

Henderson Daily Dispatch
 Established August 12, 1914
 Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday by HENDERSON DISPATCH CO., INC at 109 Young Street

TELEPHONES
 Editorial Office 500
 Society Editor 610
 Business Office 610

The Henderson Daily Dispatch is a member of The Associated Press, Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and the North Carolina Press Association.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES
 Payable Strictly in Advance
 One Year $5.00
 Six Months 2.50
 Three Months 1.50
 Weekly (By Carrier Only) .15
 Per Copy .05

Entered at the post office in Henderson, N. C., as second class mail matter.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
 The word is stamped on every light and on every shadow.

Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto man, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity. —Matt. 23:28.

THE FORCE OF RIGHTEOUSNESS IS BEATIFUL AS WELL AS POWERFUL Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race. —Psalm 19:3.

Today . . . . .
TODAY'S ANNIVERSARIES
 1789—(150 years ago) William C. Bonn, self-taught astronomer, whose Boston parlor was made into an observatory, born at Portland, Maine. Died January 29, 1859.
 1823—Joseph Leidy, noted Philadelphia scientist and anatomist, born there. Died April 29, 1891.
 1842—Elliott Coues, noted ornithologist and biologist of his day, born at Portland, N. H. Died in Baltimore, December 25, 1899.
 1844—Marion Thompson, Indiana poet, author, born at Fairfield, Ind. Died February 15, 1901.
 1859—James H. Kirkland, Vanderbilt University chancellor, who raised academic standards in the South, born Spartanburg, S. C. Died August 5, 1939.
 1868—Mary Austin, author, born at Carlinville, Ill. Died August 13, 1934.

TODAY IN HISTORY
 1776—Continental Congress orders all colonies to bear "United States", instead of "United Colonies", first time so-called officially.
 1826—The Christian Advocate, pioneer Methodist periodical, first issued.
 1859—Mobile, Ala. went through its second big fire of the month, a most disastrous one.
 1841—President Tyler vetoes Fiscal Corporation Bill and all but one of his cabinet resigns.
 1850—California admitted to the Union as the 31 state—New Mexico and Utah become Territories.
 1873—Britain settles the historic Alabama Claims.
 1919—Police strike in Boston begins—not a policeman on streets at midnight.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS
 Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, born at Logan, Utah, 49 years ago.
 Dr. Samuel M. Cavert, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, New York, born at Charlton, N. Y., 51 years ago.
 U. S. Senator Henry Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, born at Pembroke, Maine, 41 years ago.
 Cyrus R. Smith of Chicago, president, American Airlines, born at Minerva, Texas, 49 years ago.
 Ex-Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, born at W. Middlesex, Pa., 52 years ago.
 Max Reinhardt, stage manager-producer, born in Austria, 66 years ago.
 Ralph Waldo Trine of Hollywood, author, born at Mt. Morris, Ill., 73 years ago.
 James Hilton, English author of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips", born 39 years ago.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE
 Today gives one of versatile character, well suited for social life. Many friends will be made and the life will be successful through pleasant associations with people casually met in the course of ordinary business life. Conservation of the means will bring financial success as well as social.

The moral of persistence is a reassuring factor in human nature. Poetry consists in the liberation of beautiful analogies.

ANSWERS TO TEN QUESTIONS
 See Back Page

1. Numerator and denominator.
2. John Philip Sousa.
3. Utah.
4. The Big Bear.
5. George Washington.
6. Henry Armstrong.
7. Topaz.
8. Acadia.
9. The Island of Manhattan.
10. Tin.

What Do You Know About North Carolina?
 By FRED H. MAY

1. How many more men did North Carolina have in arms in the Sixties than in the late World War?
2. When was the first train operated between Morehead City and Goldsboro?
3. What was the expenditure for seed by the highway landscape department last year?
4. What three counties rank highest in tobacco acreage in the State?
5. When did a candidate for the state senate threaten a riot if he was defeated?
6. How many years did Congressman Lewis Williams, of Surry county, serve in Congress?

ANSWERS.

1. Between 1860 and 1865 there were a total of 127,000 North Carolinians, or one person in each seven, in active service. During the late World War the state sent 86,550 men, one out of each fifty of the state's population, into the service.
2. On June 7, 1858, when through trains ran through. Last week Governor Hoy signed a lease transferring the operation of the property to private interests of Sanford.
3. The budget commission reports show a total of $170. The salaries and wages of the landscape department for the same period amounted to $14,383.
4. Pitt county ranked first with 23,060 acres. Johnston next with 27,530 acres and Nash, third, with 25,530 acres.
5. Philip Alston, who was under indictment for murder at the time, successfully won the election in Moore county in 1786. The senate refused to seat him and, because of this he threatened to "raise a riot."
6. A total of 26 years, from 1815 to 1842. While Congressman Williams did not establish a record for years of continuous service for a North Carolina congressman he did serve a number of years not attained by any other congressman following him until the present congressman, Robert L. Doughton. Mr. Doughton has been in congress since 1911.

