North-South game which was in the cards

West's double of the 2-Spades, however, threw his pair into a wild bottom score. South rattled off the remaining ten tricks with the same great ease as the young man on the flying trapeze...

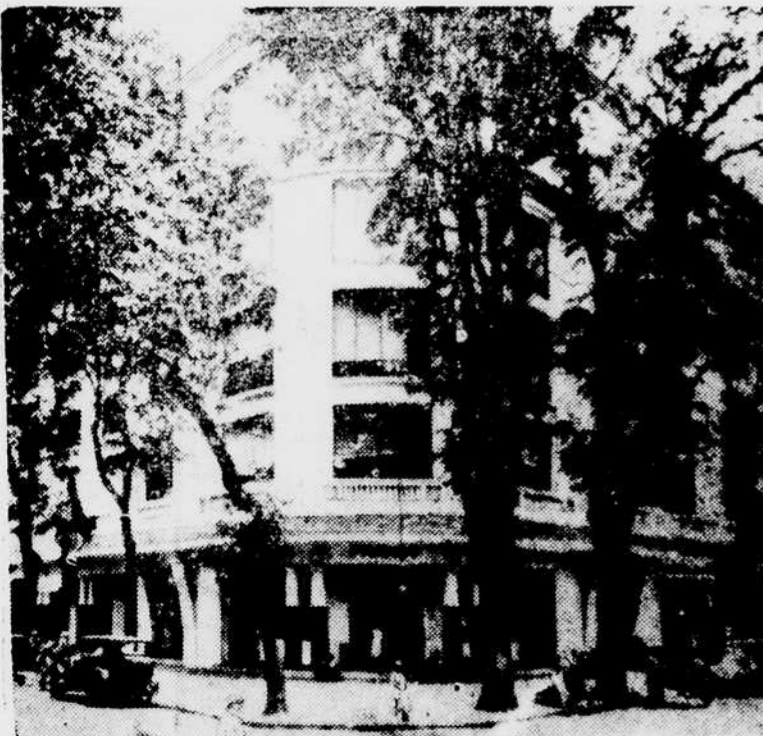

When East, having opened later passed North's 2-Spades, West should have begun to be suspicious as that pass was in the face of West's having made a free bid over South's call...
