THE SEA CHEST.

Glenn Ward Dresbach
Above his pasture hill the clouds were flying
Like swift white sailing ships of long ago,
And over them we heard the punctate crying
Of wild geese bound for northern lakes they knew.

He had been sharpening tools—the lid was lifted
Upon an old blue sea chest, there beside
The wall, and in a faded print still drifted
A full-rigged ship upon a shining tide.

He said, "A sailor left it—on a morning
That must have been like this—when I was young,
He left a field half plowed, without a warning,
My father told me—and always he was wrong."

"The chest was empty, and when I was older
I put the tools in it, so they would shine."
And I could feel the chest upon my shoulder—
I liked pretending then...that it was mine."

Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9743

Sum of the day, requires a cool, casual style that's easy to make. Easy to wear, easy to launder, Pattern 9743 by Marian Martin is the answer—it fills every need for summer postwar. That easy back, buttoning means that you can wear it out with lightning speed—and it allows you to open out the dress in a simple press for sewing and mounting convenience, too. Notice the nice cut to the button back and the becoming, sweetheart shape of the front neckline. A set-in band encircles your waist to make you look willowy, and a panel down the front skirt gives graceful flare. To add to this style's usefulness for lay-over wear, there's a matching or contrasting bolero.

Pattern 9743 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16, dress, requires 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coin for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.