OTHERS VIEWS
 AUDI ALTERAM PARTEM

To the Editor:
 Since the editor has presented Mr. C. L. Mitchell's biblical argument in favor of "total abstinence," I think it nothing but fair that the Editor of the Dispatch allow another argument from the same source that Mr. Mitchell bases his.

From the Bible: "Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine to those that be of heavy hearts. Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more. Prov. 1, 6, 7.)

"And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink. (Deut. xiv, 26.)

"Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities. (1 Tim. v, 23.)

"Wine which cheereth God and man. (Judges ix, 13.)"

I have only the biblical account of Jesus Christ drinking wine; and I have a most authentic source by which I may learn the literal meaning of the English noun, wine, id est, according to Mr. Noah Webster (a man that had 40,000 words in his vocabulary): "Wine, n. An intoxicating liquor obtained from the fermented juices of grapes and other fruits."

And as to women in general, and not speaking of any special one, I have seen all to often how most of them have been crowned, too many, all-too-many, dirty clothes for her to wash, too much housework, too many meals to cook, continue not enough recreation in the "great out-of-doors," she was especially crowned with a secondary role (poor woman). She (women) came very near getting crowned, in the latter part of the nineteenth and the first decade of the twentieth century, with "Irish confetti (bricks)" because she desired her rightful right to vote. Yes! women have been crowned,

"alright!" That's why their backs are so bowed and their faces so wrinkled.

If Mr. Mitchell has intimated that conditions that exist in China today are a result of "Divine Retribution," I will prove by the very Bible that he bases his "affirmations" on, that he is radically wrong. Beginning of quote: "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace. (1 Corinthians xiv, 33.)

"The law of the Lord is perfect . . . The statutes of the Lord are right . . . The commandment of the Lord is pure. (Ps. xix, 7, 8.)

"A God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Deuteronomy xxxii, 4.)

"For God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man. (James i, 13.)

"The God of peace. (Romans xv, 33.)

"The Lord is very pitiful and of tender mercy. (James v, ii.)

"For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men. (Lamentations iii, 33.)

"For his mercy endureth forever. (1 Chronicles xvi, 34.)

"I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God. (Ezekiel xviii, 32.)

"The Lord is good to all, and his tender mercies are over all his works. (Psalms cxv, 9.)

"God is love. (1 John iv, 16.)

"Good and upright is the Lord. (Psalms xxv, 8.)

"The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy. (Psalms cxli, 8.)

"His anger endureth but moment. (Psalms xxx, 5.)" Et ad infinitum. End of quote.

I think the gentlemen of the American press are a very decent lot, not prone to obscenity; and if Mr. Mitchell is referring to occasional photographs, in our newspapers, of some of our pulchritudinous young ladies, I have only to refer Mr. Mitchell to a well known established historical fact: clothes were first worn for adornment, not concealment; and that clothes enhance rather than retard voluptuousness. And believe it or not, Mr. Mitchell, morals are better in these modern times than they were ever heretofore in the history of the world. If you desire proof, I can very easily furnish you with innumerable histories of morals in Ancient and Medieval times.

And, Mr. Mitchell, if you are really on the brink of meeting your doom, don't feel bad about it, all of us will soon be "pushing up daisies," only a matter of a few years, at the most. And if you feel as though you have wasted your life, to that, I can only quote the twelfth verse of Gray's Elegy:

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
 All that's beauty, all that wealth
 e'er gave,
 Await alike, the inevitable hour:
 The paths of glory lead but to the grave."
 Vade in pace.

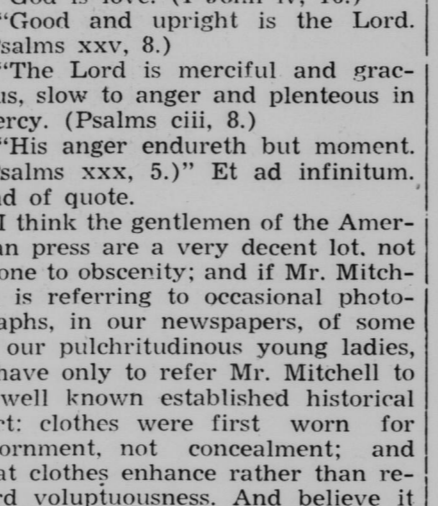

FRANK L. FAULKNER.
 Henderson, Sept. 4, 1939.
 Imprimatur, please.

