Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9449

If you like simple, straightforward style enlivened with a touch of novelty, stop right here! This Marian Martin shirtwaister—Pattern 9449—may carry a gay surprise in vertically slashed pockets that are amusingly shaped to hold not much else but fashion interest. The frock is softly tailored, with a back panel in the skirt, long or short sleeves, and a wide, pointed young collar. Light-hearted trimming suggestions are the collar and optional sleeve tabs and pockets all in cheery contrast. Choose a gay-colored liven, cotton or spun rayon for this sprightly frock. Pattern 9449 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2-8 yards 35 inch fabric. Send fifteen cents in coins for each Marian Martin pattern. Thirty cents (30c) for both. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

Send your order to Henderson Daily Dispatch, Pattern Department, 32 W. 18th Street, New York, N. Y.

The guests arrived around six o'clock, and roasted the weiners in the oak grove, after which many games were enjoyed. Those present of honor, and Misses Julia Irene, of honor, and Misses Julia Irene, Lucille, and Betty Jean Watkins.

Miss Wiggins Fetes Miss Rebecca Floyd

Miss Dorothy Wiggins was hostess Saturday afternoon at her home on North Garnett street, honoring Miss Rebecca Floyd, a bride-elect of next month.

The living rooms were thrown en-suite and attractively decorated with mid-summer flowers. Four tables were arranged for bridge and bingo. The honoree was presented a piece of silver in her chosen pattern. In bridge, Mrs. Henry B. White received the award for highest score, and Miss Junie Dunn was given the consolation prize. Mrs. Jerome Jackson presented the high score prize in bingo and Miss Lady Byrd Satterwhite, the low.

The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. C. Wiggins, and her twin yousins, Misses Ann and Becky Mabry, served punch while the guests were playing. At the conclusion, bridal ices and decorated cakes carrying out a scheme of green and white were served to the following guests: Miss Floyd, honoree, Misses Nell Dedman, Nancy Parham, Mary Glover, Lady Byrd Satterwhite, Jennie, Junie, and Willie Dunn, Josephine Parham, of Oxford, and Mesdames T. P. Floyd, J. B. Satterwhite, J. F. Mabry, Norman Holloway, Jerome Jackson, of Raleigh, H. B. White, Jr., James Harris, W. R. Feserman, and Mrs. Allen Holloway.

Camp Robin Hood Meeting Is Held

Members of Camp Robin Hood, the summer reading course for girls and boys at the H. Leslie Perry Memorial Library, assembled on the rear lawn of the library this morning. The leader, Miss Betsy Ann Robards, presided and read the minutes. Miss Kate Furman and Miss Josephine Martin were present for the meeting. In a delightful, informal manner, Miss Furman told the children of interesting wild flowers of Vance county. A botanical map of Vance county which she exhibited revealed native wild flowers. Her subject was particularly appropriate due to the fact that the camp members are reading books about subjects that include birds, wild flowers, stars, and other outdoor features.

At the next meeting in August arrows will be presented to the members who have completed the course. Members must attend the meeting in order to receive their arrows. They are urged to check their records at the library before the meeting.

Presbyterians To Picnic Wednesday

The annual picnic of the First Presbyterian Sunday school is announced for Wednesday afternoon of this week and to be at Camp Balance Rock, a dozen miles southeast of the city, across the line in Franklin county. All members of the church and Sunday school are invited to attend. The Sunday school will provide for swimming for the children and young people. Immediately after the picnic supper, a short vesper service will be held, this to take the place of the regular Wednesday evening prayer service.

In all civilized countries life tends to become of the same type and pattern—warlike and full of war.

Willkie's "Home on the Range"

OFFICERS HERE AT ENFORCEMENT MEET

Chief of Police J. H. Langston, ABC Officers J. C. Champion and L. A. Jackson, and Seaboard Detective W. E. Wilson, along with J. L. Cash, Oxford, police officer, left today for Asheville, to attend the convention of law enforcement officers of North and South Carolina.

An instructive and entertaining program has been mapped out for the visiting officers in the Land of the Sky, and the group is expected to be gone for several days.

FIREMEN GO OUT TO THE CITY DUMP

The fire bell signal of 55 is now used to designate a fire alarm to a fire outside the city limits, it was stated this morning by Mayor Henry F. Powell. The signal is listed in the telephone directory as that for a general alarm.

Mayor Powell said that when the fire alarm sounded last night at about 10 o'clock there were more than one hundred telephone calls to the fire department from persons who wished to know the occasion for the unusual signal.

The fire was at the city dump, where trash was a fire, and the fire department stood by to prevent spread of the flames to adjoining property.

NEW STUNT! Actor Fits Room to Rug, Not Rug to Room

When you buy a rug and it doesn't fit the room you change the rug, of course. But in Hollywood they change the room.

That's why a prominent Hollywood architect is muttering to himself. He had just finished a bedroom addition to the new San Fernando home of Walter Brennan, one of the leading players in Darryl F. Zanuck's Technicolor production of "Maryland," 20th Century-Fox picture which is at the Stevenson theatre, when he was ordered to tear out the walls and enlarge the room for a rug that Brennan bought.

Shortly before Brennan started work in "Maryland" he attended an auction and found it impossible to resist his passion for Oriental rugs, which is one of his hobbies. His bargain was a rug 18 by 27 feet for a room which measured 14 by 25 feet.

Old Line Democrats Regret "Two-Thirds Rule" Change

getting the presidential nomination at the Baltimore convention which chose Woodrow Wilson. Incidentally, Franklin D. Roosevelt was prominent in the delegates' ultimate surge Wisconsinward. Some people argue that that fact had something to do with the anti-Rooseveltian attitude of the late speaker's son during F. D.'s presidential incumbency.

Two-Thirds Rule Abolished.
Be all that—as it may, the present Senator Clark fought hard for the abolition of the Democrats' two-thirds rule.

The southern states didn't want it abolished. They hadn't enough delegates to give them a convention majority, but they did have enough to prevent any aspirant, to whom they might object, from getting two-thirds. Thus they exercised at least a veto power. Several southerners predicted to Bennett Champ that, if he got that rule abolished, sooner or later he'd be sorry—that he'd want to head off some nomination or another and that a plain majority rule would make it impossible for him to do it.

But Bennett didn't believe them. He continued his fight and he won it. The two-thirds rule was abolished, and Bennett Champ had more
