

Quota Plan Is Favored

90 Per Cent of Votes for Quotas; $41 Ceiling Set on Eve of Opening

Atlanta, Ga., July 26.—(AP)—Tobacco growers of Georgia and Florida started filling warehouses with their golden leaf today making ready for Tuesday's opening of auctions under Government price ceilings which generally were greeted with expressions of satisfaction.

The movement into the warehouses started soon after the farmers had voted overwhelmingly in a referendum Saturday to continue Federal control of the crop's production on a quota basis.

With practically complete returns in from the six-state tobacco vote, more than 90 per cent of those voting favored the plan and quota restrictions.

In all, 120,867 voted for continuation and only 12,690 voted against. Of those voting for the quota plan, the balance voted for a $41-a-cow plan.

In North Carolina, 79.6 per cent of the vote was for continuation and 20.4 per cent for the $41-a-cow plan.

The price ceiling of the Office of Price Administration is set at a hundred cents, compared with a ceiling of 88.75 cents for the last year of 1942.

In Georgia and Florida, the quota prices averaged a shade over $30, but when the auctions opened into the Carolinas and Virginia prices soared and the OPA set the price limit.

At Valdosta, one of the largest growing areas in Georgia, the warehouses started being filled with the quota plan today.

GUEST—When Harry W. Carmichael of Topeka, Kansas, stopped in Raleigh Saturday en route to Chapel Hill to visit his son, who is in the Navy pre-flight school there, he didn't know he was going to get a ride to Fort Bragg with the governor and sit with the official party as the North Carolina State Guard passed in review.

SULLIVAN—Budget bureau and other State folk in position to have a good idea of what the general fund surplus as of July 1 will amount to, but they are wary about early figures.

EXTRA—The State figuring boys want the exact amount before they will announce it. To the average citizen $500,000 or $100,000 is a small sum.

FIGURES—Speaking of figures, James S. Hutch, statistical engineer for the highway commission, is working on some figures now that may prove interesting if not especially valuable.

PURPOSE—The survey may prove extremely valuable for financing road and in the allocation of repair parts or replacements. Result of the current study will have bearing on the problem of transportation of industrial workers, both now and after the war until the production of new cars can catch up with the need.

VOTED—Governor Broughton greeted the newsmen Saturday with a smile and with the statement "I've done something this morning I doubt if any of you fellows have done: I voted for the tobacco quota." The governor's vote is a little north of the Raleigh and early Saturday he drove up to Millbrook to meet to cast his vote as a tobacco farmer as extending the acreage quota another three years.

AGAINST—S. H. Hobbs, the well known farmer and house legislator from Sampson county and a prolific contributor to new public terminal is one of the minority who vigorously opposed the quota system. Hobbs told some friends in Raleigh Saturday that the recent storm damage to tobacco throughout eastern North Carolina was a definite indication that Providence was against the statutory limitations on farm production.

BARRIERS—Current difficulties experienced by motorists going from one ration area to another, resulting in the necessity of stopping at state lines and exchanging gasoline coupons, brought some interesting comment from one State official who feels that his name be withheld.

WIFE PRESERVERS—If you have trouble with threads sticking to a garment after you have ripped some seams, and they are hard to get off, take your machine to the "Wife Preservers" and use much as you use a brush, and will pick up the stubborn threads easily.

Office Space At Premium In Raleigh

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In The Sir Walter Hotel. By LYNN NISBET. Raleigh, July 26.—Despite erection within the past five years of three large State office buildings, and the passing out of existence of several federal agencies which used a great deal of this space, the problem of housing State departments, bureaus, commissions and boards remains.

R. M. Rothgeb, business manager for the combined mental hospital, is using a corner of an already crowded budget bureau office. As soon as the hospital board elects a representative of agriculture, the building and ground committee will have to find office room for him.

REAR ROOMS—The unimproved and unimproved rear rooms are a general complaint to all of these office spaces.

War Question Box

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In The Sir Walter Hotel. By LYNN NISBET. Every week the Daily Dispatch Raleigh bureau will answer questions concerning the war's effects on civilians.

A. Age alone doesn't determine whether a soldier will be released for farm or dairy work...

A. There's surety in... Why don't you try the Women's Army Corps?

A. It looks as if your son is definitely on the spot, if he's not the father of the child, then it's up to him to prove it.

A. No, sir, you're not. And you can't be a postal worker in the Volunteer State...
