WAVE BEAT.

Outside my window, all night long,
I heard the wave beat like a song,
Ripple and whisper, swift and loud—
I heard the foaming breakers curl,
Into my sleep there came the boom
Tang of the surf and the clean,
Fresh scent that always swept the shore.
This was the sea's eternal tune,
Yet when I woke and saw the light
Of morning on the world, that night
Was not of long horizons, blue
And level, not the world I knew,
Only green hills and fields were there
And branches arching into air,
Whose leaves were all the sound I heard.
Rustling, the distant surf. A bird,
Whose song had never, illumined the sky.
Hanging the golden edge of day,
I heard the sibilant of rustling land.
Now the same as I remembered
Outside my window, all night long,
I heard the wave beat like a song,
Dorothy Quick.

BPW To Dedicate Each Bond Sold to Some Service Man

Business and Professional Women's Club members will have charge of one bond selling booth at the first bond sale, it was announced today, and the following statement was made at the sale of bonds.

As we think of ourselves as one, what have we to stake that we should want to help in the drive? Well, first of all, there is our own and our neighbor's security and freedom. Then we have brother's sons, husbands and sweethearts in the service, we have sons in government hospitals across the street in a neighborhood whose brother is a war prisoner in Germany and in an internment camp, and the corner of a street where his lost his son, or his boys are on ships in dangerous waters, some are trying to make a beautiful course across some are marching the Germans in Italy, the Pacific is dotted with our boys on the way to Japan. There are some of the reasons why we are willing to help now. They must be kept supplied with all their needs and every dollar loaned in war bonds will do it.

A dollar wherever such bond sold can be dedicated to some one in service, has been worked out by the club. The bond is made out in the name of the buyer but an attached slip will tell to whom it is to be dedicated. So, you buy your bond dedicated to his safety. The names of whom interest develops, but will be published later as a matter of record.

So, you club members, those of the business and Mrs. R. H. Green and some will sell at your home with the bond.

Luncheon Given Before Dockery-Allen Wedding

On Wednesday, just a few hours before the Dockery-Allen wedding ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Upchurch entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Virginia Allen, the bride party, and out-of-town guests.

The home was lovely with attractive decorations of fruits and flowers. In the dining room a pale green cover was used on the table. Grapes, plums, lemons and other small fruits grouped around the silver platters at each end gave the effect of Della Robbia characteristic style in decorating. This motif was repeated on the mantel in the reception room.

About 30 guests were served in buffet style at small tables in the reception room and sun parlor.

The near approach to the hour of the ceremony in no way detracted the spirit of gaiety and entertainment.

This was the last of prenuptial entertainments accorded Mrs. Allen after the announcement of her engagement to Settle Dockery, of Rockingham.

$41,161 of Total in "E" Class for Latest Statistics

Fifth War Loan bond sales in Vance county for the first six months of the year are reported today by Mayor Henry P. Powell, county chairman for the drive. He said that $41,161.75, the total was made up of "E" denomination bonds, which means that those were purchased in small amounts.

The figures are from the Federal Reserve bank of Richmond, and are reported Wednesday by the mayor.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Henderson will start the war bond booth in town theatre each evening next week, and have developed a system of dedicating each bond sold to some man from this city or county who is in the service.

Other agencies are active in pushing the sale, and the next few days are expected to show considerable boosts in the total, the mayor said.

Scott stands by his charges on milk prices, he said today, and the next few days are expected to show considerable boosts in the total, the mayor said.

Other agencies are active in pushing the sale, and the next few days are expected to show considerable boosts in the total, the mayor said.

The production and shipment are being to pay for the cost, whereas it is in reality the responsibility of the distributor alone to advertise their product, Scott said.

"And then, when the farmers want some help they can't get it," Scott said.

In a statement last Friday Scott said that by failing to pay the ceiling price allowed, the milk distributors have accumulated $41,161.75 since last November 15, when the ceiling was raised. This money rightfully belongs to the farmers who produce the milk. We all know that it is due them. Otherwise, OPA would not have raised the ceiling."

Allocation Of Tobacco Is Probable

Royster Returns From Conferences Had in Washington

Representatives of warehousemen and farmers who vigorously protested against any allocation at all of the 1944 tobacco crop to buying companies were told at a hearing before the War Food Administration an appears necessary that the crop should be allocated. F. S. Royster, Henderson warehouseman, said today after his return from the hearing.

Royster said that plans were discussed to the end that if allocation is ordered, as seems certain, it be done in such a manner as to avoid repetition of wide fluctuations that occurred in the marketing of the 1943 crop. Allocation would apply to all licensed firms, he stated.

While in Washington, the Henderson warehouseman also attended hearings before OPA authorities on tobacco price ceilings for 1944. He gained the impression that the ceiling would be increased somewhat over the 1943 level of 41 cents a pound. Petitioners at the hearing insisted on a ceiling not less than 31 cents for untied leaf in the Georgia-Florida belt, and not less than 45 cents for tied tobacco in the Florida and various Carolina and Virginia belts.
