ENCOUNTER.

The encircling hills
Were etched with light
As we suddenly saw
The tall ferns and grasses part
And for a breath-taking moment
A little fawn found strange delight
In the open road.

Memorial Service Honors Lt. Bunn at Baptist Church

A memorial service for First Lieutenant E. V. Bunn, Jr., was held Sunday morning at the First Baptist church of the city to give his life in the service of his country. He enlisted in the United States Marine Corps on November 1, 1942.

The service was climaxed by reading of the following poem, written by Carolyn Bowers Collett, and dedicated to Lt. Bunn.

He was gentle—
Gentle as the first moment of twilight
When it drops its blue peace upon a tired world;
Gentle as a spring rain stroking with silver fingers
The earth, and the flowers of the earth,
Calling to a new birth the lily and the rose.

He was kind—
And his kindness shone in his eyes
Like steady candle light in darkness;
His kindness was a balm to spirits
Wounded by harsh words and harsher deeds;
His kindness flowed like cool water
Over the smart of anger, quenching the fire of pain.

He was sensitive—
Sensitive to the play of light and shadow,
To the crimson glow of the morning sun,
To the white, ethereal magic of the moon;
Sensitive to the sweep of bird-wings on the sky,
To the poetry of the stars by which the human heart must live—and die!

He was good—
He set his feet upon the course his Pilot marked;
He loved and honored what was true and right;
He bore without complain the dark cross of these bitter years,
And, passing through their blackness, came at last
Unto Eternal Light.
Carolyn Bowers Collett.

With What Measure Ye Mete, Topic of Rev. Mr. Gardner

Rev. E. Nortlett Gardner, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke on "With What Measure Ye Mete" at the Sunday morning service at his church. The text was a part of the Sermon on the Mount. "With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again."

"This is a stern law which administers justice for all, applying principles that are right to conditions both good and bad," he stated. "This along with other teachings of Jesus was direct and simple, but very hard to obey. Jesus cut across the ritualistic idea of religion and struck at the very heart of the matter."

"The principle works with reference to evil to bring evil or injustice to one. Taking the example of a quick temper the minister pointed out that a quick temper was not generous, not unselfish, not forgiving, not broadminded and that inevitably it turned upon man to do him harm. With reference to good he law is true. Wherever good is prompted in the souls of men that which is good comes back to man in like measure.

"It is the privilege of mankind to measure out life's good to those about us. The influence of kind persons, the influence of a godly home and the pervasive values of the church abound with a great measure of good."

"The church in its teachings points man to forgiveness; it gives to man the highest example of sacrifice in Christ; and through its ministry offers to man an opportunity for giving and challenges one to supreme loyalty to that which is good in life."

Mr. Apple Urges Congregation To Stand Fast Today

"Standing Fast in the Spirit" was the topic of Rev. J. Frank Apple, pastor of the Congregational Christian church, at the morning service yesterday. His sermon was based on the text from Philippians 1:27, "That ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind, striving together for the faith of the gospel."

"We are living in days of stress, strain, and calamity," he stated. "We have more than war on our hands. We have problems of many kinds, such as liquor problems, juvenile delinquency, a general letdown in morality, etc. We can't blame God for the sorry mess the world is in, but man is to blame. It was he who sowed the seeds, laid the plans, and started the war. He has been given the ability to choose between right and wrong, love and hate, unselfishness and selfishness.

"Man must pay for his misdeeds. Think of the hideous deeds of war: bombed cities, homes in total ruin—demolished churches and schools—mangled bodies of thousands of innocent women and children—millions of dead soldiers and civilians, all because man has frustrated God's will and purpose. We can't violate the laws of God and get by without having to pay.

"Man limits God. God is not limited in power, wisdom, and love, but in the failure of man to cooperate with Him. Are we ready for this war to cease? We need a change of heart; we have not yet repeated, God needs our help in the saving of the world and the building of His kingdom. Too many of us have failed Him. It has been estimated that the average congregation experiences about 70 percent of absenteeism from its services of worship. What have you done and how much have you done for God in the saving of lost souls?" Rev. Mr. Apple questioned.

"What can we do?" he asked, and answered the question: "We can go God's way, do His will, stand and fight side by side for the faith of the gospel."

Harmonicas Are Sent To Polio Patients

Newton, Aug. 28.—The appeal for harmonicas sent out for the patients at the Emergency Infantile Paralysis hospital in Catawba county has met with a ready response over the state, and thus far more than 100 of the "mouth organs" have been sent to the hospital.

However, other harmonicas can still be used. They should be sent to Rev. S. B. Stroup, Junior, Red Cross director for Catawba county at Hickory.

It was learned here today that B. G. Trosper, whose daughter, Edith, was admitted to the emergency hospital Friday night, is the executive vice president of the Greensboro Merchants Association.

