Williams was taken after a short chase and charged with the atempted theft of a locomotive of the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

The locomotive was parked on a iding near the old ice plant on the Durham branch, and, it was brought out in court, Williams, who told the mayor he had been drinking, attempted to open the throttle. Failing to start the engine, Williams is said to have opened a "blower" which was heard by an employee of the railroad, who rushed down to the engine, Williams is said to have
