

Bennett Perry Education Given Scout Life Award

Bennett Perry was awarded the Boy Scout Life Award last night at the Scout Court of Honor at the First Presbyterian church. B. C. Wells, chairman of the advancement committee, was the presiding chairman. Rev. H. H. King led the invocation.

Twenty-eight awards were presented to Scouts by the following speakers: H. D. Barden, second of awards; Rev. H. H. Cash, first class; Rev. W. D. McInnis, first badge; Kyle Senter, civic duty; J. Lee Jones, King, star; C. W. Wells, third executive; and B. C. Wells, president of the court.

Thurman Stone, Jr., also received Representative Hugh Peterson's Scout award from his hunting camp following a collision Monday night, was presented by his Scoutmaster, Rev. H. H. Cash, and was given the Scout Life award.

Mr. Wells showed a number of series of camp life of Camp Blue Rock last summer. The award was brought to a close by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and the sounding of "Taps."

The largest attendance ever reported at the Scout Court of Honor, with 100 present, of whom 108 were parents and guests.

Education Week Had At High School

Henderson high school continued its observance of American Education Week Tuesday when Billy Mitchell, president of the student body, brought to the students over the speaker system "A Thought for Education Week."

In the chapel service Wednesday morning, Rev. J. H. McCrimmon of the faculty, talked on "Thoughts on Education Week." Mr. McCrimmon gave definitions of thought and said as complements of each other. His definition of thought was the mental image or picture which comes to one's consciousness at a given time. Experiences, which he defined as the sum total of mental images and experiences of an individual's life.

Mr. McCrimmon gave four reasons why a person should be concerned about thoughts in the growth and development of his mind. The first was, thoughts and the mind are inseparable and indelible; second, as we can be built around a person, so we can be built around a person's thoughts. Third, as a person thinks in his own mind, so will he act in his own actions and living habits. Fourth, thoughts, feelings, attitudes, and character are inseparable and inseparable. He said that thoughts should be positive and constructive, and that they should be about God.

Hoey May by Default Win Contest for the Senate

erion Morrison as a candidate. That can be marked off, according to close friends of the congressman who has already had the honor of being governor and senator. Morrison is 74, his wife is well up in years and in good health, and they may want to go back to their Mecklenburg county farm and enjoy life out what time they have left. Ward heeles who want money out of the campaign would be delighted to see Morrison enter the race; his friends think there is extremely small likelihood of his doing so.

Major Lemox P. McLendon of Greensboro, Judge Wilson Warlick of Newton, Lt. Gov. Reginald Harris of Roxboro and former Congressman William B. Uristead of Durham have practically declared he will not run. He is asked for Governor. Clegg's campaign for governor. McLendon is believed to be closely identified with the same interests that are committed to Hoey. Judge Warlick got in and out of the race but governed last spring and is generally expected to hold on to his judgeship until retirement or elevation to the Supreme Court. Harris, definitely said at a dinner given during the last legislative session when he was promoted for the Senate that he would not be a candidate. Some of his close friends think he might be persuaded to change his mind, but it is generally held to be doubtful. That would, among suggested candidates, only half a dozen of who are considered for change to win. Majority opinion around Raleigh is that Hoey will be allowed to have the Senate seat more or less by default. He doesn't agree with that appraisal.

It is further believed that despite the state's political announcement to hold a special election for the Senate seat, Hoey's decision to withdraw is not his method of doing it. His statement came in a letter to the Times this afternoon.

Edward Robertson Home on Furlough

Edward Robertson, 37, of 101 N. W. Ave., Henderson, N. C., and Mrs. B. H. Robertson, 37, of 101 N. W. Ave., Henderson, N. C., had a son, Edward Robertson, Jr., born in active duty in the U. S. Army for the first time in Henderson, N. C., at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday. The baby weighed 10 pounds, 10 ounces and was 20 inches long. He will be in the hospital in Asheville for two weeks.

