THEY SERVE.

We made this law that takes our sons from industry's apprenticed chores And sends them, welded rank on rank, To sweep our seas and fend our shores. No faltering step, no lingering glance Marks parting of the ways; they turn Their backs on dreams and opening doors. May we be worthy of our sons!

We made this law that leaves unbound The answers sought in campus halls, And on the workshop's crowded bench The pattern, incomplete, when falls The summons to defend. They go—our sons, nor ask: "What wage, what course?" Theirs but to serve—their country calls! May we be worthy of our sons! Horace Lozier

Mrs. Gertrude Webster Weds Ernest Fleming

Mrs. Gertrude Page Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Page, and Ernest Fleming, son of Mrs. Howard Fleming and the late Mr. Fleming, of Middleburg, were married Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the First Methodist church. The bride's pastor, the Rev. B. C. Reavis, officiated. Only close friends and relatives were at the ceremony. Ferns were banked at the chancel, and silver vases held mountain laurel. To the ceremony, the organist, George W. Holden, played a group of nuptial selections, including "At Event," "Siddon," "Trauerlied," "Schumann," "I Love You Truly," "Bridal," and "Indian Love Call." The traditional wedding march was used, and during the ceremony the bride wore a gown of pink and white, with a long train and a full skirt. The couple entered the church unattended, the bride wearing a long street length dress of powder blue tulle, with an off-the-face pink straw hat, and matching accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Briarcliff roses. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip to an unannounced destination, not traveling. Mrs. Fleming wore a black suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will make their home in Henderson, where Mr. Fleming is a tobacconist, located at 213 Turner avenue.

Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9651
You can look slim if you really want to—by wearing this beautifully proportioned Marian Martin frock, Pattern 9651. Full-length panels at both front and back will make you seem inches taller and narrower, and low-placed, slanting seams at the hips give smooth, perfect fit. There's an up-turned seam high above the waist in front to keep you nice and flat through the middle. Those two front bodice panels, have gathered fullness that softens and enhances your bustline. Though just shown in all-one fabric, the bodice panels may be in a striking contrast, too. Buttons and lace are optional trimming; notes your belt may tie in front or go all around and buckle or tie in back. Keep the Sew Chart close by!
Pattern 9651 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 3 5/8 yards 39 inch fabric.
Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.
Send your order to Daily Dispatch, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Let These Simple Joys Be Mine

Fundamentals are important—in fact, they're the only things that have real importance. A family picnic, approached in the proper perspective, is just as enjoyable as the most elaborate and expensive of leisure activities. However, it's not the picnic as such that counts—it's the understanding of relationships, the happiness of comradeship and affection that counts. These are fundamentals—truth, love, faith, kindness, understanding—you can discover a wealth of them in the teachings of your church.

Attend the services of the church of your choice—participate in its activities—be a part of the influence that—as much as any other single factor—has made Henderson the town that it is, that has built and prospered our community life.
