

Firemen Defeat Clayton But Girls Are Defeated

5-2 Victory Brings Firemen Even in Round Robin; Raleigh Tops Girls, 5-0; Girls Play Again Tonight in Raleigh.

The Henderson Firemen scored a 5-2 victory over Clayton there last night in district softball play, but the Henderson girls came out on the short end of a 5-0 score in Raleigh.

Archie Boyd took the mound for the Firemen, allowing just four hits, and blanked Clayton until the seventh when Blinson hit for the circuit with Harris on base to score the home run.

Thursday night's win brought Henderson even with the board in the round robin with Clayton and Raleigh. Each team has won one and dropped one game.

Woody Woodruff led the batting attack for the Firemen, rapping out three singles in trips.

Henderson scored its five tallies in the fourth frame.

The Henderson girls struck a big snag in the form of Minnie Lee Cole's fast-pitching.

Mary Florence Houghtaling got a single, and Maxine Baker got a single for the other Henderson hit.

Raleigh got off to a fast start with three runs, though only one hit was scored in the part. Henderson three in two errors, a wild pitch and two unfielded outs in the scoring spree.

The Henderson girls return to Raleigh tonight for another test.

Stewart Fogleman turned back Specks Harper 6-0, 6-0.

In the girls' play, Viola Hoyt whipped Mae Tolson, 6-4, 6-1, and Frances Polston stopped Jean Dixon, 6-1, 6-1.

Thursday, N. E. Clifton won over Richard Johnson, 6-2, 6-4, Pat Patterson dropped Stewart Fogleman from the running 6-3, 6-4; Virginia Satterwhite whipped Jackie McDonald, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; Frances Polston won from Viola Hoyt, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

The finals will be run off next week, it is said.

YD's Will Have Good Meet, Nisbet Says, Even Should Fight Fail To Materialize

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the St. Walter Hotel, By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—The boys who are helping Dick Reynolds put on the state Young Democrats convention at Winston-Salem next month are in desperate straits for something new to write about in order to stimulate attendance.

These several articles have been prepared for the sole purpose of letting the people who read newspapers know just how deeply their government—local, state, national—is involved in the business of selling liquor.

In the face of our most recent county elections the trend has been away from legal liquor. Intense emotional campaigns are in the making in Franklin, Vance and Warren counties where voting is scheduled for the fall.

Many observers believe that results of these elections will have tremendous influence upon other counties and will determine pretty accurately whether the ABC system can survive at all.

By way of a signed article in the Winston-Salem paper comes word that Ralph Gardner may make another try for state presidency. Gardner from its founding has been the YDC outfit gets a president one year from the west, next year from the east. They once tried alternating sexes, but found that just wouldn't work out with the geographic allocations. This year the president is supposed to come from the east. And Shelby, where Ralph Gardner lives, isn't in the east—although there be some who say that with respect to state Democratic politics the Cleveland town is darn near the whole thing.

The Winston scribe sets forth that young Gardner's friends are urging him to "do a Roosevelt" and ignore precedent by going out for another term. He points out that usually all the easterners have quit anyhow, and that Gardner could easily lick the remaining two or three prospects.

A little scouting around capitol hill and its environs leads to the conclusion that this is just another publicity stunt, that Gardner has no idea of running again, and that the important people who allegedly got him elected last year have no idea of permitting him to embarrass them by another candidacy. Capitol Hill gossip stacks up something along this line:

There was just a little bit of feeling engendered last summer by late entry of Ralph Gardner into the race for state president—this based on the belief that his gaddy, former Governor Max Gardner, and his uncle, then Governor Clyde Hoey, put him up to it. Then during the early summer this year came the executive committee scrap over filling the vacancy on the Democratic national committee, in which the Gardner-Hoey-Broughton faction administered a thorough drubbing to the "outstart" Dick Reynolds. Now the powers that are high up in party councils think harmony is the most urgent present need and will do nothing to disturb further amicable relations among candidates.

