HEALTH—Once again the two week report on diseases released by the State Board of Health for the month ending May 29 shows an increase over last year. Total for the two weeks of all reportable diseases is 1,742. This year, compared with 1,541 last year. More chicken pox and whooping cough account for nearly all of the gain, with many deaths running about the same.

FOOD—Inmate figures showing percentage of increased plantings of food crops seem something to be proud of. The average percent increase in the field is understood to be much more than in the garden. The change is not really noticeable, however. The State Board of Health is Wilson. The State Board of Health is Wilson. The State Board of Health is Wilson.