His brother, C. D. Robertson, son of Capt. M. J. Robertson, and Mrs. B. H. Robertson, of Henderson, N. C., here, are serving in the U. S. Army. He is in the hospital in Asheville for two weeks.

A son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Pvt. John H. Robertson, of Camp Lee, Va., was in Henderson, N. C., for the week of November 8 to the 10th. Another son-in-law, Willis Shearin, is to leave for the army some time the last of the month. Mr. Shearin and his family reside on Mill Road, Richmond, Va. Before going there three years ago, Mr. Shearin lived in Waveren county.

Keen Interest in Legion Oratorical Contest Is Shown

In the Sir Walter Hotel, Daily Dispatch Bureau, BY LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Nov. 10—Victor Johnson, of Pittsboro, chairman of the N. C. American Legion oratorical contest reports more interest this year than in any of the previous six since the program was inaugurated. Every year the contest upon which high school students are expected to write original orations in the United States Constitution. This year it is specifically "The Constitution in a Changing World."

The contest is open to every boy and girl in grades nine to twelve, inclusive, in every high school in the state. The first year there were 13 entrants; last year there were about 2,000, and this year that number will be exceeded if present indications pan out.

State finals will be held at Durham on April 3 when the winners from the five divisions meet. Probably there will have been eliminations in each county, and then in the several states which make up the district. Winners of the state finals will get $20 each prize and expenses paid to the national meet. The national first prize is $4,000 and second prize $1,000. Last year a Dutch boy won second national place.

Rules of the contest have been placed in all high schools. Briefly, they require that each pupil shall do his own research work and shall write an original oration of 10 to 12 minutes on the main subject. Then each contestant will be given some special point to discuss extemporaneously for four to six minutes, that specific assignment coming less than an hour ahead of delivery time and with no privilege of study or consultation with others.

ARMISTICE HOLIDAY AT THE POST OFFICE

Armistice Day will be observed by the Henderson post office as a regular holiday. Postmaster J. R. Trogue said today there will be no delivery of rural delivery during the day, although mail will be distributed out of the city and receiving mail will be distributed at local boxes as usual. The stamp and general delivery windows will be open from 10 to 11 a. m. as usual on holidays.

Intervention By Congress Likely In Rail Dispute

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—Congressional intervention to head off a threatened strike of 1,100,000 railroad workers became increasingly likely today.

A Senate subcommittee called on Ford M. Vinton, economic stabilization director, to defend his order restricting the transportation brotherhoods' demand for an eight cent-a-hour pay raise.

Before the committee is a bill sponsored by Sen. Hiram Boren designed to force the Vinton and put the issue to a vote. Chairman John Rankin (D-Miss.) requested approval of the bill by the committee. Vinton's order would raise the pay of the railroad workers to 10 cents an hour.

12 minutes on the main subject. Then each contestant will be given some special point to discuss extemporaneously for four to six minutes, that specific assignment coming less than an hour ahead of delivery time and with no privilege of study or consultation with others.

This is Victor Johnson's sixth year as chairman of the contest. At first the project was regarded as a minor one, but increasing interest has brought it to first place in the state Legion's program.

Giraud Quits Job At Head Of Committee

Meiers, Nov. 10—(AP)—General Charles de Gaulle was left in virtually undisputed control of the French Committee of National Liberation today following the resignation of Gen. Henri Giraud as copresident and other sweeping changes which drew communist charges of hasty action in the committee's reconstruction.

Giraud's resignation, which however, left him in command of the French armed forces, came at an unannounced meeting yesterday at which the committee adopted two decrees depriving Giraud of his authority over the army and ordering a reorganization of civilian and military powers. An official spokesman said that both sides were signed by all members present, including Giraud.

The committee's decision with the assistance of the committee's secretary, gave the committee a complete reorganization and left the committee in a position to handle the country's affairs. The committee's new organization will be waiting for the return of the committee's members from the front.

The committee's new president, General Georges Catroux, of Lyons, Philip, former military commander, at the time of the committee's formation, is believed to be the most likely to succeed Giraud as president of the committee.
