

Survivors Of Ship Sinkings Suffer From Inadequate Care

Daily Dispatch Bureau.
In the Sir Walter Raleigh.
By BOB THOMPSON

Raleigh, March 22—(Special) Survivors of the Sir Walter Raleigh, which was sunk off the coast of North Carolina, are being cared for in a makeshift hospital here. The Raleigh was one of the largest passenger ships in the world, and it was carrying a large number of passengers and crew members when it was sunk.

Yesterday afternoon, when the situation was especially critical, a telephone report from Morehead was to the effect that neither personnel nor equipment had arrived there.

At 5 o'clock there had been little or no word from the Raleigh. Survivors were being cared for in a makeshift hospital here. The Raleigh was one of the largest passenger ships in the world, and it was carrying a large number of passengers and crew members when it was sunk.

One More for U.S.

Washington, March 22—(Special) The U.S. Coast Guard today announced that it had rescued a fourth American pilot who had been shot down over the Atlantic Ocean. The pilot, who was named as being a member of the U.S. Army Air Corps, was rescued by a Coast Guard cutter.

The ship, sleek seaplane tender, Abasco, slides down the ways at a Pacific coast shipyard. She was christened by Mrs. Lee Moore Jones. A few days earlier a destroyer had been launched at the same yard.

PRAYER.

Prayer is the thing that counts most. Especially today, when things seem so dark. When you are feeling sad and lonely, and when you are in need of help, pray to the Lord who loves you.
