SURELY THE AUTHOR.

Surely the Author of our little play. Since He is wise and hath a humble wit. Cannot have given us the whole of it. In this dull drama of our life today; Where lord or lady struts the leading part. And some unfortunate must act the fool. And every string-pulled puppet as the tool. Or circumstance, with scowlet for a heart. I think that when the velvet curtain falls. Who's face has been made to abdicate. And who is crown upon the head of it. Some shining herald (glancing at the tails. Where his intelligence) will shanty state. "The Ecologue ends; now let the Play begin." Donald Parson in American Weave.

Marian Martin Pattern

Any big afternoon or little evening event is more fun if you know you look your very best. And Marian Martin has designed Pattern 9597 with such deft understanding of nature's figure problems that it will be your most flattering look. The skirt is straight-hanging and with ample sitting and walking room given by two front panels. The bodice is wonderfully fitted and enhancing to a heavy bustline. See how the soft lines are smoothed above the waist by darts and held in by gathers below deeply scalloped yokes. Take your choice between long and three-quarter sleeves, and you'll find a style that fits the whole style by having the "Marian Martin" of the best in vogue contrast.

Pattern 9597 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48. Size 38 requires 2 1/8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1/4 yard contrast.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in cents for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to Daily Dispatch, 100 N. Main Street, Henderson, N. C.

other officers were named as follows: Mrs. Morgan Cooper, vice-president; Mrs. Clarence White, recording secretary; Mrs. Sam Peace, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Harris, treasurer; Mrs. T. P. Gholson and Mrs. Hartwell Bass, readers.

The afternoon's program was closed with an interesting paper on "Close Bodice, Loose Fitting in a Row" given by Mrs. Boyd Kimball, Jr. Mrs. John Zellweger and Mrs. Edna Waddell received Clara Boothe, Miss "Marian for Error".

Mrs. Peace served a round plate with coffee, followed by sweets, to her guests.

Girl Scout Troop Meet on Tuesday

Troop No. 1 of the Girl Scouts held their weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon at Scout headquarters.

Some of the girls passed their tests, and we paid our dues. We then made plans for a hike to be held March 29. We are to meet at West End of Junior high Saturday at 10 o'clock. We went to patrol corners, and were dismissed by the "G. O. Nite" song.

Delores Lord, leader.

Club Is Entertained In Luncheon Meeting

Mrs. M. F. Legg entertained the Woman's Tuesday club Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at luncheon preceding the club's regular afternoon meeting.

The luncheon table, beautiful in all its appointments, had a most unusual epoque arrangement of snugglers, standing from a delicate pink to a deep wine. In the adjoining room early spring flowers, jonquils, lily-of-the-valley, and quince, were attractively arranged. A three course luncheon was served, two courses preceding the regular club program and the other following the meeting.

Seated at the table were the following members: Mrs. Leslie Perry, Mrs. Glad R. Manning, of Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. E. F. Parham, Mrs. A. J. Davis, Mrs. W. B. Waddill, Mrs.

J. M. Peace, Mrs. Kate Watkins, Mrs. Henry Perry, Mrs. W. B. Parham, and Mrs. Legg; and guests for the afternoon, who were Mrs. Edward W. Pou, Mrs. B. H. Burroughs, Mrs. Russell Parham, Mrs. Jere Zollinger, Mrs. Reed Harris, and Miss Kate Furman.

"Musical Tapestries", the topic for the afternoon, proved to be a most delightful program. "The Story of the Most Popular Waltz Ever Written", a discussion of Johann Strauss and his work, was interestingly presented by Mrs. W. B. Parham. Mrs. A. J. Davis played a medley of waltzes at the piano. "Memories of a Mute", by Mrs. Leslie Perry, was a humorous sketch of Harpo Marx. Mrs. Henry Perry read sections of "The Chain of Spring" as the final number on the program.
