THE CLOUDLANDS.

Over the earth, gathered in vast crowds
Of turning billowing forms that slowly move
Across the deeps of heaven, as if to prove
The sky the fittest place for motion
—clouds.
The loveliest moving things in all the broad Expanses of the world, will always rove,
And in their bright progression fill
with love
All those who see them, being a sign of God.

The stillest pools in silent woods reflect
Upon their mirroring surfaces these shapes,
These lime-white cloudlands of the upper air,
And those who look upon the pools collect Within their eyes the many bays and caps,
Of realms most gloriously strange and fair.

Methodist Church Plans Easter Rites

Easter Week activities at the First Methodist church were outlined today by the pastor, the Rev. H. K. King, including the christening of infants, reception into the church of new members, Easter music, a special service planned and presented by the Youth Division under the direction of Miss Mildred Whitener, participation of the young people in the union sunrise service on Easter morning, and participation in Holy Week union services.

Christening of children will take place at church services to Palm Sunday, next Sunday morning, the pastor said. All parents who wish to have their babies christened are asked to notify Mr. King during this week.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

day of Holy Week, at 4 o'clock each afternoon, the pastor will hold a training class for the boys and girls who wish to unite with the church on Easter Sunday. In addition, all young people and adults who are interested in uniting with the church are invited to attend the mid-week services on Wednesday night of this week, and next week, when church membership for youths and adults will be discussed.

Three choruses—the junior choir, young people's choir and adult choir—will take part in the Easter matinee. New members will be received into the church at this time.

Services on Easter evening will be in charge of the young people of the church, who are said to be planning an impressive Easter program for that hour.

On next Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock service, Mr. King will preach the last of a series of sermons on "The Meaning of the Cross."

Mr. King will serve with pastors of other churches of the city in conducting the noon hour services at the Stevenson theatre during Holy Week, and the First Methodist church will be host to the three-hour union service on Good Friday, from noon until 3 p. m.

Roach Will Speak Before B-P Meeting

Rev. J. F. Roach, pastor of New Bethel Baptist church at Epsom, this county, and of the North Baptist church in the North Carolina Baptist conference, will be the main speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Tri-County Baptist-Philathea Union of Vance, Granville and Warren counties, to be held here next Thursday evening. It was announced today by Mrs. C. D. Allen, president of the group.

The affair will be a double supper at the Capital cafe, at 7 p. m. and some fifty reservations have been made already, it was stated.

Mrs. J. Franklin Mills, teacher for fifteen years of the Shaw Philathea class of the First Baptist church in Henderson will be the main attraction. The invocation will be by Rev. E. Norfield Gardner, pastor of the First Baptist church.

One of the features of the meeting, in addition to reports from classes in churches of the three counties, will be the annual election of officers. Present officers, in addition to Mrs. Allen, are: Charlie Newwood, first vice-president (now in the Army); Mrs. W. L. Wood, of Warrington, second vice-president; Miss Becky John Adkins, of Henderson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. S. C. Murphy, of Epsom, this county, corresponding secretary, with Charlie O. Moinor, of Oxford, treasurer.

All Vance and Philathea Bible classes in the three counties are invited to send representatives to the meeting.

Local Soldier In Tunisia

Sergeant Thomas E. Stevens, 23 son of Mrs. B. B. Stevens of Henderson route 2, was one of a group of United States Army men recently recently as guarding Mount Lemna overlooking the Kasernen plain in Tunisia, before the American-Italian offensive got under way. The group was described as "damned cool" and made by "gum, water, dipping, from the rocks."

Mention of the local soldier was in connection with account of how a sergeant from the Kentucky outfit, where riflemen were which eyes a squirrel they want to know what is saving Uncle Sam's ammunition by knocking off two Germans without a bullet.

"There's no use wasting ammunition if you can make a squirrel work overtime," the Associated Press writer quotes as being said by Sgt. Sergeant Melvin Blackburn, 29, of Butte, Ky., who pulled the trigger of his 1903 Springfield once and sent two Germans spinning from a seven-man motorcycle trying to speed past American infantry.