Albion in the Air

British airmen now carrying the war to Germany are equipped like the aviator above, pictured before takeoff on a flight from London. Dressed in heavy uniforms, they can cope with the cold weather of high altitudes. They carry machine guns of the latest type, parachutes and oxygen masks.

SALLY'S SALLIES
 Re U. S. Patent, U. S. G. O.

MONEY IS NO NEVER MIND WITH PAPA—HOW MUCH DO YOU WANT?

When money talks, the grammar doesn't matter.

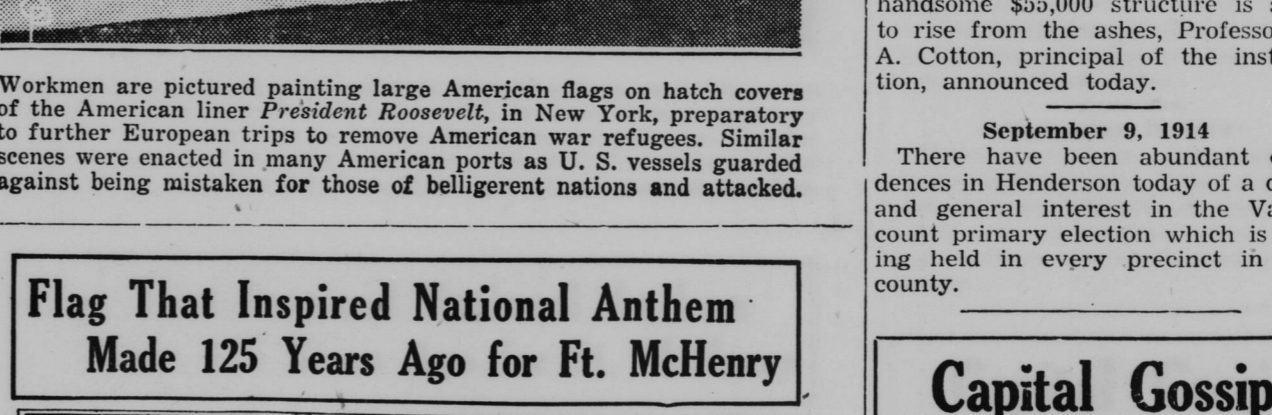

Workmen are pictured painting large American flags on hatch covers of the American liner President Roosevelt, in New York, preparatory to further European trips to remove American war refugees. Similar scenes were enacted in many American ports as U. S. vessels guarded against being mistaken for those of belligerent nations and attacked.

Safeguarding American Ships

Workmen are pictured painting large American flags on hatch covers of the American liner President Roosevelt, in New York, preparatory to further European trips to remove American war refugees. Similar scenes were enacted in many American ports as U. S. vessels guarded against being mistaken for those of belligerent nations and attacked.

Flag That Inspired National Anthem
 Made 125 Years Ago for Ft. McHenry

THE original "Star Spangled Banner," the hand-sewn flag that floated over Fort McHenry and gave the United States its anthem, is still a national relic. Preserved in the National Museum in Washington, it will be the center of attention next September, when the nation celebrates the 125th anniversary of its making, and of Francis Scott Key's masterpiece.

The immortal anthem was written on September 14th, 1814, as Key rejoiced at seeing "by the dawn's early light" that the stars and stripes still waved. He had spent the night pacing the deck of a cartel ship and watching a British fleet's bombardment of the fort.

The flag, which continued to wave triumphantly as the attack failed, was made by a widow, Mrs. Mary Young Pickersgill, of Baltimore. Mrs. Pickersgill's mother had made the "Grand Union Flag," under which Washington had taken command of the American Army at Cambridge, Mass., in 1776.

When the British invaded Chesapeake Bay, Mrs. Pickersgill was given the task of sewing a flag for the fort defending Baltimore. The order called for a mammoth banner, 30 by 42 feet. Because of the size, a large floor was necessary for the work. The mayor of Baltimore, Edward Johnson, provided the malling floor of the brewery adjoining his home. The walls of the building are still standing.

The huge flag contained four hundred yards of bunting, and Mrs. Pickersgill and her daughter, Caroline, with guidance from Mrs. Young, worked day and night to complete it.

After the battle, Mrs. Pickersgill embroidered around the holes in the shot-torn flag. In 1912 the "Star Spangled Banner" was presented to the National Museum by a descendant of the Commanding Officer of Fort McHenry.

Baltimore and the nation will celebrate the famous flag's 125th birthday in September.

big letter "Law and Justice". "Huh!" he snorted a passerby. "It looks like they think law and justice are two different things." Maybe he's got something there.

Irreverent wag has pinned the tag "Oscar" on the carved figure atop the same new building.

North Carolina offered its first State reward in more than two years when a price of $100 was put on the head of Eddie Marshall Burwell, Negro wanted in Granville county for first degree burglary.

