UNC Alumni In Air Corps

Chapel Hill, Jan. 8—Seven University of North Carolina alumni are now flying students at the Army Air Corps Replacement Center at Maxwell Field, Alabama, and another at the Air Corps Advanced Flying School at Victoria, Texas, it was learned here today.

Cadet John Warner White of Nashville, class of 1942, has just enrolled as an aviation cadet at Maxwell Field.

Cadet Larry Lucas Bass, Rocky Mount, class of '41, is another enrollee there, and upon completion of courses in primary, basic and advanced schools, will be awarded commission as a second lieutenant.

George Evangelos Paris, Jr., Lenoir, '41, will enjoy the primary school at Maxwell Field in the next few days.

William Milton Miller, Chapel Hill, '39, has also enrolled as a cadet. He was a chemist with the Republic Steel Corporation before entering the service.

Littleton C. Selden, '41, has been graduated ahead of schedule at the Air Corps Advanced Flying School, Victoria, Texas.

Thomas Mackey Hines, ex-'43, from Charlotte, is beginning the first

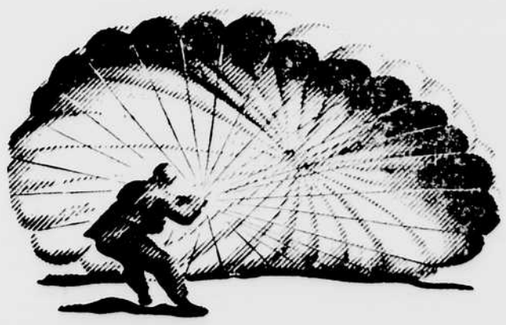
"DRESSED TO KILL" with LLOYD NOLAN

UNCLE SAM'S paratroopers, going "downstairs" on business, carry three square meals in one small pocket of their uniforms.

It's very special food—powdered, concentrated—calories carefully counted—but complete from soup to coffee. It gives husky men the reserve power to keep going when other supplies are cut off.



Reserve power is just as vital in industrial as in military emergencies. When tank factories, plane plants and shipyards began to eat up more and more electric power, reserve rations were ready.

Reserves planned and built up in advance by the business men who manage America's power companies. . . . Reserves that met almost every defense demand overnight. . . . Reserves available at almost any point of need, because of carefully planned and interconnected systems.

But no power reserves could continue to satisfy hungry, humming machines indefinitely. So the electric companies have been working fast to keep ahead. They put over 2½ million more horsepower into production during 1941—enough to light one-quarter of all the nation's homes!

Here is a basic defense industry, able and willing to do its part—glad to pledge all-out co-operation with government and industry—until the skies and seas around America are secure and free forever!
