Israel's Sin and Restoration — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Exodus 32-34.

Moses was in the mountain a long time and the people wearied and went to Aaron and asked him to make them gods, for, they said, Moses is gone and we know not what has become of him.

Aaron told them to give him their golden ornaments and he made a golden calf out of them, and the people worshiped it and the next day they proclaimed a feast and ate and drank and played.

When Moses came down from the mount with the tablets of stone containing the commandments, and saw the golden calf, of which the Lord had told him, Moses was so angry he broke the tablets.

Moses pleaded with the Lord to forgive His people, then he [illegible] the mount, and when he returned [illegible] his face shone so that they could [illegible]

School Budget Raises Funds For Principals And Supplies

In the Sir Walter Hotel,
Daily Dispatch Bureau,
By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Aug. 27.—The biggest budget ever suggested for public schools in this state, and perhaps the biggest ever offered by any American commonwealth out of state funds, was approved by the finance committee of the State board of education Thursday without controversy or heated argument. More than 37 million dollars will be distributed among the 170 public school administrative units during the 1943-44 term.

The approved budget, expected to be adopted by the full board at its next meeting without question, provides substantial increase in the amounts available for teacher classroom supplies, boosts the pay for clerical assistance to superintendents, raises the salary of principals practically to predepression levels, and provides extra pay for principals for time used before and after school.

There was some discussion about the clerical assistance and principal pay items, more over the method of appointing the increases than over the amount or the basic principle involved. The committee sought to make it clear that the additional money was for extra personnel or extra services rather than just a pay raise for the same people on the same job. Time attendance, in order to get the money for more clerical help must have actual need and must employ additional help instead of raising the salary of present employees. Principals will be expected to devote more time to details of preparations for opening and winding up school terms, and in rural communities will have large responsibility for routing and supervising school buses.

Increased allocation for substitute teachers was also included in the tentative budget.

The budget was prepared in the office of Nathan Yelton, comptroller, and was approved without material change, but committee consideration of it was not perfunctory. The five-member committee composed of Dr. Julian Miller, Dr. L. M. Bussey, A. McL. Graham, Ryan McIlveen and Harry E. Isenhour, together with State Superintendent Clyde Erwin and Comptroller Yelton, spent a full day on it.

In raising salaries for supervisory work and increasing allocation for instructional supplies, the committee was attempting to restore these items to their relative status before the depression, a goal already pretty nearly achieved with respect to teachers' salaries. Even so, a few teachers have complained that there is no justice in giving principals "another raise" when the teachers are not similarly cared for. Perhaps that's why the board members were so careful to emphasize that the increased pay was for additional duties.

The Golden Text

Israelites worshiping the golden calf.

"Jehovah is slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression."—Numbers 14:18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for Aug. 29 is Exodus 32-34; the Golden Text being Numbers 14:18, "Jehovah is slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression.")

[illegible] all the goodness shown to the children of Israel by the Lord; after being led from the land of Egypt and protected from all the perils they encountered by the way [illegible] to their God, and [illegible] It came about [illegible]

Moses [illegible] the mountain [illegible] and the people did [illegible] was coming back [illegible] and even can [illegible] they [illegible] get up and [illegible] to protect them [illegible] Moses [illegible] up out of the land of [illegible] have not what [illegible]

Aaron [illegible] have known Let [illegible] out the golden [illegible] from the [illegible] He would protect [illegible] and their trust in [illegible] But Aaron [illegible] Just as [illegible] down to [illegible] and to become [illegible] only [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] when Moses [illegible] about they got into mischief. Aaron told them to bring him all the golden ornaments they had and he would make them a golden calf.

He melted the earrings and other ornaments, took a graving tool and fashioned a golden calf, and built an altar before it. Then he made a proclamation that they should make a feast, so they rose up early next day, offered burnt offerings [illegible] and then all sat down [illegible] drink, and rose up to play.

Moses Learns of Wickedness.

The Lord knew what [illegible] and sent to Moses [illegible] to get [illegible] for thy people, which [illegible] out of the land of Egypt [illegible] committed themselves. They [illegible] turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them; they [illegible] have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which [illegible] brought thee up out of the land of Egypt."

The Lord was very angry and wanted to do away the "stiff necked people," but Moses pleaded with Him to remember Abraham, Isaac and Israel, and not destroy them. The Lord repented, therefore, and Moses went down to his people carrying the tablets of stone on which were written the commandments.

When he saw Moses, saw the people making merry and worshiping the golden calf, his anger broke forth against them and he threw the tablets of stone down and broke them. He also burnt the golden calf and ground it to powder and strewed it upon the water and made the people drink of it.

Then Moses called on all those who were faithful to the Lord to stand forth, and all the sons of Levi stood. He ordered them to "put every man his sword at his side, and go in and out from the gate throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbor." About 3,000 men fell that sad day.

Moses Returns to the Lord.

Moses then returned to the Lord and admitted that his people had sinned a great sin, but asked for forgiveness for them. The Lord forgave them, and told Moses that He would give them the land flowing with milk and honey, as He had promised.

Moses took the tabernacle far from the camp, and when Moses went to the tabernacle, the people, stripped of all their ornaments, watched him from their tent doors. And all saw the cloudy pillar descend and stand at the door of the tabernacle.

Moses asked the Lord to show him His glory if he had found grace in His sight, and the Lord told Moses to stand upon a rock. "And it shall come to pass, while My glory passeth by, that I will put thee in a cleft of the rock, and will cover thee with My hand while I pass by."

The Lord commanded Moses to make two more tables of stone like the first and to come up to Mount Sinai the next morning. He did as the Lord told him, and the Lord gave him further instructions as to the conduct of the people; and Moses stayed up in the mount for 40 days and 40 nights, neither eating nor drinking, but writing on the tables of stone.

When he came down from the mount his face shone so that the people were afraid and he put a veil over it while he talked to them.

"Verily, the Lord is slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday, Judge. Aren't goin' in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several counties where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise', 'Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices', 'Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck'. Doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor...plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."
