

Platform Pledges Americans Will Not Fight Across Seas

Quick Approval of Platform Given by Convention; Foreign Policy Plank Said to Assure "Middle of Road" Policy.

Chicago Stadium, July 18.—(AP)—The Democratic national convention shouted quick approval last night of a 1940 platform promising not to send United States armed forces to fight in foreign lands, outside the Americas, "except in case of attack." Action came after Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, platform committee chairman, read the document amid frequent interruptions of cheering and applause.

Just before the vote, Representative E. J. Ryan of Minnesota offered an amendment to the platform declaring that no man shall be eligible for a third term for President.

Booted Down.
Booting drowned out the clerk's voice as he read the anti-third term proposal and then the delegates shouted it down vociferously by a voice vote.

The 4,000-word document, completed after hours of bickering in the resolutions committee had through the convention off schedule, also promised that "all the material aid at our command, consistent with law and not inconsistent with the interests of our own national defense" would be extended to "the peace-loving and liberty-loving peoples wantonly attacked by ruthless aggressors."

Some of its authors said the foreign policy plank would assure a "middle of the road" course in foreign affairs and Senator Wheeler of Montana declared that if adhered to, it would thoroughly protect the United States and guarantee that there would be "no intervention" in foreign wars.

Pepper Loses.
Before it was finally adopted, however, Senator Pepper of Florida had led an unsuccessful fight for a plank pledging "full aid short of war" for the democracies and "a solemn pledge" that the United States would not extend the "hand of appeasement" to dictators.

Secretary of Commerce Hopkins told reporters "there is nothing in this foreign relations plank which changes by one jot or tittle the foreign policy of the President or Secretary of State."

A specific promise to continue the so-called Guffey soft coal act, which expires next Spring, was written into the labor plank along with a pledge of "sympathetic consideration" of similar legislation for the automotive industry.

Unemployment.
On the question of unemployment, the document recommended a national unemployment conference "under the direction of the President" and to be attended by "leaders of government, industry, labor and farm groups."

Opposition was expressed to placing control of Federally-financed work relief in the hands of the states. The platform declared that "this Republican proposal is a thinly disguised plan to put the unemployed back on the dole."

An another aspect of social legislation, the platform pledged an effort to make the Social Security Act increasingly effective.

Asserting that "weakness and unpreparedness invite aggression," the platform committed the party to providing this country with "an invincible air force, a navy strong enough to protect all our seacoasts and our national interests, and a fully-equipped and mechanized army."

Apparently answering Republican charges that President Roosevelt was responsible for the country's "unpreparedness," the platform declared that for years the Chief Executive has warned the nation that "organized assault against religion, democracy and international good faith threatened our own peace and security."

Under the heading "electric power," the party's policy declaration aimed a blow in the direction of Wendell Willkie, the Republican nominee.

Accept Water Power Issue.
"The nomination of a utility executive by the Republican party as its presidential candidate raises squarely the issue, whether the nation's water power shall be used for all the people or for the selfish interest of the few. We accept that issue," the platform said.

A reaffirmation of the Administration's present farm program was written into the platform together with a pledge to make "parity" as well as soil conservation payments until such time as the goal of parity income for agriculture is realized. No new farm program was involved.

On the question of labor and industry, the platform pledged a continuance of enforcement of fair labor standards, maintenance of the principles of the National Labor Relations Act and expansion of employ-

One Ballot Names FDR

Democrats Noisily Nominate Roosevelt for Third Term; Farley to Back Ticket.

Chicago Stadium, July 18.—(AP)—Discarding an ancient tradition, the Democratic national convention noisily nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term as President of the United States early today—and did it by acclamation.

Farley to Back Ticket.
A smashing majority of the convention's 1,100 votes had been cast for the President, to the clamor of the delegates and the jammed galleries. Before the result could be announced, James A. Farley, once a third term foe, a candidate himself, announced his support for the ticket, and moved that the rules be suspended and the President be acclaimed the party's nominee.

"I am grateful to those delegates to this convention who voted for me and to those delegates who would have voted for me if they had not been otherwise pledged," a smiling Farley told the delegates.

"I want this great convention of Democrats to know that I will give that same support to the nominees of this convention."

Seconded by Tydings.
Farley's motion was seconded by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator Tydings of Maryland. Representative Rayburn of Texas already had turned Texas' 46 votes from Vice President Garner to Mr. Roosevelt.

The Farley motion went through on a roaring voice vote that made most of the convention's previous shoutings seem puny, and Chairman Alben Barkley declared the President to be the convention's unanimous choice as its nominee.

"...THAT'S WHERE WE'LL GO!"

You add to your own enjoyment and protect your right to drink GOOD beer when you choose to drink it only in those retail establishments that are clean, inviting and LAW-ABIDING.

Investigation has proved that the great majority of North Carolina's retail beer outlets are decent, respectable places of legitimate business. However, there are bound to be a certain small number in the group who are "black sheep" in that they permit anti-social practices in their places of business or indulge in them themselves.

Desiring to eliminate the objectionable places, the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee has cooperated fully with law enforcement officials and to date 90 of them have lost their licenses and several score others have been denied new licenses because they refused to "clean up" during the past year.

So . . . when you say: "That's where we'll go!", be sure it is the RIGHT kind of retail beer outlet.
