives or spoons. Use the fine steel wool especially sold for the purpose, or a wooden spoon or rubber scraper.

Wife Preservers

Food cooked in glass cooking dishes should be put in an oven not too hot, or else baked for a shorter time than usual, because glass transmits heat faster than other kinds.

Children Leave Paris as War Fever Mounts

Central Press Radiophoto

With war tension mounting on the continent, France moves to cut losses in civilian population in event of war. This picture, radioed from London to New York, shows children evacuating Paris, bound for refuge in the country.
