DEER.
By Lalia Mitchell Thornton.

A covey of quails in the woodlot
And rabbits that play in the stubble;
A woodchuck in frown,
A chipmunk, a coon,
These help all my pleasures to double.

A beaver lodge down by the river
And pigeons that whisper and prattle,
But more than the rest,
The ones I like best,
The deer that come in with the cattle.

So shyly they eat at the haystack,
And count me a friend, not a stranger.

Yet softly I go,
For well do I know,
They are poised for leaping from danger.

Junior Civic Club Plans For Bridge

Last minute preparations were being made today for the bridge tournament to be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Cooper's Hall sponsored by the Junior Civic club. Everything has been working smoothly in anticipation of the event and much enthusiasm and interest points to a successful evening for the sponsors, leaders said.

Miss Alma Dixon, president of the club, has announced that tables for games other than bridge will be made available and that prizes will be awarded bridge winners of low and high scores and also to winners of the other games.

Tickets have been placed on sale through Miss Alma Dixon at the Citizens Bank, Miss Frances Harrison at Loughlin-Goody's and Mrs. Earl Satterwhite. The advance sale has been promising, it was said.

Leaders Discuss Work of Scouts

"Patrol and Troop Meeting Programs" was the topic for the third meeting of the Girl Scout Leadership training series held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

The opening period of the meeting was conducted by the troop leader, Miss Elvira Cheatham. Flag bearers for the evening were Mrs. G. E. Rose and Mrs. Gideon Lamb; color guards were Miss Elizabeth Newton and Miss Jean Gregory.

During the opening period the group pledged allegiance to the American flag and repeated the Girl Scout oath and laws. The patrol formed at the last meeting directed the singing of the Scouting Hymn.

During the troop period Miss Elizabeth Lassiter led in the discussion revolving around the topic for the evening, "Patrol and Troop Meeting Programs." She gave the objectives, methods, and materials of the weekly troop meeting. Special emphasis was placed on the slogan of the leaders, "Train 'Em, Trust 'Em and Let them Lead," should be considered in the planning of every program.

Following the troop period, the group met in various sections of the room for their patrol meetings. There have been three patrols formed during the meeting. The Commando patrol is headed by Miss Elizabeth Newton, with the assistant leader being Miss Lucy Jane Ewers. The Boo White patrol is under the direction of Mrs. John Whitfield as leader, and Mrs. Jim Brey as assistant leader. The third patrol, the Flying Tigers, is under leadership of Miss Elizabeth Lassiter and has as assistant leader, Mrs. Gideon Lamb.

Trains as Instructor.
Second Lieutenant John W. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Harris, 503 Young street, has arrived at Randolph Field, Texas, to take training as a pilot instructor of the Army Air Forces Training Command, it was learned today. He is one of several hundred pilots, selected for their flying proficiency and ability to teach, who will take a month's course in Randolph Field's Central Instructors School, it was stated.

BPW CLUB URGES SAVING OF PAPER

Now that October is on its way, the B. P. W. club wants to remind the public that salvage of waste paper is still more urgent than ever. Now is the fall cleaning time and from attic to basement there should be many paper articles that could be destroyed.

Regular collection of the paper will be later in the month, but the club stands ready to send a truck to any home that has an appreciable amount, it was said. Citizens are urged to call Mrs. R. B. Green—Reported.

Improves After Operation.
Mrs. Remi Hale who underwent a major operation last Friday morning was reported much improved today.

BAND MEMBERS ASK FOR INSTRUMENTS

Musical instruments are wanted by several new members of the Henderson high school band who have been unable to obtain instruments, W. T. Hearne, Jr., director, announced today. Those in the city who have instruments for sale are asked to contact Mr. Hearne before Friday, naming the piece and price asked. No new instruments cannot be bought now, Mr. Hearne explained, and he is anxious to have a full band again this year.

Those who would like to start in the band this year are also asked to see Mr. Hearne at the high school or call him this week.

CITY TEACHING LIST IS NOW COMPLETED

Two additions to the city school teaching list have complete the teaching personnel for the school year, 944-45, E. M. Rollins, superintendent of public schools, announced today.

Miss Eva Wicker has accepted fourth grade work at North Henderson school. Miss Wicker formerly taught at Aycock high school, and for the past few months has been working with the government in Washington.

Mrs. Lillian Radford, of Henderson, has been elected to teach the fifth grade recently added at Central school.

MEETING TONIGHT ON V-DAY PROGRAM

The final general meeting to prepare for public commemoration of V-Day will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Vance county court house. The principal event commemorating the day will be a union, countywide thanksgiving and prayer service at Henderson high school on the evening of V-Day, at which time the services will be conducted entirely by lay workers in the churches of the county. Each church and civic club has been invited to have two representatives at tonight's meeting.

Merchants To Hear Address

Don Abernathy, executive secretary of the Raleigh Merchants' Bureau, will speak at the merchants' dinner to be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Hotel Vance. It was learned today.

These merchant dinners, sponsored by the mercantile affairs committee of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce, are open to all merchants, proprietors, managers and junior executives, according to H. C. Bowie, chairman.

Abernathy has been the executive of the Raleigh organization for almost two years, and prior to that was a member of the advertising staff of the Raleigh Times for several years. He will discuss mercantile problems and the merits of merchant cooperation, particularly in ways cooperation can help solve present day problems.

Other business to be considered is a tentative report by the Christmas committee, which consists of I. H. Vickery, W. B. Shearer, S. F. Holcombe, Jr., and R. W. Ehret.

WFA TO PURCHASE COTTON OF '44 CROP

Pursuant to the act of Congress, the War Food Administration will, effective as soon as necessary arrangements can be made and until June 30, 1945, offer to purchase through the Commodity Credit Corporation, from farmer producers, at parity prices, all cotton of the 1944 crop for which a loan schedule has been announced and which may be placed in acceptable storage and tendered to it, according to Walter L. Wilson, secretary of the County AAA Committee.

"The cotton sales policy which was announced on August 26, 1944, will be modified so as to permit the Commodity Credit Corporation to sell cotton at not less than parity," Mr. Wilson said.
