

Hoffman Asks Pulp Saving

College Station, Raleigh, Nov. 5.—Dr. J. V. Hoffman, head of the forestry department at State College, today issued a two-fold appeal to North Carolinians to relieve the pulpwood shortage.

He urged the farmers to take to the forests and cut out the vast stores of pulp in their adjoining states.

His second appeal was to the housewives to turn in their supplies of waste paper of all descriptions to junk dealers to be shipped to mills where it will be recycled into new paper.

Production in the mills has dropped one-fourth below what it should be, Hoffman said. Unless this slack is made up, the country's needs will take a serious toll.

The three mills in North Carolina at Durham, Rutherford and Canton are producing 100,000 tons of pulp annually for the country.

Additional mills are being built and a program of State College is being carried out to encourage the use of waste paper.

Cotton Values Lower At Noon

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures (old contract) opened unchanged to five cents a bale lower. Noon values were ten to 30 cents a bale lower. December 1977, March 1955 and May 1928.

Month	Previous	Close	Open
December	19.79	19.73	19.73
March	19.55	19.53	19.53
May	19.34	19.33	19.33
July	19.13	19.13	19.13

Stocks Make Small Gains

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Selling pressure relaxed appreciably in today's market and recovery tendencies were exhibited by assorted rail and industrial.

American Distilling resumed its bid for jumping about three points to a new 1943 peak. Gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Texas Company, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Western Union and American Smelting.

13 Homeless as Two Large Houses Burn

(Continued from Page One) learned. Their injuries were received for the most part as they worked to remove household effects from burning or threatened residences in the fire area.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. ... was destroyed. The house on Zee street and Turner avenue. The Oxford truck took up a position in front of the warehouse and residence properties on College street and poured its streams on the blaze from the outside point.

Loss Is Heavy There was no adequate breakdown of the loss and unofficial estimates had to be relied upon. The original Big Henderson Warehouse, built some fifteen years ago, and one of the most modern in this section of the State, was erected at a cost of some $40,000 and later additions cost $2,000. Its replacement today would be far above that figure.

Forty Homeless Mayor Henry Powell estimated that about forty of the most needy were rendered homeless by the fire. They saved some things but all their household belongings, but some were damaged in being removed.

When the fire was brought under control well toward dawn, the water level in the city's waterworks was down to about that of two weeks ago, or possibly lower for the quantity reserve available at any time during the present water shortage crisis.

Help From Oxford Help in fighting the fire was asked of Oxford, and the fire department there sent a truck within less than half an hour and it worked through the burning area until the blaze was controlled. At one time four trucks were pouring streams of water into the inferno.

Heat Intense The first team to reach the scene was from the Montgomery and Zee streets, but the heat soon drove them back. The fire spread to the westward along the streets to a point where the fire was controlled.

PRISONER-EXCHANGE YANKS BACK IN U. S.

WOUNDED AMERICAN SOLDIERS, released by the Nazis in an exchange of prisoners, are shown in an ambulance at the Washington, D. C. airport, after being flown from England. They are (l. to r.): Sgt. E. N. Nelson, Marshall, Minn.; Pvt. R. M. Scott, Greenboro, N. C.; Sgt. L. F. Miller, Hartford, Conn.; J. H. Gardner, Yorkton, Tex.; Norman C. Goodwin, Bradford, Mass.; Frank J. Bartnicki, Baltimore, Md.; and Pfc. Herbert L. Ehrlich, Brooklyn, New York.

truck, biggest and newest the city possessed, was stationed at Montgomery and Zee streets, and another at the corner of the Banner Warehouse on Zee street and Turner avenue. The Oxford truck took up a position in front of the warehouse and residence properties on College street and poured its streams on the blaze from the outside point.

Loss Is Heavy There was no adequate breakdown of the loss and unofficial estimates had to be relied upon. The original Big Henderson Warehouse, built some fifteen years ago, and one of the most modern in this section of the State, was erected at a cost of some $40,000 and later additions cost $2,000.

Forty Homeless Mayor Henry Powell estimated that about forty of the most needy were rendered homeless by the fire. They saved some things but all their household belongings, but some were damaged in being removed.

When the fire was brought under control well toward dawn, the water level in the city's waterworks was down to about that of two weeks ago, or possibly lower for the quantity reserve available at any time during the present water shortage crisis.

Help From Oxford Help in fighting the fire was asked of Oxford, and the fire department there sent a truck within less than half an hour and it worked through the burning area until the blaze was controlled. At one time four trucks were pouring streams of water into the inferno.

Heat Intense The first team to reach the scene was from the Montgomery and Zee streets, but the heat soon drove them back. The fire spread to the westward along the streets to a point where the fire was controlled.

When the fire appeared to be getting beyond control, Seaboard Railway officials, in their knowledge of the water scarcity here, sent word to Mayor Powell that a number of locomotives and tank cars were available on the terminal tracks.

Facilities Shared Just before the day's sales began on the tobacco market at 9:30 a. m., a called meeting of the Henderson Tobacco Board of Trade was held at which some adjustments necessary as a result of the fire were made.

The Fleming, Hight and Turner firm, which operates the High Peace and Big Henderson houses, advised they Banner house to the Knote & Wilkinson firm, whose Big Henderson house was destroyed in the fire, and it was accepted, with an understanding that the Knote & Wilkinson firm would begin operations there Monday.