He was the first person, aside from participants in the two big 1937 crime breaks at Caledonia and Central Prison, for whom Governor Clyde R. Hoy has signed a reward offer.

Records show that the State offered a $400 reward for the "party or parties" who killed Highway Patrolman George Penn, but it turned out to be Wash Turner and Bill Payne, two of the escapes for whose apprehension $100 reward had already been paid.

In all, Hoy has now authorized prize money for capture of 16 criminals—seven who escaped from Caledonia, six from State Prison, two who killed Penn, and finally, Burwell.

One million pounds of steel were used to construct the longest bridge on the 500-mile Blue Ridge Parkway. The structure is in Ashe county and spans Laurel Fork creek. It is 600 feet long and nearly 100 feet above the creek. The bridge is on the completed Parkway stretched from Deep Gap to the Virginia State line.

Just to show how hot it was here in Raleigh Friday, it's a matter of common knowledge that folks stopped talking about the European situation long enough to ask each other, "Is it hot enough for you?" And your correspondent saw Bill Bellamy, Wilmington attorney, on the street. "I was driving to Henderson and I got so hot I just had to get out of the car and rest a while," said Mr. B.

WANT ADS
 Get Results

LET US SHARPEN AND REPAIR your mowing machine blades. We know how and have the right equipment. C. W. Finch. 8-21

FOR SALE FRESH MILK COW. See W. G. Ayseue at Kelly's Cross Roads. 9-11

WE SPECIALIZE IN ALL KINDS of body and fender repair work. Motor Sales Co. 25-11

FOR RENT NICELY FURNISHED bedroom, first floor, private bath, oil heat. Mrs. J. W. Cooper, phone 129. 9-11

ALL STATE LICENSED BEAUTY operators. Phone 200 for appointment. Your patronage appreciated. Bridgers Beauty Shop. 14-17

FOR RENT: THREE OR FOUR room furnished apartment on Charles street. To Couple without children. Phone 194-J. 8-21

LOOSE LEAF NOTE BOOK, WITH black back, belonging to high school band, lost last night. Finder please notify Mrs. W. B. High, telephone 449. 9-11

VISIT OUR USED CAR LOT FOR better values in used cars. Motor Sales Co. 25-11

GET PRICES ON OUR USED CARS before you buy. E. & Z. Motor Co. Dodge and Plymouth dealers, 111 Chestnut street. 4-6-67

WHITE MOUNTAIN ICE CREAM Freezers reduced one third for clearance. Now's the time to buy a good freezer cheap. Alex S. Watkins. 9-11

FOR SALE: ONE NUMBER 7 McCormick mower, one Number 6 and one Oliver. Second hand, but in good shape. Also one Oliver mower. C. W. Finch. 8-21

TWO CONNECTING BEDROOMS convenient to bath for rent to four ladies or gentlemen. Near high school, Clarke street school. Board if desired. Mrs. Walker, 324 Charles street. 9-11

FOR RENT TO TEACHERS OR business women, large bedroom. Mrs. E. G. Glenn. Telephone 653. 906 Chestnut street. 8-31

FURNISHED 3 ROOM APARTMENT, hot and cold water, use of phone, garage, one block from post office. Mrs. R. G. Bobbitt, 303 S. William street. 7-89

OLD PAPERS FOR SALE AT Daily Dispatch Office; 10c per bundle, 3 bundles for 25c. 25-11

FOR RENT: THREE OR FOUR FURNISHED steamheated bedrooms in desirable section of city. Phone 279-J. 9-11

All keyed ads are strictly confidential. Please do not call the office for their identity.

Capital Gossip
 By HENRY AVERILL

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Sept. 9.—Sometimes it pays to run a good bluff.

G. Q. Gilkey, of Marion, runs no bus lines; but for one reason or another it seems he wanted one run from Marion to Blowing Rock via Newlands and Linville. It also seems he couldn't prevail upon any company to run a line for him.

And so Mr. Kilkey filed, with considerable fanfare and blowing of publicity trumpets, an application for a franchise for such a bus line, probably reasoning he wouldn't have to run it if he didn't want to, even if he got the permission.

But when the Queen City Coach Company heard that Mr. Gilkey had sought the franchise, it forthwith and immediately filed for permission to operate over exactly the same route.

Hearing on both petitions has been set for September 29, but it's common talk that the Gilkey application will be quietly, and joyously, abandoned.

On the front of the new Department of justice building is carved in

INSURANCE -- RENTALS
 Real Estate—Home Financing
 Personal and courteous attention to all details.
 AL B. WESTER
 Phone 139—McCain Bldg.

for Home refreshment
 DRINK Coca-Cola
 BUY THE SIX-BOTTLE CARTON 25c Plus deposit.