when the armistice was signed, he declared, accounting for them thus: three in British control, one sunk, one badly damaged and immobilized, one driven ashore and incapacitated for months if not permanently, one which escaped to the French naval base at Toulon after being hit by a torpedo, and the Jean Bart.

"This is the greatest achievement of its kind in the history of naval operations—a remarkable tribute to the value of our sea power, a power which we do not intend to lose," Alexander told the cheering house.

Triple Plan For Attack On England

the besieged craft included France's only aircraft carrier, several submarines and smaller fighting ships.

A group of U. S. navy destroyers was previously reported enroute to the Martinique area to act as observers of any sea clash which might violate the neutrality zone.

If discouraged—think of all the ills from which you are exempt.

Wife Preservers

Use a length of chain for coat hangers when airing family clothes out of doors. The hook of the hanger slips into loop of chain and the hangers don't fall down together, neither does the chain sag with the weight.

Getting His Third Term Stand

President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James A. Farley (right) are pictured at their two-hour conference in the President's Hyde Park, N. Y., home as F.D.R. told Farley his third-term intentions. Farley later announced, "I know the answer, but I can't give it. . . I don't intend to say anything more until after the convention assembles in Chicago."

Held in Family Slayings

Frank Swintek, 19, is pictured in the police station at Buffalo, N. Y., where he is charged with the hammer slaying of his brother Gordon, 9, and sister Teresa, 12. Left, his mother, Cecilia Miziolek, weeps for the slain children. The prisoner was paroled five months ago from Elmira Reformatory where he had been imprisoned for the 1937 ax-slaying of his brother Leo, 17. (Central Press)

At Senate Bund Probe

Wilbur Keegan (left), German-American Bund attorney, and G. Wilhelm Kunze, national Bund leader, appear before the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington. They were questioned in connection with legislation requiring registration of foreign organizations with the State Department.

Rothschilds Reach U.S. Safely

Baron and Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild, of the internationally famous banking family, are shown in New York with their family after flight from war-torn Europe aboard the Samaria. The children are Gwendoline and Leopold de Rothschild, Peter Montefiore, a cousin; and Bettina de Rothschild. (Central Press)

Charged With Faking Communist Petitions

Four of 43 persons indicted in Pittsburgh on charges of faking petitions for the Communist party are shown in Allegheny County detective headquarters. Left to right, Andrew Hromily, of Curti-ville, Pa.; Peter Skrtio, Pittsburgh; Matthew Conjar, Pittsburgh; and John Dorkacz, Pittsburgh. Most of those under indictment are dodging arrest. British Gibraltar Warships—Attacked by France

With a fighting scout plane overhead, the British cruiser Ancona (foreground) and escorting destroyers steam out of Gibraltar during recent operations. French squadrons have joined those of Germany and Italy in attacks on the stronghold as a result of Britain's battle with the French fleet at Mers el-Kebir.

After Bombing Raid on England

Steel-helmeted firemen douse the ruins with water following a German bombing raid on southern England during which Nazi bombs demolished this church. (Central Press)

The War in the Caribbean

Five U. S. destroyers were rushed to the vicinity of Martinique (arrow) as British naval force loomed in the Caribbean. A superior British aircraft carrier and force is reported blockading a plane-laden French aircraft carrier and a submarine flotilla there to prevent their return to Nazi-dominated France. The U. S. warships had been taking on stores at the Virgin Islands. Note proximity of the scene to the Panama Canal. (Central Press)

A Real War Bird

A crew member of a British warplane displays an egg laid by his carrier pigeon while the plane was bombing Germany's Heligoland naval base. Raiding planes use pigeons instead of radios so the enemy won't be warned of their presence. (Central Press)

Held in Slaying

Louisiana State Engineer Harry Jacobs, close friend of the late Senator Huey P. Long, was held by New Orleans police as they probed the slaying of his wife, Edna, 46. Jacobs said she was shot when a hunting rifle he was using went off accidentally. (Central Press)
