WHILE TREES ARE OURS.

Summer is past. The autumn sun proclaims the garden days are done. But lilacs, whose bloom has long gone by, still lift their anthems to the sky. The steadfast pine's fidelity promises winter company and, with the passing of the flowers, beauty remains while trees are ours.

Beauty remains while these are ours: The row of elms, sedate and tall, The linden by the garden wall, The maple in its scarlet dress, The beech tree gray with loveliness.

Some leafless these, so radiant now, But they, when their bright leaves are shed.

Against the winter sky will spread Their delicacy of twig and bough. The blue spruce shouts with ecstasy And poems he thick on every tree.

Miss Evelyn Satterwhite And Bennie Brooks Wed

In a private ceremony Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, Miss Evelyn Grace Satterwhite, of this city, became the bride of Bennie Watkins Brooks, of Oxford. The marriage was performed at the Baptist parsonage here with the Rev. E. Norfleet Gardner, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. The ring ceremony was used.

Only close friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. Prior to the ceremony Miss Hallie Frank Mills played "I Love You Truly" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" on the piano. "The Rosary" was played during the ceremony, and the traditional wedding marches were used.

The couple entered together, unattended. The bride was becomingly attired in a grape wine colored dress, over which she wore a stone blue coat trimmed in gray fox fur. Her accessories were of grape wine, and she wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Terrell Wed To Bill Edwards

Mrs. Gladys Knight Terrell and Willard Floyd Edwards were married in a private ceremony at Lawrenceville, Virginia, at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Dec. 7, with a few friends of the couple attending. Dr. H. J. Terry, of Lawrenceville, performed the marriage, using the ring ceremony.

The bride was becomingly dressed in grape wine moire taffeta, with black accessories.

Mrs. Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knight, of West End. She has been manager of the City Beauty Shop here for some time. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Edwards, of Macon, is connected with the Electric Motor & Repair Co., of Raleigh.

The couple will make their home with the bride's parents until after Christmas.

Marian Martin Pattern

HOUSE DRESS WITH NOVEL YOKE

Marian Martin PATTERN 9248

Daily tasks seem lighter in a house frock that's full of novelty and gay spirits! Marian Martin's Pattern 9248 abounds in novelty, becoming details. A neatly patterned, bright cotton fabric would be perfect. You'll like the shape of the button-trimmed yoke—a shape repeated effectively in the pockets. You might make both yoke and pockets in lively contrast. Darts give a smooth fit to the front waistline and softly blouse the bodice. Isn't that squared neck youthful? As for the sleeves, make them straight or with smart notches. And use ric-rac here, there and everywhere!

Pattern 9248 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 5/8 yards 35 inch fabric and 42 yards ric-rac.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to Henderson Daily Dispatch, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.