Several eastern candidates sent up trial balloons, but in every case there was some reason why factional differences would be involved. Some suggested Leonidas Hux, youthful and exuberant clerk of court of Halifax. Hux was a McDuff man in '36, a Broughton man in '40, and excellent politician all the time. He fitted the picture. One by one the easterners began to drop out. All are out now except Ralph Monger of Sanford, and Capitol Hill hears he'll suit at the right time, leaving the field to Hux. One hears that arrangements are already made for the first six congressional district groups to endorse Hux before the convention.

So, despite the efforts of publicity to indicate a brewing fight at the convention, all reliable signs are that there'll be none. In any case it will be a good convention, Dick Reynolds has cut loose the strings on his ample money bags and is said to be spending fifteen thousand dollars for free entertainment for the visitors. With that free entertainment, good will should prevail and harmony triumph.

Addressing a New York rally sponsored by the Council for Democracy, Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the United States Supreme Court, who presided, urged that this country, after defeat of the dictatorships, join other democracies in "a world union to guarantee and enforce" perpetual peace.

Stock Market Selling Light

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Stock market bidders maintained a highly discreet attitude today and, while a number of favorites were given a modest lift, many leaders suffered from neglect.

Motors were under water from the start and rails, aircrafts, rubber, coppers and oils generally failed to make much progress. Selling was exceptionally light, however, and declines mostly were in small fraction near the fourth hour.

9th Division Withdraws

Fort Bragg, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A mock parachute attack by Blue forces from Fort Jackson, S. C., during last night and withdrawal of the entire 9th Division to a defensive position north of Little river highlighted the closing phase of maneuvers held here this week.

The streamlined 9th Division—designated the Red army—met the 6th Brigade Combat team supplemented by other units, from Fort Jackson, in the simulated warfare for intensive training in tactics.

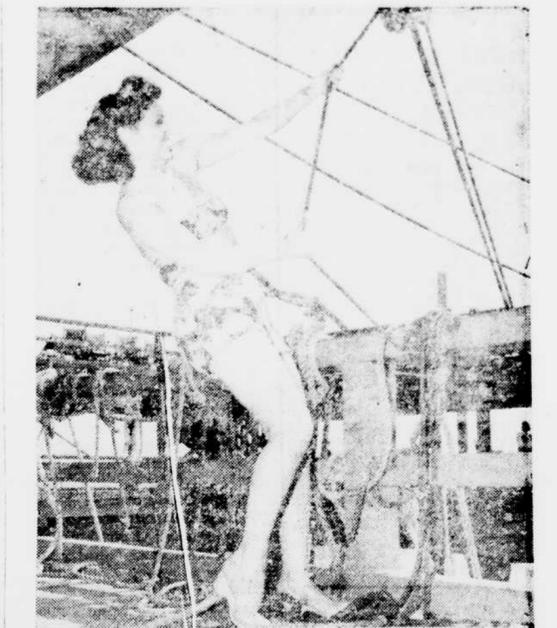

Brigadier General Edwin F. Harding, commander of 9th Division infantry, said today that troop movements yesterday were slower than hitherto and that for the first time since it was reactivated last year, the 9th was in a defensive position.

Liquor, Wine, Beer Pay High Taxes

out first. That focuses interest in beer revenue, and it is found that the state of North Carolina last fiscal year collected the sum of $1,492,688.44 from beer taxes, while counties and cities got $177,500 for dealer licenses. Figures on wine revenue cannot be obtained with accuracy because wine is sold in ABC stores and also the 3 per cent sales tax on grocery store sales is lumped in with other sales tax. But adding ABC revenue, beer taxes and a minimum estimate on wine receipts, it is found that the state government got above two and a quarter million dollars last year from the sale of alcoholic beverages. A TRIBUTE

On Monday, August 11, 1941, at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, James W. Gaddy and Bruce C. Jordan, of the Henderson District of the Carolina Power & Light Company, lost their lives in the performance of their duties.

We deplore the untimely passing of these men whose high character, loyalty, and devotion to public service commanded the esteem of their superiors, the admiration of their friends, and the respect of fellow citizens.

It is our hope that this most deserved tribute to their memory will serve as a measure of comfort to their families and friends.

Sincerely,
L. V. SUTTON,
President and General Manager.