"We were withdrawing through Kasernen when these guys drove up. Looking at us were three Germans, and Blackburn, 'I motioned for them to stop, but when they tried to go around me I whirled and fired once.' The bullet hit the back seat, apparently an officer, between the shoulder blades and went on through the driver, too. The fellow in the rear fell to the left and the front man fell to the right. The motorcycle turned over. Neither man moved and both apparently were dead. I could see blood on both of them, but we didn't stop to check as we were under machine gun fire ourselves, and had to continue the withdrawal."

Another Kentuckian—Corporal Dillard Pratt, 21, of Razard—while in the way out with the same platoon took a pop with his Springfield rifle and clipped a German from another motorcycle 500 yards away.

FIFTY BIRTHS, NINE DEATHS LAST MONTH

Total births of 37 white babies and 13 colored babies were reported in Vance county during the month of March, and deaths of four white persons and five Negroes were reported for the same period, according to the monthly summary of vital statistics made public today by Dr. A. D. Flegg, Vance registrar of vital statistics.

Three of the deaths were attributed to pneumonia, two to myocarditis, and one each to heart failure, intestinal obstruction, tuberculosis and cancer of the liver.

The United States normally imports from 10 to 20 per cent of its annual supply of fats.

Joins Marines

When Miss Janet Lewis, above, was five she lived in Santo Domingo and two Marines came to live with her family to protect them against pirate bands. The two Marines only stayed five or six days but they were "so gallant" that they made a lasting impression on her. That's why when Miss Lewis, who is now aged 23, the American embassy in Cuba, found out that the U. S. Marine Corps was enlisting women she went to Havana and journeyed 1000 miles to Alton, Ga., to join the leathernecks.

Baptist Class Honors The Late Miss Draper

A memorial service in honor of Miss Carrie Draper, who died last week, was part of the program at the monthly meeting of the Shaw Philathea class of the First Baptist church, held at the church Monday evening. Miss Draper was one of the oldest members of the class in point of service, and had served the group at different times in different capacities over a long period.

Mrs. W. C. Stambaek, presented Mrs. J. T. Alderman, former teacher of the class and now substitute teacher, who reviewed the history of the class and Miss Draper's service.

She characterized the deceased member as "personifying the real attributes of a true Philathea." Mrs. J. Franklin Mills, present teacher, said Miss Draper was the fourth active member to die since she had been teacher the past fifteen years. She concluded with a poem which she said was fitting to the life of Miss Draper. A beautiful basket of roses decorated the speaker's table.

The class voted to furnish an additional 25 stars to be placed on the church's service flag, which now contains 91 stars for men from the congregation now in the armed forces. The flag was sponsored originally by the Shaw class and another group.

Mrs. C. D. Allen, president of the Tri-County Baptist-Philathea Union of Vance, Granville and Warren counties, announced that quarterly dinner and meeting of the group will be held at the Capital restaurant here Thursday evening of this week. She said reservations already numbered about fifty, including a large number from the First Baptist church.

Reports included that of the treasurer, Mrs. Roy Tippet, one by Mrs. H. G. Gilliland in regards sent to his wife, and the personal service committee which had sent fruit, flowers and other gifts to the sick, and had also made numerous visits.

During the devotional period, led by Mrs. J. G. Parker, one sang a poem, "The Last Hour," after which Mrs. E. G. Snow sang "Love, Love, My Soul." Mrs. J. R. Carter was received as a new member. Singing of the Philathea hymn opened the meeting.

Later Mrs. Albert Edwards gave a piano solo, and Mrs. Mills read several humorous poems.

Committees for the coming month were named as follows: Door, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. H. V. Cudd; room, Mrs. John S. Milne, Mrs. Marvin Davis; sick, Mrs. W. H. Kimball, Mrs. E. G. Snow; personal service, Mrs. J. H. Linton, Mrs. R. E. Satterwhite; and May hostesses, Misses W. C. Stambaek, E. P. Barker, J. Franklin Mills, W. E. Walker and A. A. Stambaek.

Attendance of members was large and a number of visitors were also present. Mrs. J. C. Stambaek, the president, presided.