The Daniel, Royster & Moore firm, operating the Carolina, Coopers and Planters warehouses, offered their Planters house to the Export Leaf Tobacco Company for its operations through the remainder of the present season, with Planters sales schedules transferred to the other two houses.

Wind Saves Home Residences opposite Montgomery street from the tobacco houses caught fire from the intense heat, but the fire was quickly put out. Plastering work in the local vicinity were shattered by the heat.

All power was shut off from wires in the vicinity of the fire, and most street lights in a large section of the city were put out.

Unconfirmed reports were that a male belonging to a colored man, was burned to death in a stall under the lower end of the High Peace Warehouse.

Firemen were greatly handicapped in fighting the blaze because the heat was so intense they could not get close enough to the fire to make their streams of water effective. A south wind carried smoke and sparks, as well as heat, from the Banner Warehouse and perhaps saved that from destruction, as well as numerous residences on College street.

Reds Occupy Land East of Dnieper (Continued from Page One) mouth and far north to the west of Leningrad.

GOOD BARBECUE and BRUNSWICK STEW Can Be Had at FAIR VIEW CAFE The Shell Station AT FAIR GROUNDS MRS. W. H. JOHNSON, Prop.

FREE GIFTS!
FOR OCTAGON COUPONS

THIS STUNNING COLORED POTTERY MIXING BOWL BIG 9" SIZE! A HANDSOME, USEFUL GIFT! YOURS FOR ONLY 40 OCTAGON COUPONS!

12 LOVELY CHRISTMAS CARDS IN RICH, GAY COLORS WITH MATCHING ENVELOPES ALL FOR ONLY 15 OCTAGON COUPONS!

LADIES!
DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WITH OCTAGON COUPONS

Are you counting on high quality fertilizer helping you increase your yields and your profits on wheat? Then order your RED STEER FERTILIZER EARLY!

OCTAGON PREMIUM DISTRIBUTOR
R. E. SATTERWHITE AND SONS
Extra Values in Furniture
115-117 N. Garnett St.
HENDERSON, N. C.

Order SWIFT'S RED STEER Now!

Are you counting on high quality fertilizer helping you increase your yields and your profits on wheat? Then order your RED STEER FERTILIZER EARLY!

Figure your needs and place your order with us now. Swift's Red Steer Fertilizer is the same high quality fertilizer Swift has always sold under this popular brand. It is the fertilizer with the extra plant foods that will help you get top yields and top quality. Don't delay! Order now!

C. J. FLEMING or KITTRELL & HARRIS

RESOLUTIONS ON REV. E. R. NELSON In the passing of Rev. E. R. Nelson the Board of Directors of Home Building & Loan Association has lost a faithful member, the association has lost a strong supporter.

Mr. Nelson brought to the association the same rules of conduct and fair play that he had been preaching throughout a busy life in the Christian Ministry. He felt that the directors held funds in trust for those who were trying to own a home, and that loans should be granted whenever possible.

Mr. Nelson has been a member of our board for twenty years. His record of attendance was high until his health prevented.

Few men have lived their teachings in every day life as did our friend. He spent his time on Sundays telling others to live by the "Golden Rule", then for the remainder of the week he showed them by precept and example how to live by that rule.

Our board feels the loss of this director, we shall miss him in our future meetings and deliberations. We join with his friends in all walks of life in extending his family our sympathy. We are thankful that he was spared so long to take part in our work of building homes in this community, through which homes he felt we were building character.

By direction of the board this resolution will become a part of the minutes of the next regular meeting, a copy was ordered sent the family of Mr. Nelson and a copy sent the Henderson Dispatch for publication. This November 4th, 1943. A. W. GHOLSON, JR. JASPER B. HICKS. H. A. DENNIS.

10% Helps—Buy 10% More!

Hold On, Folks!
DON'T MISS THIS A CORRECTION
What an error the Dispatch made in our ad Thursday
They said we were selling old fashioned fresh cooked Brunswick Stew
At 50c a quart and 25c a pint. The prices should have been $1.00 a quart 50c a pint
Bus Station Lunch
RED TAYLOR, Prop.

Football Tonight
(Under the Lights)
Henderson Bulldogs
VS.
Edenton High School
8 p. m. at the HIGH SCHOOL FIELD
ADMISSION ADULTS - - - - 50c CHILDREN - - - 25c (TAX INCLUDED)

Livestock Sale
Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 2 P. M.
We Will Have Plenty of

COWS VEAL HOGS

We conduct sales anywhere at any time on a commission basis. Call us for details.

W. B. HIGHT
Livestock Market
NORTH HENDERSON DAY PHONE 157 NIGHT PHONE 439

THE HOTTEST TOBACCO MARKET IN NORTH CAROLINA—JUST BURNING WITH DESIRE TO SERVE YOU BETTER

HENDERSON—As Usual—Your Better Market

The following sales schedule for next week includes the changes necessary by the transfer of Banner Warehouse to the operators of the former Big Henderson Warehouse:

Schedule November 8-12, Inclusive

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
Planters High Price Banner Carolina	High Price Farmers Carolina High Price	High Price Farmers Coopers High Price	Banner Carolina Planters High Price	Farmers Coopers High Price Banner

FIRST SALE—9:30 a. m.; SECOND SALE—Not later than 11:15 a. m.

NOTE: All Sales formerly scheduled for Banner Warehouse will be in High Price Warehouse, and all sales formerly scheduled in Big Henderson will be in Banner Warehouse.