Explains Reason For Rationing Of Shoes in Nation

Increased sales of shoes in the first half of 1942 as against restricted production was the reason shoe rationing was forced upon the country, according to the official copy of Ration Order 15, which was received today by the Henderson Chamber of Commerce.

The 1943 production of shoes for civilian use is expected to be smaller than in 1942. Leather shortages and shortages of skilled manpower will be the principal reasons. The cut in production officials estimate will be 25 percent.

The text of the order clears several questions which have developed in the past few days. Arthur H. Sutprise, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce said today. Provision is made for the issuance of extra shoes beyond ration allowances, when there is actual need for extra shoes. This would apply in particular to persons whose work causes excessive wear in spite of reasonable precaution. Persons who believe themselves eligible for extra shoes will make application to the various local war price and ration boards.

In instances where employers provide special shoe for employees the employers will be able to continue this practice without charge against the employee's ration. Also when schools provide special shoes in connection with athletics these shoes will be provided without charge against the student's ration book.

In a short time certain types of shoes, at present rationed, will be classed as "non-rationed" and dealers will be permitted to sell these shoes to all comers. This will probably take in the "novelty" types which admittedly are not designed to give lengthy service. Most shoes of this type are girls' and women's shoes, it was explained.

Dealers will soon be instructed regarding opening ration bank accounts for divorcing of the ration coupons. Dealers are also required to keep all invoices and records of transfers of shoes and to make complete inventories of stocks at six months intervals. The date for the inventory will be announced later. In the event shoe stocks are too small, dealers can get extra shoes to build up available stocks.

MANY PAPER ITEMS OUT FOR DURATION

There will be no more parties for lamb chops after this week. Order M-241— has prohibited the manufacture of any more of the paper frills which decorate the well-dressed lamb chops, the Henderson Chamber of Commerce has learned.

Many paper items will not be manufactured after this week as a result of this order. Paper aprons, meat trays, bakers decorative specialties, bird cage papers, bridge holders, card table covers, paper doilies, finger bowl liners, hanger protectors, practically all novelties for party purposes, paper poker chips, punch boards and the popular baseball tickets, laundry supplies, paper vegetable dishes and paper window drapes are under the ban.