The number of cases at the emergency hospital in Catawba county amounted to 194 Saturday.
Money in the emergency fund totaled $42,502.46 at noon Saturday. This money is being sent in by people from this and other counties in the state.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

MAKING IT SUFFICIENT

NOTHING IS gained by getting panicky, because you unwittingly committed some irregularity. Everybody does it once in a while, and nobody is going to suspect you of doing it intentionally. The laws provide automatic penalties, and your conscience can be clear if you do the best you can in spite of them. In the case of an insufficient bid, you know your partner must pass on his next turn. It is usually advisable then to select the best final contract you can guess for your side, and bid it pronto.

That was the course of the actual bidding in a rubber game, including North's second round pass when he should have bid 2-No Trumps with his spade stopper, and South's insufficient 2-Diamonds. The opponents immediately called attention to its insufficiency, whereupon South promptly made it sufficient with 3-Diamonds. Everybody passed then, including, of course, North, whose pass was compulsory because of his partner's error.

South waltzed home with eleven tricks, losing only one in each black suit, but got no game because his side had not bid one.

The worst mistake an insufficient bidder can make is to correct it quickly. If South had paused to think, he would have realized that his correction of the bid would probably become the final contract. With his strength opposite an original bid, he then should have estimated that a game was probably in the hand and should have chosen either 5-Diamonds or 5-No Trumps, taking a chance on the spades being stopped.

Temperature Abnormally Low In U. S.

From Wichita to Boston, the nation shivered in abnormally low temperatures today.

It never got above 65 yesterday in Kansas City, the third day in a row that the thermometer had set a record for a low minimum. And a man that had stood for 66 years in Charlotte, N. C., fell when the mercury dropped to 34.8.

Fires were lit in north Georgia (low 59) and in Indianaapolis (59), while fall clothes were trotted out on New York's fifth Avenue mtnpway on New York's Fifth Avenue (57). And many of the 30,000 fans at the Athletics-Red Sox baseball game in Philadelphia (51) were tickled they had letched along their top coats. Boston had a low of 58, Des Moines and Detroit 52.

But the queerest quirk came in Kansas. Not only was it cold, it was wet. And on these normally hot, dry Kansas plains cold and wet are two adjectives usually as out of place this time of year as a mountain yowler any time of year.

Streams which in many a Kansas August won't run a cupful a month are gushing from bank to bank with flood stages reported on the Kaw, the Blue and Missouri rivers.

In Kansas City the Swope park swimming pool, scene of the women's national AAU swimming meet only a week ago, is closed to await the re-birth of summer.

But in Florida, in southern Texas and on west, and up the coast, it was weather pretty much as usual.

YANK CORRESPONDENT JAILED IN ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Arnaldo Cortesi, New York Times correspondent here since 1941, was arrested this morning by police who called at his apartment while he was still in bed. No reason has been given for his detention.

United States Consul Hiram Bingham, Jr., has made inquiries in Cortesi's behalf, but he was not permitted to talk to the correspondent. Inquiry in other quarters disclosed that Cortesi's case was being held for disposition by federal executive authorities.

YANKS CUT OFF JAP RETREAT IN GUYEA

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Monday, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Japanese troops fleeing overland from Manokwari in Dutch New Guinea have been intercepted by American troops from Sansapor, headquarters announced today.

Patrols from Sansapor, on the northwest coast of New Guinea, between the Nipponese bases of Manokwari and Sorong, dispersed the enemy formations and killed 329 Japanese. The Americans took 199 prisoners.

Liberators from the southwest Pacific, meanwhile, showered 57 tons of bombs on Palau, in the Carolines. Saturday noon, destroying three grounded planes and setting docks afire.
Lightning fighters swept Halmahera's Mt. Irome Saturday while Liberators struck Ilang airbase on Amboina island with 50 tons of bombs, setting many fires.

JAPS EVACUATING MANILA CIVILIANS

London, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The German news agency DNB, in a broadcast of Tokyo dispatches said today that "the town of Manila is being evacuated," but the context of the broadcast indicated the evacuation was limited to civilians unnecessary to strictly necessary functions of the Philippine capital.

Japanese fear of air attack apparently motivated the sweeping measures, which possibly applied chiefly to women and children.
With Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers raining bombs on the Halmahera stepping stone and Davao in the south Philippines, and with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz establishing strong positions to the north, the Japanese evidently feared imminent invasion.

ALLIED DRIVES COST NAZIS 25 GENERALS

British Headquarters in France, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Twenty-five German generals and one admiral have been killed, wounded, captured, replaced or have just disappeared in western France since D-Day, June 6, it was announced late today.

Since generals do not ordinarily take a position at or very near the battleline, this unusual toll was seen as an indication both of the speed and the power of the allied attack, and was a hint that Hitler was making it uncomfortable for leaders who back-pedaled for reasons of personal safety.

MAURICE CHEVALIER, MOVIE STAR, IS KILLED BY MAQUIS

London, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Maurice Chevalier, former French film actor, was killed by the French Maquis last Friday, Reuters said today in a dispatch from Paris.

Chevalier, Paris show boy whose smile, straw hat and Bourbon slung made him a world hit on the stage and screen before the war, turned up a month after the French attack in June, 1940, on the Riviera where he was reported "resting."

A year later, on September 5, he arrived in Paris for the first time since German occupation of the French capital. Thereafter he was reported singing many times for audiences in German-occupied Paris.
